Mr. Pope spoke briefly of the work being done by students in the industrial training department, following which members of the audience made a tour of inspection thru the drafting, metalwork and woodworking rooms, as well as thru the home economics department, where lunch was served.

STATE ALLOTS $4,590,000 FOR COUNTY ROADS

Pennington Co. Apportioned Total of $37,525; War Effect Felt

SHARP DECREASE IN GAS TAX RECEIPTS

County Gets $12,400 for Use on State Aid; $25,125 for Co. Aid Roads

Allotment of $4,590,000 of state aid funds to Minnesota's 87 counties for local highway improvements on state aid and county aid roads, was announced today by the state board of allotment.

The funds allocated are from the counties' one-third share of the collected and anticipated receipts from the state 4-cent gas tax. They consist of $1,240,000 for use on state aid roads and $3,350,000 for work on county aid roads, including special allotments, four of which are federal aid—secondary county projects which it is anticipated will not be undertaken until after the relaxation of war-time restrictions on roadbuilding.

Reflecting the decrease in travel and the consequent reduction in gas tax revenues, the funds available for county allotments this year are $670,000 less than those for 1942 and $2,610,000 less than the record breaking allotments of $7,200,000 made in 1941.

Out of the state-aid funds apportioned, Pennington county will receive a total of $37,525, which is made up of $12,400 for state aid roads and $25,125 for county aid roads.

The state allotment board consists of State Treasurer Julius Schmahl, Deputy State Auditor John Meader (representing State Auditor Stafford King, who is absent on military leave) and Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

At previous meetings the board had allotted from 1943 anticipated state highway revenues, $607,684 for payment of principle and interest on state-assumed county reimbursement bonds and $3,901,475 for principle and interest on state highway bonds.

The total of $4,509,159 for bonded debt retirement and interest, plus $4,590,000 allotted in highway aid to counties, plus approximately $556,000 already budgeted for transfer to other state departments to pay for highway services rendered, including administration of the motor-vehicle registration law, brings to a total of approximately $9,655,000 the amount of state-collected highway revenues already earmarked for fixed costs other than state trunk highway construction, maintenance and administration functions of the state highway department.

Next Contingent Leaves for Ft. Snelling June 16

The June contingent of Pennington county selective service registrants will leave this city to undergo physical examinations and induction at Fort Snelling Wednesday morning, June 16, at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by Arthur Berg, chief clerk of the local board. He added that the group will be comprised largely of members of the 1943 high school graduating classes and married men without children.

TO MAP PLANS FOR FARM SCRAP DRIVE IN PENNINGTON CO.

Intensive Effort to be Made to Complete Salvage Drive in June

A farm-by-farm survey of available scrap has been launched in Minnesota as the first step in the 1943 program to supply badly-needed iron and steel to mills manufacturing war materials.

Local committees have been set up throughout the state to conduct the survey and later to work with the farmers in solving any collection, manpower or transportation problems that may arise. The Pennington county committee will meet within a few days to develop plans, Carl Christofferson, salvage chairman, stated.

Regional War Production Board officials said they had been assured of the maximum cooperation from farmers and set up the program to insure a minimum of interference with agriculture's primary job of producing food.

The survey is expected to reveal the amount of available scrap on every farm; to determine how much scrap the farmer will be able to move to the collection centers, and to find out what particular problems of labor and trucking must be assumed by the local committees.

Once the survey has been completed, collection centers will be designated and local committees will begin work on the special collection jobs. The campaign will be completed by the end of June.

Implement dealer blockmen were responsible for organizing the local committees and will assist later in keeping the program rolling, the WPB said, citing the fact that several midwest steel mills are already down to a two-week supply of scrap material and must close down unless new stockpiles are accumulated soon.

It is estimated that an average of 1,000 pounds of scrap per farm remains in the three states despite last year's intensive campaign. Much of the obvious scrap material has been taken and the new year-around program was designed to dig out that scrap missed in the initial drive.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO CONDUCT POPPY SALE HERE MAY 29

Proceeds Will be Used for Rehabilitation, Child Welfare

Faith in America with those who have died in the nation's service will be pledged anew on Poppy Day Saturday, May 29, Mrs. M. R. Leverson, American Legion auxiliary poppy chairman, said today as the auxiliary continued preparations for its annual distribution of memorial poppies.

Poppies will be offered to everyone in Thief River Falls by the women of the auxiliary on Poppy Day. No price will be asked for the flowers, the pennies of children being just as welcome as the dollars of the wealthy. A poppy over every heart is the goal.

Contributions given to the auxiliary's volunteer poppy workers will go in their entirety to the rehabilitation and child welfare funds of the American Legion and auxiliary, where they will help support the Legion's and auxiliary's efforts for the disabled fighting men of both wars, and for the children of dead and disabled.

NORSE ARMY MAN ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE MONDAY

Lt. Harald Land Tells Story of Conditions in His Home Land

Lieutenant Harold Land, speaking to a large audience at Trinity Lutheran church Monday evening, May 24, related the episodes which led to his imprisonment in a Gestapo concentration camp in Norway and culminated in his eventful escape, via Sweden, to Camp Little Norway, in Canada, where he has prepared for further service to his country as a member of the Norwegian air force.

He told of the restrictions placed upon him and his fellow teachers by the Quisling government and of the attempts to nazify the elementary education of the country. He cited instances in which several of his colleagues had been tortured and killed because of their recalcitrance; and he emphasized the fact that only a fraction of one per cent of the Norwegians had ever "fallen for" the propaganda of the Quisling regime.

The showing of 1200 feet of colored motion picture film, with running commentary by Lowell Thomas, presented an inspiring idea of the activities of Camp Little Norway, where the Norwegian Government is carrying on its preparations for the reclamation of their country.

Major Gustav Schilbred introduced the speaker. A vocal solo, "Naar Fjorden Blaaner" was sung by H. M. Hitterdahl, who was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Mildred Engen Hamilton.

SPEED UP MAKING OF 50 FARM TOOLS

Ranging from barbed wire to neck yokes, some 50 items essential to the production of food are being made quickly obtainable for farmers under an emergency program worked out by the office of civilian requirements, WPB. The procedure will enable a farmer to buy reasonable amounts of needed items directly from his dealer without complicated forms. Some of the critical farm needs to be handled on the emergency basis are adjustable wrenches, pitch forks, auger bits, clevises, dehorning saws, fence pliers, hoes, batteries, small motors, grain scoops, grease guns, harness hardware, horse collars, nails, poultry netting, cold chizels and many others.

The 54 billion passenger-miles traveled by Americans on trains in 1942 was an all-time high.

With the Victory Aides

By Mrs. W. R. Ferber
Publicity Chairman

Salvage

17,420 lbs. of scrap metal was collected from the residential district during the local scrap drive last week. The amount from the downtown district has not been computed and will be announced later.

Program

Victory Aides are urged to take part in the Memorial Day parade to be held Sunday May 30th, starting at 1:30 P. M. Other women's organizations taking part will be the Red Cross and the American Legion auxiliary. They will march from the auditorium to the Elks Memorial park. Lieutenants are expected to contact their Victory Aides. All having caps and arm bands to wear them. It should be the patriotic duty and pride of every Victory Aide to take part in paying tribute to our soldiers of this war and past wars.

Mrs. Abbie Waagren, local acting WAAC recruiter announces that there will be a WAAC recruiter sent to this territory the first part of June; dates to be announced later. Any woman eligible and interested may call Mrs. Waagren for information on the WAAC drive. The army's need for these women is critical; and the means of reaching the needed goal cannot be too strongly emphasized. The WAAC is a vital cog in the roll of the armed forces. They are included in the authorized over-all strength of the army.

So for every WAAC recruited it means another soldier is released for combat duty.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

Everyone seems to be speculating on how long the war is going to last and so do we. It is a harmless diversion, providing, of course, that we keep our optimism or pessimism within reasonable bounds. It is easy for us to become optimistic. For instance it appears to us that in the European theater the Germans are now closer to defeat than they were in the Spring of 1918. At that time Russia had been knocked out of the war and the Germans were able to concentrate their power on the Western Front.

At the present time Russia is very much in the war. There is more fighting on the Eastern Front today than there was on the Western Front in 1918. Germany is now at a further disadvantage in that her forces are scattered over all of Europe. Great armies are necessarily spread over vast distances not only to police conquered countries but to guard against invasion threats, and the conquered countries, that were an asset because they yielded important supplies, have now become liabilities. On top of this Germany has lost supremacy in the air and industrial Germany is being shattered by devastating aerial attacks. To us these things add up to a far worse condition in Germany today than in 1918, and we know what happened in 1918.

Our guess is that Japan will not stand long after Germany falls. The advance of the islanders has been checked and while they still possess sufficient strength to be a serious threat in any concentrated attack, they too are now spread out too thin for their own good. They have hundreds of miles of fighting fronts to maintain in Asia and they have hundreds of islands to protect. Our advantage is that we can now fight them where and when we please. That is our guess.

Maybe this is wishful thinking. Certainly we must keep on preparing for a long war until the last day of the war. We do not know what will happen. Poison gas or other weapons that have not yet been used may change the entire picture overnight. But at the present time the picture is hopeful and we can't help but feel good about it.

Oleomargarine manufacturers looked hopefully forward to the rationing of butter, expecting the sales of lower-point-value oleo to soar to new heights. Blessed with official recognition in the government's nutrition charts and increased quotas of raw materials, steps were taken to increase production to meet an anticipated increase in consumer demand. It hasn't worked out that way however. Instead of more oleo being sold there has been an actual decrease of about fifty per cent in national sales, and in one large eastern city sales are running eighty per cent below normal. Under the circumstances it may be expected that oleo's point value will be reduced. It will continue to be competition in the butter market but there is comfort for the dairy industry in the knowledge that the public looks upon it as nothing more than a poor substitute.

A manufacturer of fur coats, nearly all of which sell for more than $500, spent several hundred dollars in a New New York paper suggesting that the government ought to put a super-tax of one hundred per cent on super-luxuries, including fur coats that sell for more than $500. That seems to be a strange position to be taken by a manufacturer of luxuries but it sounds to us like a better tax idea than most of those coming out of Washington these days. It has merit as an idea on rationing too. By taxing luxuries the government could effectively drain off that excess of money the economists fear is going to bring a runaway inflation and at the same time regulate the supply of available goods. Necessities should not be taxed as long as they are being used as necessities. Gasoline, for instance, might be used either as a necessity or a luxury. Gasoline probably could be rationed more effectively than it now is by placing a heavy tax on gasoline for pleasure purposes. Then car owners could decide for themselves how much of the war debt they would want to pay—or remain at home. A tax on the things we can get along nicely without would do much to limit our spending to the things we should have—and help Uncle Sam balance his cash account by the contributions he would receive from people who insist on buying the things that are not available to all of us.

In thirteen Minnesota counties there was an open deer season last year for the first time in many years, and the figures on the number of deer reported killed in these counties is surprising. Reports received from only about 25% of hunters to whom licenses were issued show that in Ottertail County 1,124 deer were killed. In Anoka County, bordering the Twin Cities, 102 were reported taken. The Conservation Department estimates that in the entire state the kill totaled 76,800, which means that about three out of every four hunters to whom licenses were issued were successful. The figures are impressive.

LANGUAGES
(New Ulm Journal)

One of the chief embarrassments of American troops abroad is their general inability to speak any language but their own. This is often true even of high officials in the army, navy and air forces. It requires continual use of interpreters and often results in embarrassing situations when such help is missing. The difficulty may be felt more as American troops expand their operations.

It is not so, generally speaking, of foreign nations, especially on the European continent. Young people there naturally learn at least two or three languages in school, so that they can not only read them but speak them. An American who has traveled much abroad says that on the Continent he has found students of what would be called high schools in this country, generally speaking English fluently, with a command of German and French. With such languages a person can go almost anywhere and get along without difficulty.

There is another reason why American students should take more language work and take it more seriously. The learning of other languages is one of the best ways of opening up the mind and bringing people into contact and understanding with the world in general. From now on, this is going to be more necessary for Americans than it has ever been before.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES
By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

All Red Cross workers of Pennington county chapter have been asked to participate in the parade to be staged on Memorial Day, Sunday, May 30th. Those taking part in the parade are to meet at the City Auditorium at 1:30 P. M. Instructors are asked to please wear their caps.

Starting next week a new program has been worked out for the surgical dressing room, the room will be open on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 5 P. M. and on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 P. M. This program will continue until further notice made through this column, so please watch the paper for any change in schedule. With a month's quota of 25,200 dressings, the instructors would like very much if each one who is interested in helping out in the war work would just plan to spend one afternoon each week in the surgical dressing room. The work could then be finished and the much needed dressings could be sent out on time for the use of our boys. There has been a new rule made about the head dress for workers. Each one should wear a triangular or square piece of a white material with a one or two inch hem turned up in front.

The Concordia aid will work at the surgical dressings room every Thursday afternoon and will serve a 10c lunch to those working and also to the public who wish to attend.

The St. Bernard's Altar Society will work every Thursday evening and will also serve a 10c lunch to workers and the public.

The year's work of the sewing department with Mrs. Hylden as chairman has been completed and the committee is awaiting shipping instructions. They wish to thank those willing workers who so generously gave of their time towards this work.

Mrs. A. M. Aase has asked that all those who have house wife kits and army kits out to please have them finished and turned in by Friday, June 4th.

Last Wednesday evening a first aid class was organized for the auxiliary firemen. Mr. Protz, chairman, states that anyone wishing to join this class may enter next Wednesday evening at the municipal court room at 8 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. E. F. Wright. The class is small so there is room for more.

Mrs. A. C. Matheson has announced that the afghan that the teachers and pupils of the Pennington county rural schools have worked on this winter has been finished and sent in to headquarters. Mrs. Matheson is chairman of the Junior Red Cross. She also states that Victory gardens have also been sponsored by the Junior Red Cross and many have taken part.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

All girl scouts are to report in uniform at the auditorium Sunday at 1:30 to participate in the Memorial Day parade. Some of the girl scouts will be needed to place the wreaths, so all are asked to be on time.

Attention is again brought to the girl scout day camp to be held here July 12 to 23 sponsored by the Thief River Falls Council of Girl Scouts. All girls are to bring their camp blank with the parents' signature to the registrar Saturday, May 29, with their dollar. Register with Mrs. A. Skarstad next Saturday afternoon at the Skarstad-Daniels Lumber Co.

Miss Gertrude Raymond, trained director, will be at the camp and will be assisted by unit leaders. Special persons interested in nature, outdoor cooking, and music will be there and a registered nurse will be on the grounds at all times. Senior scouts will be on call for messages and to assist in all units.

The camp by the day plan offers to the girl scouts all the fun, excitement, and pleasure of a regular established camp with the exception of sleeping at the camp. This year the girl scout council urges all parents to allow their daughters this privilege of living outdoors. It gives them the opportunity of living in a democratic way with all the other girls of this city, and it gives them the chance to work on nature, out-of-doors, and camp craft that is not possible during the winter months. All types of work will be possible including craft, hiking, group singing, and cook-outs.

Girl scouts will be smart to plan their summer vacation now. Two weeks of fun in the out-of-doors for only one dollar is a real bargain, and for this fee the girls will receive milk for lunch, craft supplies, and camping equipment.

In the first 12 months of the present war, 891,827 American troops were embarked for overseas duty as compared with 366,603 men in the same period of 1917-1918.

From where I sit . . .
by Joe Marsh

Bill Burry was reflecting back on the last war and what the boys used to do when they got a furlough.

"We weren't a hard-drinking bunch particularly, but that was in Prohibition," said Bill, "and forbidden fruit always seems worth goin' after. We'd hunt up a bootlegger, which was easy, and buy a bottle.

"So, instead of a beer or two, well—I guess we generally drank too much! . . . wonder what the boys are doing this time?"

I got out the official report the Office of War Information made and read him this: "The fact that there is vastly less drinking among soldiers in this war may stem in part from the sale of beer in camps."

From where I sit, it certainly doesn't look as if we had to worry about our boys. We learned our lesson in the last war, and I'm glad to see we're on the right track now.

In Memoriam

In memory of Edward Swanson who passed away May 27, 1942.

One year has passed since that sad day
When father dear was called away;
We loved you then, we love you still Forget you! No, we never will.

We often sit and think of you,
And think of how you died
But, oh, it is so hard to think,
You could not say good-bye.

We did all we could to save you
Until God called you away
It seems you had to go to a better place
And could no longer stay.

The flowers we placed upon your grave
May wither and decay
But the love that lies within our hearts
Will never, never fade away.

INTERVIEWER TO SEEK SHIPYARDS MEN HERE JUNE 8

Men Will be Employed on the West Coast and at Pearl Harbor

Civil service interviewers are seeking 2,500 laborers and skilled workmen, for three West Coast shipyards and the Pearl Harbor navy yards, the war manpower commission announced today.

On Tuesday, June 8, interviewers will be at the U. S. employment service office at Crookston in the morning and at Thief River Falls in the afternoon. Arrangements are being made for a repeat visit every two weeks to July 1.

The 2,500 quota has been set as the number needed for these projects from this 5-state region, and civil service interviewers will make "on the spot" appointments to the jobs.

Salaries offered in the three West Coast yards range from 83c per hour to $1.37 per hour and for the Pearl Harbor yard from 82c per hour to $1.71 per hour.

Creamery Men Meet to Organize Truck Routes

Sixty creamery operators, cream route haulers, and producers attended the dairy industry transportation meeting held in the Civic and Commerce Rooms in the Auditorium Thursday evening, May 20.

Carl E. Anderson, chairman of the Pennington County USDA War Board, acted as chairman of the meeting. He gave a brief statement on the purpose of the meeting, explaining that representatives of the dairy industry had been called together for the purpose of electing a committee to reorganize truck routes in the county in order to eliminate duplications.

Mr. Anderson then introduced E. Lavine of the office of defense transportation from Fargo. Mr. Lavine explained the dairy industry-transportation plan and went into detail on the necessity of conserving trucks as much as possible. A half hour was devoted to questions and answers during which the operators, producers and haulers had an opportunity to ask questions concerning their individual problems. Mr. Anderson then took over the business session of the meeting and the following committee was elected:

Creamery Operators: G. S. Bergland, member, Thief River Falls cooperative creamery, Gunnuf Gustafson, member, Highlanding creamery; Carl Severson, alternate, Goodridge cooperative creamery.

Cream Haulers: Obed Sabo, member, Goodridge cooperative creamery; Oscar Wedul, alternate, Thief River Falls cooperative creamery.

Producers: Ole Nesland, member River Valley cooperative creamery; William Vaughan, alternate, Highlanding creamery.

The committee elected, had a session after the regular meeting and named G. S. Bergland chairman. This committee will meet on June 11 in their first business session. At that time, the individual routes of each creamery will be gone over and adjustments made.

Keeping Score

Good Enough

By scoring 20 points and winning third place in last week's regional track and field meet, coach Quentin Jones' Prowler track team put a fine "cap" on their season, and they salvaged considerable glory by outscoring the Crookston Pirates, the 31st district track champions. The Prowlers would probably have finished in second place in the team totals if they hadn't been the victims of a "break" in the half-mile relay, when Herb Claffy tripped and fell.

The Prowlers racked up only one first place and that came on Bill Bye's broad jump of 19 feet, 4 inches. Bemidji's Bill Tilbury had made a jump of 19 feet, 1½ inches, and the large crowd of Bemidji partisans were about ready to give Tilbury the championship, but Bye on his last leap, took off on a gold medal-winning jump. Burdell Merritt clicked off two second places, in the high and low hurdles.

Marlyn Tony Dorn, who joined the track squad the week preceding the district meet and as a result had had only a couple of weeks of practice, heaved the shot 39 feet, 4½ inches, for third place. Given another couple of weeks of training and Tony would probably have won the regional. Pete Michalski ran the mile race in spite of an attack of illness, and the gritty Prowler captain finished in fourth place. And Vern Tormoen's fifth place in the high hurdles accounted for a Prowler point. All in all, it is agreed that coach Jones did a bang-up job with the boys this year.

With seventeen men qualifying for the regional tournament, it was a foregone conclusion that the Bemidji Lumberjacks would romp off with the title. And while coach Barnum's team could chalk up but two first places—Harlan Grover in the half-mile and Francis Neumann in the high jump—they came through with enough seconds, thirds and fourths to rack up a 50-point total and a 13½-point margin over the runner-up Roseau team.

Crookston's Bill Reynolds edged out Bemidji's Tilbury and Kelliher's Nordby for individual high point honors. Reynolds had a first place in the 220-yard dash, a tie for second in the high jump, a third place in the broad jump, and ran a leg on the Crookston relay team. That gives him a total of 12½ points.

A Change at East Grand Forks

H. E. "Hans" Hanson has been appointed athletic coach at East Grand Forks, replacing Ray Flom who has accepted a position as principal at Central high school in Crookston. Hanson, who will take over his new duties next fall, is well-known to the local fans, having officiated at a number of the Prowler football and basketball games. Hans is a capable referee and he usually called a good game, but his attitude tended to irritate a large group of fans.

Signing Ray Flom to a Crookston contract will give the Pirates some coaching insurance, for it's not certain that Herschel Lysaker will remain there for long. Hersch is in correspondence with his draft board, he's registered at Warren, and it's possible that he may be in the service before another high school athletic season rolls around.

A Tagged Wall-eye

Sig Myrum, fishing out of Klimek's at Wheeler's Point, had the experience last week of catching a wall-eyed pike that carried a state game and fish tag. The pike wasn't so very big though, being about 18 inches long and weighing a pound.

Hoot Gibson brought in a nice-sized wall-eye from Morris Point on Sunday, a 6¾ pounder. Hoot's party had very good luck, but they ran into rough water and were forced to use a large commercial fishing boat in order to get out into the lake.

A Fine Lake Trout

Dr. O. F. Mellby returned from a fishing jaunt into Canada, on Crow lake, with his limit of lake trout and one of the fish was a 12-pounder. The entire party made limit catches, and they reported that the weather and the trip were ideal. Doc. made his catch on a No. 5 spinner and minnow, a bait that he had borrowed from Orvis Olen. Orvis is claiming an assist on Doc's catch.

70-YEAR-OLD MAN ATTEMPTS ENLISTMENT

Hibbing.— An elderly white-haired gentleman walked into the recruiting office last week, not to pay a friendly call, but to enlist in the armed forces! He explained that he already had four sons in the Army, one to go soon, one who may be drafted, and one who will be unable to go because he has three children. He wanted to take the place of this latter son. Sam B. Williams, the erstwhile volunteer, is seventy years old, walks with a firm step, and looks like he could produce a strong wallop. Now retired from business, he feels too active to stay on the sidelines. He figures that he can still carry a gun and be of some real use to the Army.

JOB INSURANCE PAYMENTS FALL DUE MAY 31ST

$3,000,000 in Payments Expected by Director V. Christgau

Monday, May 31, despite general Memorial Day observance, is the deadline for the payment of first quarter 1943 contributions to the Minnesota unemployment compensation fund, C. C. Clark, the agency's chief accountant, announced today. A collection of approximately $3,000,000 is forecast.

Ordinarily these contributions are due April 30. This year Victor Christgau, director of the division of employment and security, extended the due date one month to permit employers and the agency to adjust operations to new procedures under amendments to the law, enacted by the 1943 legislature. There is no authority, Attorney General Burnquist advised the agency, for a one day further extension because of the Memorial Day observance.

Penalties of as much as 2 per cent, in some cases, will be required on all receipts and reports received after May 31. To escape penalties both receipts and payroll reports must be received by the state office before the close of business Monday.

Contributions due are those covering payrolls of January, February, and March, on which the rates will vary from one-half of one per cent to 2.75 per cent. Also due are the special, and additional, war risk contributions; 3 per cent of the payrolls of certain firms whose operations have been greatly expanded by reason of large war contracts.

Employers subject to the law are those having one or more persons on their payrolls in the large cities of the state and those having eight or more in the small cities.

Navy Recruiter to Visit Goodridge and Grygla

Recruiters from the Crookston Navy substation will be in Grygla from 1 to 5 P. M. on Wednesday, June 2nd. They will be in Goodridge from 9 A. M. until noon on Thursday, June 3rd. In both of these towns they will be located in the local post offices.

At the present time they are accepting applications for WAVES and SPARS, men 17 years old and men between the ages of 38 and 50.

Men between 18 and 38 can now volunteer for induction into the Navy's Sea Bees. Their first step is to apply to their nearest Navy recruiting office. At the present time the Navy needs nine thousand men per month to fill needs of the Sea Bees.

Women between the ages of 20 and 36 are urgently needed to replace men now stationed in important shore positions. Women who enlist in the WAVES and SPARS will wear the same Navy Blue, receive the same pay and advantages as the men in the Navy and Coast Guard.

What They Fight For — Shall We Toss Away?

Every person killed or disabled on the Home Front, in traffic or any other type of accident, lessens by just that much our Nation's ability to produce and supply the necessities of war to those men and women who are valiantly offering their lives—in foreign lands and distant seas and flaming skies—to fight OUR FIGHT for Freedom.

Accidents here are needless, thoughtless, preventable — a wasteful, futile loss of human life and time, rewarded only by deepened anguish and purposeless sorrow.

Many who fight today to bring us Victory will themselves never live to see that Victory, never return to enjoy the Liberty, Freedom, Security they fought to save.

Do we at home, on whom they are depending for food and clothing, for tanks and ships and planes, for guns and ammunition—do we but value so cheaply their sacrifice, hold so lightly the treasures of Democracy, carry so carelessly the torch they left behind them, that having no need to face death, we shall invite it—in a moment of haste or heedlessness?

Our duty is to live rather than to die! Our part is to produce, in the midst of our abundance, not to risk in carelessness or recklessness an inglorious grave or a burdensome lifetime of physical incapacity.

Then may we who have safety within our hands—we for whom accident prevention rather than fearless daring is war's assignment—solemnly pledge to those in uniform that, now and hereafter, we shall drive carefully, walk cautiously, guarding our lives that we may help to attain, and live to enjoy, the priceless Victory for which they are giving theirs.

FARM SLAUGHTERING RULES ARE CLARIFIED

A farmer may feed his family with meat raised on any farm he owns or operates without giving up ration points. Modifying previous regulations, the Office of Price Administration said the new order applies even if the meat animal is slaughtered at a custom plant and not on his farm. Farmers also may transfer meat from one farm to another to provide food for members of the household. However, a farm owner who does not live on a farm must surrender ration points for any meat he consumes elsewhere.

N. W. School Students Carry on Home Projects During Summer Months

The field and laboratory work of the students at the Northwest School of Agriculture, at Crookston has been transferred to the homes and farms of the students during the summer months, according to Superintendent T. M. McCall. More than three hundred students in the Red River Valley counties are applying lessons learned in the classrooms and acquiring new knowledge for school credit on a score of projects for girls and twenty-seven projects for boys.

Major emphasis was placed this year on food production and efficiency projects for boys. Forty boys are growing foundation seed plots of new and approved varieties of grains while others are growing certified seed potatoes, corn, and garden crops. In livestock work, baby beef, sheep, pork and dairy herd management projects are most popular. A total of thirty-seven students are keeping weather records while others are keeping records of performance and cost of tractors and combines. All phases of farm and home life are covered in the summer work the students are doing.

Projects supervisors from the school visit the student and check the progress of work during the summer.

U. S. GOVERNMENT TAKES OVER WHOLE WOOL CLIP FOR '43

High Ceiling Price is Set on Choice Wools for Current Year

Under the new wool purchase program now in effect, the government takes over the entire domestic clip at ceiling prices through the Commodity Credit Corporation, County Agent Ernest Palmer said today. All wool dealers and handlers must be licensed and approved by the Commodity Credit Corporation and must sell to the government. All lots of wool over 1,000 pounds must be sold or consigned to the government. Only lots of less than 1,000 pounds are not affected by this program and may be sold for cash to anyone who wishes to buy such lots for local use. All 1943 wool must be sold by December 1, 1943.

The top ceiling price on choice Minnesota wool is about 52 to 53 cents per pound on a grease basis, D. C. Dvoracek, extension marketing specialist, points out that growers can dispose of their wool through licensed dealers or cooperative pools. Maximum deductions for the established ceiling price are specified, subject to minor change as need may arise. Local dealers, secondary handlers, are permitted to retain as a handling charge 1½ cents per pound grease weight on lots of less than 5,000 pounds or 2½ cents per pound grease weight on lots of more than 5,000 pounds. Furthermore, when local dealers consign wool to primary handlers, they are allowed a further handling charge varying from 1¼ to 2½ cents per pound grease weight depending on size of consignments and services rendered.

A grading deduction of ¾ cent per pound is allowed, while storage including insurance is covered by a deduction of 15 cents per bag after 30 days. No storage is charged for the first 30 days. A deduction of 1½ cents per pound should cover freight on average shipments from Minnesota. Total deduction from the ceiling price would be about 4 cents per pound and should not exceed 5 cents per pound. Cooperative pools charge only actual costs and prorate savings to the patrons of such pools.

Unfortunately all wool does not fall in the top choice grade, and ceiling prices will vary according to market value. Tying fleece with sisal may result in a reduction of 10 cents per pound on scoured basis or about 5 cents in the grease. Slightly stained wool is docked 2 cents per pound on scoured basis and heavily stained wool is docked 5 cents on the same basis. If the wool is sandy or burry so as to require carbonizing, it is docked 10 cents per pound. Minnesota wool shrinks about 50 per cent when scoured and deductions on the grease basis would be about half of those made on the scoured basis.

The Minnesota Cooperative Wool Growers are advancing 40 cents per pound on choice medium wool or about 80 per cent of full net value. The advances on rejects and fine wool vary from 30 to 35 cents per pound depending on the condition. Any grower can get information on who is handling wool for the Minnesota Wool Growers from his county agent.

Cong. Hagen Gets Unsigned Requests for Bulletins

U. S. Representative Harold Hagen has received several unsigned requests for farmers bulletins and leaflets from persons with Thief River Falls and other Pennington county postoffice mail addresses.

The bulletin lists or postal cards were not signed and it is, of course, impossible to fill the orders for the publications without knowledge of the names of the persons making the requests, he reports.

If those who have sent in orders fail to receive bulletins, it is suggested that a second request be made to Congressman Hagen's office, 1620 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

$11.28 TAX FOR 160 ACRES OF LAND

Waseca—Maybe those folks who continually talk about rising taxes are justified. Not long ago a local man purchased an old-fashioned bureau for his antique collection. Upon examination of his purchase, he found many old letters and receipts, the property of one, William Cody. Most interesting of the papers, was a receipt issued to Mr. Cody in 1868 for taxes on his 160 acres of land in the amount of $11.28.

COUNTY WAR BOARDS CAN CANCEL MACHINE QUOTAS

Minnesota, North and South Dakota war boards have authority to cancel county quotas of any or all types of farm machinery at their discretion. The War Food Administration said that if a board exercises this authority, farmers will be required to locate the machinery they want to buy before they are given a purchase certificate. Furthermore, county farm rationing committees may set the expiration date of certificates any time between 10 and 60 days after issuance, or may cancel the certificates after the holder has had a reasonable time to buy the equipment.

PROGRAM PLANNED AT OLD CROSSING PARK ON JUNE 20

To Mark Tenth Anniversary of Dedication of Treaty Monument There

The tenth anniversary of the dedication of the Old Crossing Treaty state monument on Red Lake river west of Red Lake Falls will be celebrated with a program at the park Sunday, June 20, according to an announcement made by officers of the Polk County Historical society which is sponsoring an Indian pageant for the occasion, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette.

The Old Crossing Treaty monument was erected by the United State government in 1932 in accordance with the terms of a bill introduced by Congressman C. G. Selvig of Crookston, which bill provided that the title to the site be vested in the state. By action of the Red Lake county board of commissioners, nine acres embraced in the state were purchased by Red Lake county and deeded to the state which has since designed the park as a "state monument."

Sculptor of the monument was Carl C. Mose of the Minneapolis School of Art. The dedicatory exercises took place Sunday, June 25, 1933 and it was a big event and well attended by people throughout this area. The principal address was delivered by Dr. Theodore C. Blegen, superintendent of the Minnesota Historical Society.

Plans for the June 20 program, to be featured by an Indian pageant, were made at the regular May directors meeting of the Polk County Historical society last week. Mrs. H. Holte, an authority on Indian lore will be in charge of the pageant.

GRANITE FALLS-RABBITS HAVE STRANGE MOTHER

Granite Falls.—The L. A. Slettedahl's were surprised when they saw their cat pick up a baby rabbit in the garden and carry it back to its nest of five kittens. Thinking that the young kittens were having rabbit for lunch, they investigated. It turned out that the mother cat had taken not one, but four baby rabbits, and had adopted them into her family circle. She nursed them as her own kittens, and they are now all members of this rather unique family. Although the rabbits are large enough to jump around now, they seem to prefer staying with this new mother of theirs, always returning when they are hungry.

DOG FINDS POCKETBOOK CONTAINING $200.00

Le Center.—Smart dog, is Jake Cemensky's hound. His master is most grateful to him for recovering his lost wallet containing $200 in currency. This is the way it happened. After making a purchase in town Jake put his wallet into his pocket, he thought. A few minutes later he reached into his pocket and found it empty. Retracing his steps about town he could not find the missing pocketbook and returned home a pretty sad man. Later in the day Mrs. Cemensky came hurrying into the house with the missing wallet which she had found in the doghouse. It seems instead of putting it into his pocket it had been crammed in between his overalls and jacket where it hung until he reached his own yard and then fell out. The hound spotting it, carefully picked it up and carried it in his house.

The last portion of the program dealt with "Physical Fitness," and was presented by lower grade pupils doing several exercises and singing games.

District OPA Director Explains Application Forms

Distribution of application forms for War Ration Book III was made last week in Thief River Falls. Applications were delivered to all local residents and to rural areas through the postoffice.

Cards must be filled in and returned before June 10, Harold W. Bangert, district OPA director, said today. Cards are self-addressed but require a three cent stamp for mailing. Persons who do not understand the procedure should contact their local war price and rationing board.

Mr. Bangert suggests the following points to consider when completing the War Ration Book III application:

(1) One card is good for one individual or for several members of the family living at home;

(2) Persons temporarily away from home (60 days or less) are to be included in the family application;

(3) A person living in a home but not a member of the family either by blood or marriage (employees) must fill out a separate application card;

(4) Name and address of the person to whom the ration books will be sent must be plainly printed. No forwarding address is to be used. If one is not certain of his address between June 1 and July 21, an application should not be submitted. Such applications will be accepted later by the local War Price and Rationing Board when the new address is definite;

(5) There are four spaces for listing members of the family on the face of the application. Spaces numbering from 5-12 for other members of the family are listed on the reverse side.

CO. WAR BOARD STARTS PRESSURE COOKER RATIONING

Applications to be Filed in Office of Carl Anderson, County Chairman

Carl R. Anderson, Pennington county USDA war board chairman, today announced that pressure cookers would be rationed in the county on a non-quota basis.

Mr. Anderson said 150,000 pressure cookers would be manufactured for use in the nation in 1943 and that he had no idea of how many would be available in the county. The supply of cookers is for both rural and urban residents and will be moved into the state through regular trade channels.

The rationing of pressure cookers will be handled by the county farm rationing committee. Application—for—purchase—certificates will be made on Forms MR-20A, which are available at the County USDA war board office. The completed applications must be filed with the county USDA war board of the county in which the applicant resides.

Because of the limited number of these cookers which will be available, in most cases favorable action cannot be expected on applications where only one family will make use of it.

Residents in Pennington county, should obtain their application from, and file them with Carl R. Anderson, as soon as possible.

The following were selected by the Pennington county war board to act as an advisory committee in the rationing of pressure cookers: Myrna Dahl representing FSA; Mrs. V. C. Noper representing AAA; Mrs. S. E. Hunt, representing the extension service; Mrs. E. L. Rolland, representing OCD; and Ed. Hanson, representing Red Cross.

PLANNING ISN'T NEW

THE way a lot of people are talking these days, you'd think planning is something new.

But anybody who's ever run a farm or a factory knows that if you don't plan, you can't get the most out of what you have to work with.

To plan properly, the farmer has to know about crops, soils, seasons, tools, and stock; and the man operating a factory has to know about machines, markets, science, and engineering.

Yet for all this specialized knowledge which each of these activities requires, the managers of both farm and factory have much in common in their planning. They have the same problems—to mention a few—of employment and taxes, of costs and a fair profit, of setting aside reserves for a "rainy day."

And they have the same objective in their planning—to do everything they can for their country today, and, tomorrow, to make a fair living through greater service to their fellow Americans. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

ABANDON COUNTY QUOTA SYSTEM ON FARM MACHINERY

New Method of Distribution Announced by State War Board Chairman

Charles W. Stickney, Minnesota USDA War Board chairman, has announced cancelation of county quotas on rationed farm machinery which should result in freer movement of the state's quota for use in this year's all-out food and fibre production program.

Under the new system, purchase certificates may be issued by the county farm rationing committee for machinery for which the application is made and that to the best of his knowledge such machinery will be transferred to him if he is granted a purchase certificate.

Under no circumstances will a farmer be able to purchase farm machinery without a purchase certificate issued by his local county farm rationing committee, according to Mr. Stickney. In issuing purchase certificates, the rationing committee will continue to be guided by the applicant's need for the machinery.

"Although the state quota for farm machinery remains the same, the cancelation of county quotas will enable the state and county USDA war boards and rationing committees to move farm machinery into areas where it is needed with the least-possible delay," Mr. Stickney said.

HOME-GROWN TOMATOES GRACE TABLE IN MAY

Richmond — To have Minnesota home-grown tomatoes in the month of May in any year is rare, but to have them in the month of May this year in which the lowest temperature since 1895 has been registered, is exceedingly rare. One day last week they were on the bill of fare at the hotel cafe. This is how it happened. Last fall Mrs. Wieber took several cans of soil into the house to plant flowers in but lo and behold up came tomato plants in the soil. And now the vines about two feet high, standing in a sunny spot in a display window, have green and partially ripe tomatoes.

Impressive Exercises Held in Beautiful Elks Memorial Park

SENATOR SLETVOLD DELIVERS ADDRESS

Many Units March in Parade from City Auditorium to Elks Park

Residents of the Thief River Falls community paid fitting tribute to the war dead Sunday afternoon when impressive Memorial Day exercises were conducted in the beautiful setting of the Elks memorial park under the auspices of the local American Legion post, with Vern M. Olson serving as chairman.

The address of the day was delivered by State Senator A. O. Sletvold of Detroit Lakes, who stated that the attitude toward the bereaved on Memorial Day is a blending of the emotions of sympathy, gratitude and pride.

As in the case of past conflicts, the speaker said, freedom is the issue in the current war in which the United States is engaged. He closed his address with the thought that as yet American civilians have made no real sacrifices in this war.

The program opened with the playing of "America" by the Lincoln high school band, followed by the invocation by the Rev. E. L. Tungseth and a song by a quartet consisting of Justus Larson, Roy Struble, John Nyberg and Orville Berg. Edward Peterson supplied an impressive reading of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

W. G. Claffy, commander of Elmer J. Ecklund post of the Legion, read the lengthy list of deceased war veterans, and at the same time ranks of white crosses were decorated by Boy and Girl Scouts.

Mrs. J. M. Bishop paid a feeling tribute to the Unknown Soldier, represented by a large cross, following which the program closed with the benediction by the Rev. A. I. Merth, the sounding of taps by Vern Keifenheim and the rendition by the band of "The Star-spangled Banner."

Preceding the program, a parade made up of many units proceeded from the Auditorium to the park. Included in the procession were the Legion color guard and firing squad; the high school band, veterans of the Spanish-American war, members of the American Legion and auxiliary, men now in the armed services and those honorably discharged from service, Gold Star mothers, Elks, members of the civilian defense organization, Red Cross workers and boy and girl scouts.

With the Victory Aides

By Mrs. W. R. Ferber

Publicity Chairman

Victory Aides in Mayfield township under the direction of Lieutenant Mrs. John Asp are the first to turn in the estimates on the salvage canvass that is being made in the rural areas. These women deserve applause as this canvass was made by horseback and on foot due to bad road conditions. Other townships are urged to complete their scrap metal estimates and turn them in as soon as possible.

Salvage

Mrs. Ann Ginn, chief of the women's division of general salvage a branch of the WPB, announces that the state of Minnesota for the month of March collected 44% of set quota in fats and 40% of the quota in tin cans. If each household would save 1 tablespoon of fat a day and 4 tin cans per person a month our quota could be made. We have stressed the importance of these savings in each home and again call to the attention of every housewife the urgent need for saving fats and tin cans.

Program

All captains in the rural areas will receive a letter from Lieutenant Marion R. Leidinger to assist in the recruiting of WAAC's. 90,000 WAAC's are to be recruited by July 1st; the quota for this area being 212. Lieutenant Leidinger will headquarter at Crookston and work this territory from there.

The folks behind the counters...

BACK THE MEN BEHIND THE GUNS!

TODAY, in the J. C. Penney stores in all 48 states, an army of over 50,000 is waiting to greet you.

In the front ranks of this army are veterans deeply versed in the Penney technique of service and thrift. And filling its ranks are thousands of eager recruits!

They are the able replacements for the 4,512 stars in the Penney service flag.

Fred Parsons in the shoe department is filling in for a hero in Tunisia. Lucy Hunt, selling yard goods, substitutes for a Navy Wave.

And these new people—like the veterans—do a marvelous job!

In a very real sense, they are soldiers—soldiers all!

For, you can't do your best at a war job—without proper clothing.

And Penney's and its people are making every effort to provide you with the new clothes you need. Clothing that's really sturdy as well as smart and thrifty—clothing for all the family—the Home Front Uniforms of the Nation.

The Penney army of Home Front Soldiers is made up of your neighbors and your friends.

The people who work at Penney's are the folks you grew up with; and their daughters and their sons!

There are over 1600 Penney stores but each is a local institution. Each employs local people, pays local taxes, caters to local tastes.

OUR GUESS

Uncle Sam's strike problem has now been placed in the lap of the President. His War Labor Board has failed in its purpose and Harold Ickes, his special representative, has been unable to work out a satisfactory solution.

The reason why his special agents and agencies have not been successful this time in restoring peace is because they have had their hands tied by an order to hold the line on wage increases. This time the administration representatives cannot order mine operators to yield to the demands of John Lewis without admitting failure in the attempt to fight inflation by holding down prices. The President is now faced with the problem of either opening wide the floodgates of inflation or slugging it out with Mr. Lewis.

President Roosevelt is not an appeaser. On the contrary he is a tricky fighter who takes great pride in his own cunning and it is our guess that in this battle the mighty John Lewis is going to come out second best. He has been given a lot of rope and the hope that he would hang himself is soon going to materialize.

It cannot be said that the President has not been patient in preparing his ground. When the coal strike first became a serious threat he reminded labor leaders of the pledge they made after Pearl Harbor that there would be no strikes. When the mines did close down he took them over in the name of the government. His address to the nation on that occasion was surprisingly mild and was generally accepted as a masterful appeal to the loyalty of the workers themselves. Nothing he has said or done could be considered in any way offensive to the rank and file of labor. Now he has reduced the market price of several important foods as a gesture to prove that he is sincere in wanting to hold down costs. The ground has been carefully prepared. The public is demanding a showdown. When Mr. Roosevelt swings he will not pull his punches.

That is our guess.

Generous Uncle Sam is now going to use a part of the money he borrows from us to help us pay for our butter. Good old Uncle, he is always thinking up ways to make us happy. There are times however, when we wish the old rascal would worry a little more about his own credit.

This has been a backward Spring and crop prospects are not as bright as they might be. It still is too early to write 1943 off as a failure however. Good prospects do not always materialize and it sometimes happens that final results exceed early expectations. The pay-off is on the final results.

Now that Joe Stalin has suspended his Comintern, the organization that was going to re-make the world to suit the Russians, we will gladly second the motion that our Dies Committee be laid to rest. This committee may have accomplished some good in its long and snoopy career, but it has also accomplished some harm. Over a period of years it has made suspect many a good American whose only offense had been to express an opinion that did not conform to the Committee's conception of what a good American's opinion should be. By suspending their Comintern the Russians have indicated that they are beginning to like us in spite of all our faults. And certainly, in spite of their faults, we are developing a great liking for the Russians.

The regulation-makers down in Washington have now ruled that men with short legs may have cuffs on the new pants they buy from now on. Long legged fellows have this same privilege we presume if they want to wear knee length trousers. Do you suppose the government actually pays the fellows who think up these ideas? Congressman Harold Hagen is having a row with them now over a regulation that will require farmers to sign an affidavit promising they will use the binder twine they buy this fall only for a legitimate purpose. He called on them to find out for what illegitimate purposes they feared the farmers might buy the twine, but apparently received little satisfaction for his pains. As the regulations still stand you'll sign affidavits when you buy twine and like it. Which prompts Lou Benshoof of the Detroit Lakes Record to suggest that maybe soon we will have to promise to wear our shoes on our feet.

War news continues to be cheerful these days, especially the reports from the China front where our Chinese allies have set the Japs back on their heels in an important battle. Supported by an American air force, Chinese fliers first knocked the Japs out of the air and then their ground forces turned the trick. These reports from China are especially encouraging because they indicate how and where we will lick the Japs. Give the Chinese armies equipment to fight with and they will do a pretty fair job of chasing the islanders off the mainland. With air supremacy it will not be much of a problem to put the Jap navy out of commission. All this will not be done in a day or a week, but it will be done.

Chester Wilson, Minnesota's new Commissioner of Conservation, will speak here next Thursday and he will be worth listening to. The Commissioner of Conservation is one of Minnesota's most important officials. His department includes the Division of Forestry, the Division of Game and Fish, the Division of Water Resources and Engineering, the Division of State Parks, the Division of Lands and Minerals and the Tourist Bureau. It is a big job in any man's language. This department probably is subjected to more criticism than all other departments of our state put together. Friends told Chester Wilson that he was committing political suicide when he accepted the job, but that, of course, remains to be seen. At any rate you are going to hear a lot about him in the coming years and this is an opportunity to see and hear him personally.

Municipalities League Will Meet June 10 and 12

The thirtieth annual convention of the League of Minnesota Municipalities at St. Paul, June 10, 11, and 12, will mark a milestone in the history of the League and the relations between the league and the University, according to preliminary announcement made by C. C. Ludwig of Minneapolis, executive secretary. In 1913 under the guidance of Dr. Richard R. Price, director of the university extension division, a group of Minnesota municipal officials was brought together and the league organized as an association for municipal cooperation. RED CROSS NEWS NOTES

By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

The chairmen of the surgical dressing room, Mrs. Rullen and Mrs. Werstlein are lending out another plea for workers to do surgical dressings. It is hoped that with the close of the school term, many high school students will volunteer their afternoons for this work. Some of the churches have cooperated and set a day of the week for their services. It is our wish that other church organizations will take care of the work for Wednesday afternoons.

A mistake had been made in last week's column in that the Concordia aid of St. John's Lutheran church will work at the surgical dressing room every Thursday evening instead of afternoons as was stated. They will also serve a ten cent lunch to those working and also to the public who wish to attend. The Altar Guild Society of the St. Bernard's church likewise will work every Thursday afternoon and will serve a ten cent lunch to workers and the public.

The surgical dressing room as stated last week will be open every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 2 to 5 P. M. and on Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 10 P. M. The schedule worked out for the churches is as follows: Monday afternoon and evenings, Trinity Lutheran church; Tuesday afternoons, Zion Lutheran church; Wednesday afternoons, open; Thursday afternoons, St. Bernard's church; Thursday evenings, St. John's Lutheran church; Friday afternoons, any volunteer help.

Any one wishing to help may work on any day they wish, but it is hoped that working with a set schedule more work may be accomplished.

Mrs. McLaughlin, chairman of the knitting committee, stated that the new yarn has arrived and that all knitters may contact her for yarn.

Mrs. Lynde, chairman of home nursing, stated that the certificates for the classes conducted by Miss Sward, Mrs. Paulson, Mrs. Patten and Mrs. Lynde have not as yet arrived but that members of these classes should watch this column for further news.

Auxiliary Notes

by Mrs. J. W. Stewart,
Publicity Chairman

The Legion Auxiliary wishes to express their thanks to all those who helped make last Saturday's poppy sale an outstanding success. There was an exceptional response to this appeal, and the sales this year were considerably higher than last year.

The auxiliary will hold their regular meeting this evening, June 3, at which time officers will be elected for the coming year. Delegates will be appointed to attend the 9th district war conference in Moorhead on June 27. At the close of the business meeting lunch will be served by hostesses Mrs. L. R. Twete and Mrs. Martha Narverud.

WARREN CHURCH IS RAZED ON EVE OF DEDICATION

The First Methodist church in Warren, which recently had undergone extensive improvements and which was to have been dedicated May 30, was completely destroyed in a blaze that originated in the basement last Thursday morning.

SCHOOL TEACHERS MAY TAKE SUMMER WAR JOBS

School teachers in Minnesota, North and South Dakota may take summer jobs in war plants, agriculture or necessary civilian services without endangering their regular positions and may take higher pay for that work, the War Manpower Commission says. The WMC interpretation clarified the status of teachers who wish to accept summer employment but do not want to be "frozen" in these jobs which would prohibit them from signing contracts to teach next year. The question of higher pay also was involved because of the "hold-the-line" order.

ALL BUT THREE TYPES OF CHEESE TO BE RATIONED

Only three types of cheese cottage, bakers and pot cheese—will be exempt from maximum price regulations when new OPA regulations go into effect early in June. To conserve the milk supplies, soft perishable cheese such as cream, neufchatel and camembert will be rationed just as hard cheese and most cheese foods have been since March 29. Instead of the present eight points per pound, however, cheese will be classified in three groups with different point values.

FURLOUGHED SOLDIER'S RATION TASK NOW EASIER

A serviceman on leave or furlough of at least three days hereafter will be provided with a complete application form for obtaining rationed food before he leaves camp. He will give the application to the person who provides his meals, who, in turn, will submit it to the local rationing board for food certificates within 15 days after the furlough ends.

CIVIL SERVICE TO SEEK WORKERS ON NAVAL JOBS HERE

Interviewers to Visit City Tuesday, June 8, and June 22d

Civil service interviewers are seeking 2,500 laborers and skilled workmen, for three West Coast shipyards and the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, the War Manpower Commission announced today.

On Tuesday, June 8, and Tuesday, June 22, interviewers will be at the United States Employment Service office at 208 Third Street East. Arrangements are being made for a repeat visit every two weeks to July 1.

The 2,500 quota has been set as the number needed for these projects from this 5-state region, and civil service interviewers will make "on the spot" appointments to the jobs.

To meet labor needs for the nation's gigantic war ship-building programs, a variety of positions must be filled at Puget Sound navy yard, Bremerton, Washington; the Mare Island navy yard, Vallejo, California; and Hunters' Point Dry Docks, San Francisco, as well as at Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, in Hawaii.

Salaries offered in the three West Coast yards range from 83c per hour to $1.37 per hour and for the Pearl Harbor yard from 82c per hour to $1.71 per hour.

Workers needed include boilermakers, electricians, foundry chippers, chippers and calkers (iron), drillers, enginemen, flange turners, forgers (light), senior laborers, machinists, molders, pipefitters, machine tool operators, sheet metal workers, shipfitters, shipwrights, tool makers and helpers.

New Means of Speeding Mail Delivery in Large Cities Is Pointed Out

A new method of speeding up mail deliveries has been placed in operation, Postmaster Andrew Anderson stated today. The method consists of the addition of a branch post office number to the address on mail for delivery in large cities.

An example of the new type of address is: John C. Smith, 222 Mattapan Ave., Boston 8, Mass.

The number after the city indicates the branch post office or postal unit through which delivery is made. Each resident of large cities is asked by his postmaster to add the postal unit number to his return address, and notify all to whom he writes that his address is not complete without the number.

Patrons of this office who correspond with friends or others in large cities are urged to supply the complete address, including the unit number.

Bemidji School Wins Region 8 Golf Title

Posting an aggregate three-man total of 274, Bemidji high school retained its eighth regional golf title in a tournament played over the Crookston course on Saturday. Crookston, with a 281 total, earned runner-up honors, while Thief River Falls scored a 306 for third place. Crookston's Jim Erickson, scoring an 87, won medalist honors, with Johnson and Graves of Bemidji tied for second place with 90's; Bill Bye marked up a 91 for the Prowlers. Other Thief River Falls scorers were Jim Jorde, 102; and Jim Dokken, 112.

NEW HORIZONS

A new world is waiting for all who have faulty sight. A world in which every object, every face, every printed word, is clear and distinct. In which there are no more headaches and nervousness and fatigue from eyestrain. In which there is greater efficiency at work, greater enjoyment in leisure.

Many people have defective sight without realizing it. The one way to be sure that all the benefit and pleasure of clear vision are yours, is to have your eyesight examined.

'U' SPECIALIST EXPLAINS WOOL MARKETING PLAN

60 Local Farmers Hear Explanation of Government Program

Approximately 60 farmers attended the wool growers meeting in Thief River Falls Friday evening, according to County Agent, Ernest Palmer. The main speaker of the evening was D. C. Dvoracek extension specialist in marketing, from University farm. Mr. Dvoracek emphasized the provisions of the law which provides for the Commodity Credit Corporation to purchase for the government all wool produced during 1943.

Only producers of less than 1000 pounds can sell to dealers. He said that those who have less than 1000 pounds have the option of consigning or pooling their wool through a cooperative association or an approved dealer. They also have the option of selling this wool outright for cash to any dealers as regulations permit the sale by any grower who has less than 1000 pounds of wool.

The top ceiling price on choice wool is 52c to 53c per pound on the grease basis according to Mr. Dvoracek. Cooperatives are advancing about 30c above the ceiling price. Mr. Dvoracek also called attention to the fact that all dealers must have licenses.

Maximum deductions for the established ceiling price are specified, subject to minor change as need may arise. Local dealers, secondary handlers, are permitted to retain as handling charge 1½ cents per pound grease weight on lots of less than 5,000 pounds or 2½ cents per pound grease weight on lots of more than 5,000 pounds. Furthermore, when local dealers consign wool to primary handlers, they are allowed a further handling charge varying from 1½ to 3½ cents per pound grease weight depending on size of consignments and services rendered.

A grading deduction of ¾ cent per pound is allowed, while storage, including insurance is covered by a deduction of 15 cents per bag after 20 days. No storage is charged for the first 30 days. A deduction of 1½ cents per pound should cover freight on average shipments from Minnesota. Total deduction from the ceiling price would be about 4 cents per pound and should not exceed 5 cents per pound. Cooperative pools charge only actual costs and prorate savings to the patrons of such pools.

Marshall Co. Creamery Picnic Set for June 13

The annual Marshall county creameries picnic will be held on Sunday, June 13, at Middle River state park halfway between Argyle and Newfolden, it was announced this week by E. M. Evans of Middle River, general chairman. John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, will be the principal speaker on the afternoon program. Otto Hjelle of Newfolden is chairman of the grounds and concessions committee, and G. A. Sustad of Viking is secretary-treasurer of the association.

This Section Gets 1.67 Inches Rain This Week

Seeding of flax and other late crops received another serious setback this week when rain fell Sunday evening, Monday, Wednesday and this morning, a total precipitation of 1.67 inches being recorded on the power plant rain gauge. Due to the continued wet and cool weather, there also is much concern as to the condition of the seed already in the ground. A total of 2.8 inches of rain was recorded here in May.

3 Outstanding Movies to be Shown at Local Theatres This Week-end

Three outstanding motion pictures will be presented at local theatres this week-end. "Random Harvest", the offering at the Avalon Friday thru Monday, teams Ronald Colman and Greer Garson in the story of a strange case of suspended memory, which motivates a haunting romance. The program at the Falls theatre Sunday and Monday will include two features, Walt Disney's "Fantasia" and "Desert Victory", the picture story of the British rout of Rommel's Africa Corps, in which the campaign is shown from Egypt all the way to Tripoli. "Fantasia" offers a musical treat, presenting seven great musical works rendered by the Philadelphia symphony orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowsky.

Rotarians View Movies at Luncheon Tuesday

At the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel, Dr. Edward Bratrud presented a reel of interesting colored motion pictures, descriptive of a trout fishing expedition to Nestor Falls and Crow Lake made by him and Mrs. Bratrud. H. A. Baumann showed movies from his library of official war films dealing with the fighting in North Africa, Russia and the Pacific area.

Sportsmen's Club Views Movies Tuesday Evening

A large attendance was registered at the June session of the Pennington County Sportsmens club held Tuesday evening in the Civic and Commerce rooms. The program included the showing of films from the University of Minnesota, as well as of scenes from this locality taken by Kern M. Olson. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

200,000 Pike Fry Set Out in River Pool Here

Ten cans of fish fry containing 200,000 wall-eye and Northern pike were received here last Friday from the state hatchery at Bemidji, and were set out in Red Lake river near Squaw Point, it was announced by Henry Storhaug, president of the Pennington County Sportsmens club.

She is graduating in June with magna cum laude honors, and will continue her work in the graduate school this summer.

City People Older

The 1940 census discloses that the urban population of the U. S. is older, on the average, than the rural population.

Keeping Score

.... With BUCK OLSON

The High—and the Low

Lieut. Walt. Ekeren, home on a short furlough from Carlisle Barracks, Pa., is sporting a silver bracelet, which was given to him as a prize for having the high average, 180, in the camp's bowling league. Walt. reports that Major Doc Anderson, also at Carlisle, is wearing a prize bracelet too, but the Doc's is made of "ersatz" and was awarded as a prize for the league's low average, with Doc posting a 116.

I wonder if Doc remembers the time when, on a fishing trip with Cliff Bjorkman and Frank Govednik several years ago, he fell into Rainy River. As far as Cliff and Frank were concerned, that was the highlight of the trip.

Could Have Been Wally's

It is reported that an angler fishing near the outlet at Red Lake on Monday hooked and landed a large sheepshead, weighing nearly twenty pounds, and this sheepshead had several strands of leader wire trailing from its jaw. Wally DuChamp fishing at Waskish on Sunday hooked and lost, when his leader broke, a fish which he calls a "monster great northern pike, which must have weighed about 20 pounds"; and it could be that the sheepshead at the outlet was the same "northern pike" that Wally lost at Waskish. Wally gets excited when he hooks a big fish and he can't tell whether he's hooked a sheepshead or a northern or a bullhead, so he calls 'em all northerns.

A Grand Slam

Successfully defending their regional golf championship in the tournament played at Crookston on Saturday, Bemidji completed a "grand slam" in the region's high school athletic competition. The Lumberjacks won the regional titles in basketball, track, golf, and you'll have to concede them the football crown, too, although they barely defeated the Prowlers, 6 to 0, in a game which the locals could have won and should have tied. Yep, coaches Red Wilson and Glenn Harnum had big years at Bemidji. And judging by the material that the Lumberjacks will have on hand next season, Bemidji should continue to be the Mr. Big in regional athletics.

Jack the Sailor

Jack Melby, Prowler basketball captain, certainly made a hurry-up job of getting into the navy. Jack traveled to Minneapolis last week, joined the navy and was sent to the Great Lakes naval training station. Jack's only 17, will be 18 in a month, so he beat the selective service by enlisting, and he beat team-mates Milt Roierson and Bob Abbott into the service too, for Milt and Bob are slated to leave here with the June contingent.

Waskish Gets a Workout

According to all reports, local anglers surely gave Waskish, on Upper Red Lake, a workout during the week-end, and fishing, when you could get out on the lake, was excellent. In fact, there were some complaints that the walleyes were biting too fast, and that limit catches could be made in less than half an hour.

Roy Shetler, casting from shore near Hillman's store, and using an extra-large red-eye wiggler, hooked and landed a 11-pound northern pike on Saturday evening. You haven't seen anything until you've seen Roy in operation after a big fish. Roy, who is pretty much of a "lone wolf" while fishing, adjusts his outboard motor to trolling speed, then stands up in the back of the boat, guides the rudder with a foot, and casts his bait to the edge of the weed-beds; and he keeps that pace for hours.

Summer Recreation Program

The summer recreation program with coaches Glenn Hanna and Quentin Jones as supervisors, will get under way at Tindolph and East Side parks next week. With the American Legion again sponsoring junior baseball, coach Hanna stated that organization of a team will be one of the first items on the program, and that all youngsters wishing to try out for the team should register with the coach.

It is planned, too, to organize a senior diamondball league, with perhaps four teams in the circuit. Diamondball enthusiasts Walt Larson, Ole Ness, Ole Engelstad, Chuck Dostal, Wayne Anderson, and Gordy Roierson should get into a huddle with Mr. Hanna and see what can be done.

It takes about 400,000 Nazi occupation troops in Norway to hold down that country's population of approximately three million inhabitants.

Auxiliary Poppy Sale Saturday Nets $206.60

The Poppy Day sale conducted in the city Saturday was an outstanding success, 2000 of the blossoms being sold for a total of $206.60, the largest proceeds in recent years. Mrs. Esther Plough, president of the auxiliary, today in behalf of the unit thanked all those who cooperated to make the sale a success.

Recreation Highlights

By "Rupe"

On talking to Mr. Jones the other day, he gave me some of the inside dope on recreation at Tindolph Park this summer. The beach opens June 14th, and all the boys who plan on entering the armed forces are urged to pass their swimming requirements before they leave.

The three things that will be stressed most are power swimming, ballet swimming and diving. These classes will be divided into separate groups, girls in one class and boys in another. Other sideline activities will consist of log rolling, bait casting, tumbling, gymnastics on the high bar, croquet, building human pyramids, and a kiddie play pen for all the small children.

A bulletin containing swimming hours and other information will be out later. These sports are given in your benefit, and they will amount to just what you make them; so let's all plan to go swimming this summer!

About the same time that the swimming pool opens, activities under the direction of Coach Glenn Hanna will be under way. Some of the sports that he will instruct are baseball, softball, track, volleyball, tennis, horseshoes, touch football, soccer, handicraft and archery.

Of course, not all these will be used unless there is enough interest in them. Out of that list, the ones that are liked the most by the participants will be taught.

The park will be under supervision about five or six days a week, and if enough fellows turn out, there is a possibility of having a city kittenball league. All those who are big enough or capable of playing a fast game will be combined with the adult's leagues. Along with this, there will be a junior kittenball league for the younger boys, and certain days will be set aside for their practices and games. All kittenball games will probably be played on a percentage basis, and the season will be divided into two parts. The winner of first half of the season plays the winner of the second half, and then split the prizes.

Finally with all this, there will be a junior Legion baseball team this summer if enough of the older boys can get together long enough to have one.

Coach Hanna plans on having a track meet every two weeks or so to check on the boys improvement. These track meets will prove interesting to the public as well as the boys who take part; and we would like very much to see good crowds at these meets.

Another interesting event coming up is the businessmen's volleyball league. This is something new in the line of ball clubs and will prove just as much fun as was the broomball league. For further information on this club, you can see Mr. Hanna.

Wanted by Sue Prichard—More girls to sign up for girls kittenball teams this summer. If enough girls are interested, a number of games will be scheduled and prizes will go to the winners.

Once again a group of DeMolay boys Friday opened their refreshment counter along with the regular teen-age dance. Although not too big a crowd was there, the score reached over the 100 mark so both dance and counter were successful and were appreciated very much by those who were there.

The United States was producing fighting equipment eight times as fast as Japan in the spring of 1943.

USE CARE IN FILING APPLICATIONS FOR RATION BOOK NO. 3

Form Will Not be Accepted Unless It Bears a 3-Cent Stamp

Northwest postal and OPA officials today cautioned householders that their War Ration Book III application forms must be completely filled out and properly stamped to be acceptable. The postoffice will not accept them unless they bear a three-cent stamp.

The OPA will not accept them unless they are completely filled out, with names, birth dates and other information regarding members of the family. No card will be accepted if it does not bear the signature of the head of the family or the person making the application.

The postoffice will return insufficiently stamped cards, but the OPA has made no preparation for notifying householders who have filled out incorrectly. The probability is they will not know until the ration books have been distributed.

The deadline for mailing in cards is June 10. The OPA mailing center in Chicago will start mailing out books on June 20 and continue through July 21.

Persons who haven't received forms can obtain them from their mail carrier or postoffice, not their local ration board, OPA officials said. Householders also are cautioned to tear off and save the stub at the top of the card. It is the identification card for the family's ration card No. III.

CIVIL SERVICE TO SEEK WORKERS ON NAVAL JOBS HERE

Interviewers to Visit City Tuesday, June 8, and June 22d

Civil service interviewers are seeking 2,500 laborers and skilled workmen, for three West Coast shipyards and the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard, the War Manpower Commission announced today.

On Tuesday, June 8, and Tuesday, June 22, interviewers will be at the United States Employment Service office at 206 Third Street East. Arrangements are being made for a repeat visit every two weeks to July 1.

The 2,500 quota has been set as the number needed for these projects from this 5-state region, and civil service interviewers will make "on the spot" appointments to the jobs.

To meet labor needs for the nation's gigantic war ship-building programs, a variety of positions must be filled at Puget Sound navy yard, Bremerton, Washington; the Mare Island navy yard, Vallejo, California; and Hunters' Point Dry Docks, San Francisco, as well as at Pearl Harbor Navy Yard in Hawaii.

Salaries offered in the three West Coast yards range from 83c per hour to $1.37 per hour and for the Pearl Harbor yard from 82c per hour to $1.71 per hour.

New Means of Speeding Mail Delivery in Large Cities Is Pointed Out

A new method of speeding up mail deliveries has been placed in operation, Postmaster Andrew Anderson stated today. The method consists of the addition of a branch post office number to the address on mail for delivery in large cities.

An example of the new type of address is: John C. Smith, 222 Mattapan Ave., Boston 8, Mass.

The number after the city indicates the branch post office or postal unit through which delivery is made. Each resident of large cities is asked by his postmaster to add the postal unit number to his return address, and notify all to whom he writes that his address is not complete without the number.

Patrons of this office who correspond with friends or others in large cities are urged to supply the complete address, including the unit number.

Crookston's Jim Erickson, scoring an 87, won medalist honors, with Johnson and Graves of Bemidji tied for second place with 90's. Bill Bye marked up a 91 for the Prowlers. Other Thief River Falls scorers were Jim Jorde, 102; and Jim Dokken, 113.

NEW HORIZONS

A new world is waiting for all who have faulty sight. A world in which every object, every face, every printed word, is clear and distinct. In which there are no more headaches and nervousness and fatigue from eyestrain. In which there is greater efficiency at work, greater enjoyment in leisure.

Many people have defective sight without realizing it. The one way to be sure that all the benefit and pleasure of clear vision are yours, is to have your eyesight examined.

'U' SPECIALIST EXPLAINS WOOL MARKETING PLAN

60 Local Farmers Hear Explanation of Government Program

Approximately 60 farmers attended the wool growers meeting in Thief River Falls Friday evening, according to County Agent, Ernest Palmer. The main speaker of the evening was D. C. Dvoracek extension specialist in marketing, from University farm. Mr. Dvoracek emphasized the provisions of the law which provides for the Commodity Credit Corporation to purchase for the government all wool produced during 1943.

Only producers of less than 1000 pounds can sell to dealers. He said that those who have less than 1000 pounds have the option of consigning or pooling their wool through a cooperative association or an approved dealer. They also have the option of selling this wool outright for cash to any dealers as regulations permit the sale by any grower who has less than 1000 pounds of wool.

The top ceiling price on choice wool is 52c to 55c per pound on the grease basis according to Mr. Dvoracek. Cooperatives are advancing about 50c above the ceiling price. Mr. Dvoracek also called attention to the fact that all dealers must have licenses.

Maximum deductions for the established ceiling price are specified, subject to minor change as need may arise. Local dealers, secondary handlers, are permitted to retain as handling charge 1½ cents per pound grease weight on lots of less than 5,000 pounds or 2½ cents per pound grease weight on lots of more than 5,000 pounds. Furthermore, when local dealers consign wool to primary handlers, they are allowed a further handling charge varying from 1½ to 2½ cents per pound grease weight depending on size of consignments and services rendered.

A grading deduction of ¼ cent per pound is allowed, while storage, including insurance is covered by a deduction of 15 cents per bag after 20 days. No storage is charged for the first 30 days. A deduction of 1½ cents per pound should cover freight on average shipments from Minnesota. Total deduction from the selling price would be about 4 cents per pound and should not exceed 5 cents per pound. Cooperative pools charge only actual costs and prorate savings to the patrons of such pools.

This Section Gets 1.67 Inches Rain This Week

Seeding of flax and other late crops received another serious setback this week when rain fell Sunday evening, Monday, Wednesday and this morning, a total precipitation of 1.67 inches being recorded on the power plant rain gauge. Due to the continued wet and cool weather, there also is much concern as to the condition of the seed already in the ground. A total of 2.8 inches of rain was recorded here in May.

3 Outstanding Movies to be Shown at Local Theatres This Week-end

Three outstanding motion pictures will be presented at local theatres this week-end. "Random Harvest", the offering at the Avalon Friday thru Monday, teams Ronald Colman and Greer Garson in the story of a strange case of suspended memory, which motivates a haunting romance. The program at the Falls theatre Sunday and Monday will include two features, Walt Disney's "Fantasia" and "Desert Victory", the picture story of the British rout of Rommel's Africa Corps, in which the campaign is shown from Egypt all the way to Tripoli. "Fantasia" offers a musical treat, presenting seven great musical works rendered by the Philadelphia symphony orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowsky.

Rotarians View Movies at Luncheon Tuesday

At the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel, Dr. Edward Bratrud presented a reel of interesting colored motion pictures, descriptive of a trout fishing expedition to Nestor Falls and Crow Lake made by him and Mrs. Bratrud. H. A. Baumann showed movies from his library of official war films dealing with the fighting in North Africa, Russia and the Pacific area.

Sportsmen's Club Views Movies Tuesday Evening

A large attendance was registered at the June session of the Pennington County Sportsmens club held Tuesday evening in the Civic and Commerce rooms. The program included the showing of films from the University of Minnesota, as well as of scenes from this locality taken by Kern M. Olson. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

200,000 Pike Fry Set Out in River Pool Here

Ten cans of fish fry containing 200,000 wall-eye and Northern pike were received here last Friday from the state hatchery at Bemidji, and were set out in Red Lake river near Squaw Point, it was announced by Henry Storhaug, president of the Pennington County Sportsmens club.

City People Older

The 1940 census discloses that the urban population of the U. S. is older, on the average, than the rural population.

Keeping Score

.... With HUCK OLSON

The High—and the Low

Lieut. Walt. Ekeren, home on a short furlough from Carlisle Barracks, Pa., is sporting a silver bracelet, which was given to him as a prize for having the high average, 180, in the camp's bowling league. Walt. reports that Major Doc Anderson, also at Carlisle, is wearing a prize bracelet too, but the Doc's is made of "ersatz" and was awarded as a prize for the league's low average, with Doc posting a 116.

I wonder if Doc remembers the time when, on a fishing trip with Cliff Bjorkman and Frank Govednik several years ago, he fell into Rainy River. As far as Cliff and Frank were concerned, that was the highlight of the trip.

Could Have Been Wally's

It is reported that an angler fishing near the outlet at Red Lake on Monday hooked and landed a large sheepshead, weighing nearly twenty pounds, and this sheepshead had several strands of leader wire trailing from its jaw. Wally DuChamp fishing at Waskish on Sunday hooked and lost, when his leader broke, a fish which he calls a "monster great northern pike, which must have weighed about 20 pounds"; and it could be that the sheepshead at the outlet was the same "northern pike" that Wally lost at Waskish. Wally gets excited when he hooks a big fish and he can't tell whether he's hooked a sheepshead or a northern or a bullhead, so he calls 'em all northerns.

A Grand Slam

Successfully defending their regional golf championship in the tournament played at Crookston on Saturday, Bemidji completed a "grand slam" in the region's high school athletic competition. The Lumberjacks won the regional titles in basketball, track, golf, and you'll have to concede them the football crown, too, although they barely defeated the Prowlers, 6 to 0, in a game which the locals could have won and should have tied. Yep, coaches Red Wilson and Glenn Harnum had big years at Bemidji. And judging by the material that the Lumberjacks will have on hand next season, Bemidji should continue to be the Mr. Big in regional athletics.

Jack the Sailor

Jack Melby, Prowler basketball captain, certainly made a hurry-up job of getting into the navy. Jack traveled to Minneapolis last week, joined the navy, and was sent to the Great Lakes naval training station. Jack's only 17, will be 18 in a month, so he beat the selective service by enlisting, and he beat team-mates Milt Reierson and Bob Abbott into the service too, for Milt and Bob are slated to leave here with the June contingent.

Waskish Gets a Workout

According to all reports, local anglers surely gave Waskish, on upper Red Lake, a workout during the week-end, and fishing, when you could get out on the lake, was excellent. In fact, there were some complaints that the walleyes were biting too fast, and that limit catches could be made in less than half an hour.

Roy Shetler, casting from shore near Hillman's store, and using an extra-large red-eye wiggler, hooked and landed a 11-pound northern pike on Saturday evening. You haven't seen anything until you've seen Roy in operation after a big fish. Roy, who is pretty much of a "lone wolf" while fishing, adjusts his outboard motor to trolling speed, then stands up in the back of the boat, guides the rudder with a foot, and casts his bait to the edge of the weed-beds; and he keeps that pace for hours.

Summer Recreation Program

The summer recreation program with coaches Glenn Hanna and Quentin Jones as supervisors, will get under way at Tindolph and East Side parks next week. With the American Legion again sponsoring junior baseball, coach Hanna stated that organization of a team will be one of the first items on the program, and that all youngsters wishing to try out for the team should register with the coach.

It is planned, too, to organize a senior diamondball league, with perhaps four teams in the circuit. Diamondball enthusiasts Walt Larson, Ole Ness, Ole Engelstad, Chuck Dostal, Wayne Anderson, and Gordy Reierson should get into a huddle with Mr. Hanna and see what can be done.

It takes about 400,000 Nazi occupation troops in Norway to hold down that country's population of approximately three million inhabitants.

Auxiliary Poppy Sale Saturday Nets $206.60

The Poppy Day sale conducted in the city Saturday was an outstanding success, 2000 of the blossoms being sold for a total of $206.60, the largest proceeds in recent years. Mrs. Esther Plough, president of the auxiliary, today in behalf of the unit thanked all those who cooperated to make the sale a success.

Recreation Highlights

By "Rupe"

On talking to Mr. Jones the other day, he gave me some of the inside dope on recreation at Tindolph Park this summer. The beach opens June 14th, and all the boys who plan on entering the armed forces are urged to pass their swimming requirements before they leave.

The three things that will be stressed most are power swimming, ballet swimming and diving. These classes will be divided into separate groups, girls in one class and boys in another. Other sideline activities will consist of log rolling, bait casting, tumbling, gymnastics on the high bar, croquet, building human pyramids, and a kiddie play pen for all the small children.

A bulletin containing swimming hours and other information will be out later. These sports are given in your benefit, and they will amount to just what you make them; so let's all plan to go swimming this summer!

About the same time that the swimming pool opens, activities under the direction of Coach Glenn Hanna will be under way. Some of the sports that he will instruct are baseball, softball, track, volleyball, tennis, horseshoes, touch football, soccer, handicraft and archery.

Of course, not all these will be used unless there is enough interest in them. Out of that list, the ones that are liked the most by the participants will be taught.

The park will be under supervision about five or six days a week, and if enough fellows turn out, there is a possibility of having a city kittenball league. All those who are big enough or capable of playing a fast game will be combined with the adult's leagues. Along with this, there will be a junior kittenball league for the younger boys, and certain days will be set aside for their practices and games. All kittenball games will probably be played on a percentage basis, and the season will be divided into two parts. The winner of first half of the season plays the winner of the second half, and then split the prizes.

Finally with all this, there will be a junior Legion baseball team this summer if enough of the older boys can get together long enough to have one.

Coach Hanna plans on having a track meet every two weeks or so to check on the boys improvement. These track meets will prove interesting to the public as well as the boys who take part; and we would like very much to see good crowds at these meets.

Another interesting event coming up is the businessmen's volleyball league. This is something new in the line of ball clubs and will prove just as much fun as was the broomball league. For further information on this club, you can see Mr. Hanna.

Wanted by Sue Prichard—More girls to sign up for girls kittenball teams this summer. If enough girls are interested, a number of games will be scheduled and prizes will go to the winners.

Once again a group of DeMolay boys Friday opened their refreshment counter along with the regular teen-age dance. Although not too big a crowd was there, the score reached over the 100 mark so both dance and counter were successful and were appreciated very much by those who were there.

The United States was producing fighting equipment eight times as fast as Japan in the spring of 1943.

USE CARE IN FILING APPLICATIONS FOR RATION BOOK NO. 3

Form Will Not be Accepted Unless It Bears a 3-Cent Stamp

Northwest postal and OPA officials today cautioned householders that their War Ration Book III application forms must be completely filled out and properly stamped to be acceptable. The postoffice will not accept them unless they bear a three-cent stamp.

The OPA will not accept them unless they are completely filled out, with names, birth dates and other information regarding members of the family. No card will be accepted if it does not bear the signature of the head of the family or the person making the application.

The postoffice will return insufficiently stamped cards, but the OPA has made no preparation for notifying householders who have filled out incorrectly. The probability is they will not know until the ration books have been distributed.

The deadline for mailing in cards is June 10. The OPA mailing center in Chicago will start mailing out books on June 20 and continue through July 21.

Persons who haven't received forms can obtain them from their mail carrier or postoffice, not their local ration board, OPA officials said. Householders also are cautioned to tear off and save the stub at the top of the card. It is the identification card for the family's ration card No. III.

WORLD WAR I SAVING STAMPS

Preston.—Examining the contents of a safe deposit box he has had for years in a local bank, Clarence Vande Sande of Forestville was pleasantly surprised to find he had four five dollar stamps purchased during the last war! The four stamps had a maturity value of $20 in 1923, and have the same maturity value today. In 1918 Mr. Sande bought each stamp for $4.12. At that time the stamps were sold at a discount instead of face value. They were about the size of a postage stamp, rather than the size of the war stamps for World War 2.

STOP SIGNS MEAN 'STOP', SAYS STATE PATROL OFFICER

Chief Eldon Rowe Declares "Rolling Stop" Is Insufficient

"Stop" signs on state trunk highways will continue to require a full stop. This is the answer of Eldon Rowe, chief highway patrol officer, to suggestions that a so-called "rolling stop" be considered compliance with the "stop" rule during the war. The decision was made after careful study by officials of the state highway patrol and the traffic safety division of the state highway department. The National Safety Council is taking the same position.

"In the first place, the law requires a full stop and no one except the Legislature can change the law," said Mr. Rowe today. "Furthermore, the law is sound. Anything less than a full or complete stop is too indefinite and does not comply with the law.

"Those suggesting relaxing the 'stop' rule believe it would conserve gas and tires, since every stop takes a bit more gasoline and a bit more tire wear. But if drivers coming from side streets were permitted to enter arterial highways without a full stop, drivers on the main highway would be constantly required to stop or slow down and the result would be the unnecessary stopping of a larger number of vehicles. The loss in gas and tire wear would then be greater than the gain. Worse than that, the resulting chaos would lead to many accidents. With every car and truck and every tire so vital to our war transportation needs, it is doubly important that all possible precautions be taken to avoid accidents."

ROBIN PUTS IT OVER ON PROWLING CAT

Perham.—The robin is a plucky bird and a smart fighter but this tale told by John Beringer who witnessed the incident tops all. Robins were building a nest in a tree when the family cat began a predatory investigation. The robin caught the cat on the ground and made a swift attack from the rear. The cat leaped and turned and the wiley robin swung around and pecked him on one ear. The bewildered cat again faced about and the robin swung around and pecked him on the other ear. Then while the cat was standing spraddle legged he wound up the affray by dropping down behind him and running between his legs. As the robin ran out from under his chin the flabbergasted cat jumped straight up in the air and beat it around the house.

Thanks to YOU! The Red Cross, USO, Army Relief and Navy Relief recently shared equally a gift of $2,433,185.20—the proceeds of the Petroleum Industry Scrap Rubber Drive of last summer, which also gave America its present war tires and recap rubber. We are proud that Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through its dealers and agents, collected more scrap rubber than any other single company in the country and, consequently, turned in the greatest individual amount toward this gift.

1200 TO RECEIVE JUNE DIPLOMAS AT STATE UNIVERSITY

President Coffey to Speak in Stadium Saturday, June 12th

About 1200 young men and women will be graduated from the University of Minnesota in evening exercises in Memorial Stadium, Saturday, June 12, at 8 p. m. President Walter C. Coffey will deliver a brief charge to the class of 1943.

The number of graduates is somewhat less than usual, partly because so many young men have gone to war and partly because year-around programs of instruction brought an unusually large number to graduation three months early, namely, last March.

The program will not be cut down, President Coffey has announced, but some of the trappings and decorations will be done away with, partly for economy and in part for the lack of manpower in the service staff to erect such things.

Preceding commencement, graduates of the past from the University of Minnesota will conduct Alumni Day on Friday, June 11. Following custom, classes which graduated at five year intervals in the past will conduct special reunions, placing that privilege on class years ending in "3" and "8". The class in charge will be the one out twenty-five years, as usual, namely, the class of 1918, one of two classes that were graduated while the first world war was in progress. Ralph B. Beal is '18 class chairman, E. B. Pierce, alumni secretary, announced.

Fargo-Moorhead District OPA Announces Summary of Food Rationing Work

Residents in the 42 northwest Minnesota and eastern North Dakota counties of the Fargo-Moorhead OPA district hold 651,087 War Ration Books One and 578,320 War Ration Books Two, Harold Hangert, OPA district director, said today.

During March and April of this year, he said, a total of 19,726 passenger car tires and 6,050 tubes were rationed to motorists in the area. Of these, 2,891 were grade I passenger car tires; 6,054, grade II, and 10,781, grade III. The office issued permits for 4,053 truck tires, 2,283 trucks recaps, 2,820 truck tubes and 1,890 tires for farm equipment.

A total of 339 passenger cars were rationed during the two months, he said.

BUTTON, BUTTON, WHO HAS IT?

Tracy.—At least 2800 of them are in Miss Hulda Johnson's collection. In 1941 Miss Johnson chose for a hobby button collecting and today she has a display in her home well worth anyone's time to observe. In the collection are buttons made of glass, shell, horn, jet, wood, leather, some handsomely engraved, embossed and bejewelled. Many of them modern but also a goodly number used in our grandmothers' and great-grandmothers' days. The buttons are being sewed on burlap in attractive arrangement and Miss Johnson plans to keep historical records of many of them.

OPA REDUCES PRICES ON PROCESSED HAMS

One to three cents a pound have been trimmed from the maximum prices that may be charged by the butcher or grocer for processed hams. 112 GRADUATES GET DIPLOMAS FRIDAY NIGHT

Audience Exceeds Capacity of Lincoln High School Auditorium

MORRIS BYE, RETIRING SCHOOL CHIEF, SPEAKS

112 Seniors Given Diplomas; Special Awards Are Conferred

An audience that overflowed the accommodations of the spacious Lincoln high school auditorium attended Lincoln school commencement exercises Friday evening, and heard a stimulating address by Morris Bye, retiring superintendent, on the subject, "The Challenge of the Future".

Mr. Bye stated that during his twenty years of service here he had participated in the graduation of a total of 2205 seniors and 329 teacher training students.

The first challenge faced by the graduates, he said, is the winning of the war in order to insure the privilege of developing the intelligence and spirituality required to achive the four freedoms.

Following the war, said Mr. Bye, they will face the tremendous problem of rehabilitating the nation from the dislocations and ravages of war. A proper solution, he stated in closing, will result in a better world than we have yet seen.

At the close of the program the American Legion citizenship award was presented to Robert C. Wright by W. E. Dahlquist in behalf of the local Legion post, while the corresponding Legion auxiliary award was conferred on Jean Senstad, valedictorian of her class, by Mrs. G. L. Biddick.

The McGinn memorial plaque for athletic and scholastic ability was presented by Mr. Bye to Donald Michalsky, while the science award was conferred on Edward Peterson.

W. G. Claffy, principal, who presided over the exercises, presented the 112 graduates to Dr. A. F. Jacobson, president of the board of education. Before conferring the diplomas, Dr. Jacobson paid tribute to Mr. Bye for his major contribution to the educational development of this community.

Mrs. Mae M. Smith, head of the teacher training department, presented 14 candidates for teacher certificates, which were conferred by Mr. Bye.

The program opened with the processional march played by the Lincoln high school band, directed by Donald F. Rogers. Lucille Douville gave the salutatory, while Jean Senstad supplied the valedictory. Groups of vocal selections were given by the boys' octet and the high school mixed chorus, directed by Miss Grace Omundson.

DEADLINE TODAY FOR RATION BOOK 3 APPLICATIONS

Forms Must be Filled out Accurately in Order to Avoid Delay

Office of Price Administration officials cautioned householders that today, June 10, is the deadline for mailing in their War Ration Book Three applications.

Each application form will carry applications for one individual or all the members of a family. Members of a family are described as persons related by blood, marriage or adoption. Hired men on a farm or maids or roomers must make out separate applications.

All names should be printed in ink. The person making out the application should sign his name at the bottom. The stub at the top should be torn off and kept by the applicant. It's a receipt.

Anyone who hasn't received an application form should get one right away from the mail carrier or postoffice and fill it out. The card requires a three-cent stamp.

Persons who make mistakes in filling out the form will get them back. That will bring about a delay in delivery of the books, OPA officials said. Persons who do not receive their books must take the stub to their local ration board for proceedings to get the books.

COUNCIL HOLDS JUNE MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Fails to Approve Proposed Ordinance Regulating Nuisances

HEARING PLANNED ON JOB ON ATLANTIC AV.

Applications for $6,500 in Building Permits Are Received

The proposed nuisance ordinance, after being given its third and final reading at the June session of the city council Tuesday evening, failed to receive approval and was voted down.

Aldermen expressed the view that the ordinance as drawn did not cover certain situations that needed correction, and that other sections dealt with matters covered in existing measures. It was indicated that further action in this direction will be deferred until City Attorney Theodore Quale has completed the work of codifying all city ordinances.

The council took action to arrange for a hearing to be held within the next few weeks on the matter of widening Atlantic av. from Second to Third sts., recently petitioned for by affected property owners. City Engineer I. E. Quist was instructed to prepare plans and cost estimates on making the street either 58 or 62 feet wide.

Following the resignation of Nels Fontaine, recently appointed garbage collector, the job was turned over to Delman Cote at the same rate of pay.

The council voted to place the much discussed dog situation in the city in the hands of the police department, with instructions to check up on ownership of the canines as well as licenses.

At the request of Chief Leonard Hanson the fire department was voted an appropriation of $200 to cover expenses of members in connection with attendance at the state firemen's convention and four regional fire schools being held during the current year.

Ten applications for building permits aggregating more than $6,500 were read. Pending a study of the site, approval was withheld on a permit to the Paterson-Biddick company to erect an office structure adjoining its plant on Atlantic av. at an estimated cost of $4,000. The Oen Mercantile company was authorized to erect a coal shed on the Soo Line right-of-way at a cost of $1,500. Other applications were for minor repair jobs.

The council approved the reappointment to the Carnegie library board of three present members, including A. F. Berge, Clarence W. Pope and Otis Wold.

Playground Projects to Get Under Way Tonight

The 1943 summer recreation program will get under way officially tonight at East side park. All boys interested in playing American Legion junior baseball are requested to meet at the park diamond at 7 o'clock tonight. At that time a registration will be taken and practice hours established. With several of the regulars from other years now over the 17 year age limit or having left the community, many positions will be vacant and it is hoped that there will be a large turnout of new candidates.

Questionnaires submitted to grade, junior high and some high school students indicate that there is almost 100% interest in swimming. Because of this interest and the fact that the swimming pool will be the natural gathering place for most of the boys and girls, it is planned to establish recreation headquarters at Tindolph park. A tent or building will serve as headquarters for the directors, as a storage place for equipment and will contain a bulletin board to advise participants of the daily and weekly schedule of games and tournaments.

The questionnaires also revealed other interests than swimming. The girls expressed most interest in hiking, tennis, kittenball, archery and basketball in the order named. The boys chose kittenball, basketball, baseball, hikes and touch football. Also smaller numbers expressed interest in track, tumbling, volleyball, horseshoes, soccer, handicraft and other events.

Friday night a meeting has been called for eight o'clock at the Arena, for all interested in forming or participating in a city kittenball league.

In addition to swimming, such activities as croquet, table tennis, physical fitness, horseshoes and perhaps miniature golf will be available at Tindolph park. Such activities as kittenball, basketball, baseball and tennis will be at East Side park.

Aside from the organization of the junior Legion baseball team and the senior kittenball league, the first activities to get under way will be swimming, a tennis tournament, and, if enough boys show interest, a junior kittenball league. It is hoped to have the Tindolph headquarters ready by next Monday so that all people interested may register for the activities they wish to participate in.

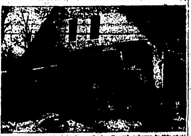
Before It Met the Allies



A Nazi Mark VI tank is shown plowing through a house in this photo from a German propaganda magazine. This is one of the very few good pictures of this tank to reach America. Most of the other pictures show the tank after it has tangled with Allied equipment, been knocked out of action, damaged, and captured. Note here that its long high velocity gun is turned back over its tail to avoid injury.

Any Excuse You Can Find For Not Upping Your Bond Buying Will Please Hitler

HEADS YOU WIN

The guest was being shown to his bed in the haunted room by his host's faithful, but rather sinister-looking, retainer.

At the door of the room they paused.

"B-b-by the way," said the guest, "has anything—er—unusual ever happened in connection with this room?"

"Not for over 50 years, sir," said the servant hollowly.

"And what happened then?" asked the guest, with a sigh of relief.

"A gentleman who spent the night here appeared at breakfast the next morning," came the reply.

Not Having Any

After examining his patient, a widow, the doctor smiled gently.

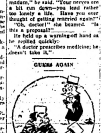
"There's nothing wrong with you, madam," he said. "Your nerves are a bit run down—you lead rather too lonely a life. Have you ever thought of getting married again?"

"Oh, doctor!" she beamed. "Is this a proposal?"

He held up a warning-off hand as he replied quickly:

"A doctor prescribes medicine; he doesn't take it."

GUESS AGAIN



"You have been tried by adversity, my friend?"

"You're wrong in the name, mister. It was Judge Green."

Old Haunts

"Oh, doctor," cried a wild-eyed man, "I'm dreadfully afflicted. The ghosts of my departed relatives come and perch on the tops of the fenceposts all round my garden when dusk is falling. I can look out into the gloaming any evening and see a couple of dozen spooks sitting on top of the posts, waiting, waiting, waiting! What shall I do?"

"Sharpen the tops of the posts."

Happy Is She

As she waited for the car which would take her to the church the bride heaved a sigh of satisfaction.

"Darling, I feel so happy," she said to her bridesmaid. "Today I'm marrying the man I want."

"Believe you me, my dear," said the worldly wise bridesmaid, "to be perfectly happy a woman ought to marry the man somebody else wants."

Puff-Puff

The fat man was all bent over, struggling with something, and the curious old lady was watching him intently.

"Oh, so you're tying your shoe," she said sweetly.

Red in the face, he looked up in disgust.

"No, lady," he snorted, "I'm practicing Boy Scout knots."

Invention of Gunpowder Still Remains a Mystery

There is a large place reserved in world history for the man who invented gunpowder—but no historian can be certain of this inventor's identity.

Perhaps no chemical invention or discovery has affected the course of history to a greater degree than has gunpowder. Dr. Ralph E. Oesper, associate professor of analytical chemistry at the University of Cincinnati, has been making a study of its origin.

Dr. Oesper said that Berthold Schwarz, a German monk, and Friar Roger Bacon have been associated with the invention, although the Bacon claim has been upheld solely in England.

His studies have led Dr. Oesper to the conclusion that Schwarz—if he really existed at all—invented firearms about 1350 at Freiburg, Germany.

"No contemporary documents or accounts dealing with Schwarz are known and those who contend that he never existed may be correct, but at least tradition, which usually has an historical basis, justified the monument to his memory in Freiburg," Dr. Oesper explains.

The earliest version, taken from a Freiburg manuscript of 1432, has Schwarz seeking a tincture for gilding metals, mixing saltpeter, sulphur, lead, and oil in a tight copper pot, and prompted by the resultant explosion to experiment further.

"Why are there no contemporary records?" Dr. Oesper asked. "If Berthold Schwarz is a purely legendary inventor, the answer is obvious. However, history may have taken no interest in his doings because guns were said to be execrable inventions and their employment was decried as destructive to manly valor and unworthy of an honorable warrior.

"Schwarz was reputed to have compounded powder with Satan's blessing, and the clergy preached that as a co-worker of the evil one, he was a renegade to his profession and his name should be forgotten."

There was no reference to the Chinese claim to the invention of gunpowder in Dr. Oesper's report.

92-Year-Old Woman Becomes U. S. Citizen

Mrs. Sarah C. Griffith, 92 years old, the oldest person on the records of the Detroit Naturalization office, became a United States citizen recently. Her birthplace is Adelaide, Ont.

Mrs. Griffith thought she became a citizen years ago, because of her husband's service in the Union army in the Civil war.

"I couldn't find his army discharge papers or anything else to prove that he served in the war," she said. "So I just decided to become a citizen anyway, in the regular way."

Mrs. Griffith first came to the United States at the age of 14, lived here 10 years, then returned to Canada. Her husband, James, also a Canadian, served in the Civil war, then returned to Canada and married.

The couple returned to the United States in 1917, and have lived here since, part of the time in Port Huron and part in Detroit. The husband died several years ago. There are three children living in Canada and one son with Mrs. Griffith in Detroit.

Child Food Training

The most important factor in assuring good nutrition for children is the knowledge of how to select the proper kinds of food and how to encourage good food habits. Children begin to form food habits soon after they are born. Parents can see to it that these early food habits are good ones that will stand by the children for the rest of their lives. Good appetite is a big help in forming good food habits. Children who have enough sleep and who do not go to meals overtired, who play actively—preferably in the open air—and who have good meals at regular hours under pleasant conditions are likely to have good appetites. Eating between meals can become a bad habit that spoils the appetite for regular meals.

By substituting paper-board boxes the folding box industry in 1942 saved 215 million pounds of critical metals, 8 million board feet of lumber, 750,000 pounds of glass, 220,000 pounds of cellophane, 36,000 pounds of plioflim, and 12,000 pounds of rubber.

MAXIMUM PRICE SET FOR FLAX IN N. W. AREA

A maximum price of $3.05 a bushel at Minneapolis, Duluth, Mankato and Red Wing, Minn., has been set by the OPA for sales and deliveries of flaxseed. Excluded from the order is flaxseed for planting a 1944 crop or for medicinal and food purposes. Ceiling prices, excluding dockage at the terminal points, were set to halt price increases that threatened to become inflationary, OPA said. Minneapolis and Duluth are the principal markets for flaxseed in the United States.

7 Tons of Supplies Needed for Each Soldier

It takes approximately seven tons of equipment to supply each man the Army has put into our far-flung fields of action, the U. S. Merchant Marine reports.

Thus for each 100,000 men we have on foreign battlefields, the Merchant Marine is responsible for the job of transporting 700,000 tons of supplies. It is, therefore, apparent that every available ship must make as many trips as possible during this year.

To make sure that no delays are caused by lack of crews and engineers to man the ships, the Merchant Marine is trying to get former licensed officers to return to the sea. Report to U. S. Employment Service offices nearest to you, the editor of this newspaper will be glad to help you.

RED CROSS NEWS NOTES
By Mrs. Millard Peterson
Publicity Chairman

On Monday afternoon of this week there were thirty five ladies working in the surgical dressing room, twenty nine of whom were Trinity church members. Circles one, two and three worked while Circle one served a ten cent lunch. Next Monday will find Circles 4, 5 and 6 helping out and a ten cent lunch will also be served.

We have a more complete schedule this week as more churches have been contacted. It is as follows: Monday afternoons, Trinity Lutheran church; Monday evenings, L.D.R. and other young people. Only 7 workers besides instructors worked Monday evening. Will high school students, working girls and other young people help out? Tuesday afternoons, Lutheran Free church and Community church; Wednesday afternoons, no definite church, although the Evangelistic Free, the Mission Covenant and the First Baptist churches have stated they will work on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. Thursday afternoons, St. Bernard's church; Thursday evenings, St. John's Lutheran church; Friday afternoons, First Lutheran church.

As stated before any one else wishing to work on any day they desire are privileged to do so. Lunch is being served on Monday afternoons, Thursday afternoons and evenings for only ten cents. It has been greatly appreciated that more ladies have turned out for surgical dressings so please keep up the good work. Remember 25,200 dressings is a month's quota and it takes many workers to reach this amount.

There is still yarn for sweaters and helmets to be gotten from Mrs. McLaughlin.

A "Learn to Swim" campaign with free lessons sponsored by the Pennington county chapter of the Red Cross has been scheduled for Tindolph park and bathing beach with Quentin Jones, a certified Red Cross instructor, as instructor. Classes begin Monday, June 14th. Here is the schedule of instruction: Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week—9 A. M., beginners class, 10 A. M., intermediate, 11 A. M., swimmers, 2 P. M., junior life saving class, 3 P. M., advanced swimming class, 7 P. M., adult swimming class, 7:30 P. M., armed forces swimming class.

It is important that all who will be inducted into the armed forces during the coming year will take instruction as it has been found that only about fifteen per cent of the inductees know how to swim. Here is an opportunity to take advantage of free instruction by a certified instructor.

Tuesday and Thursday of each week: 9 A. M., individual instruction. 10 A. M., diving. 11 A. M., stunt swimming. 2 P. M., fancy diving. 3 P. M., ballet swimming.

Other activities such as tumbling and high bar will be part of the afternoon program.

Life guards will be on duty from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. every day except Sundays when they will be on duty from 2 P. M. to 9 P. M.

Quarter-Century Debate

William E. Gladstone carried on his parliamentary debate with his political rival, Benjamin Disraeli, for 24 years.

A single night raid of 1,000 bombers over the Rhineland calls for $375,000 worth of gasoline plus a million dollars for bombs dropped.

Auxiliary Notes
by Mrs. J. W. Stewart,
Publicity Chairman

June 14 is Flag Day and it has never meant more to all of us than it does in the year 1943. Today the stars and stripes are flying above our forces in Africa, Australia, and Europe. Today the stars and stripes guide the American Air Force in China and the American ships which sail the seven seas.

An American woman, Betsy Ross, made the American flag, and sewed into the 13 stars and 13 stripes the devotion which every true American felt for the struggling colonies which were fighting for freedom.

Everywhere today American men are defending the most beautiful flag in the world, our flag. At home American women should teach the children to reverence our flag. At home American women our flag and all that it stands for.

It is hoped that the stars and stripes will be exhibited in every American home on June 14. Let us hang them aloft as Paul Revere hung a lantern in the old North church tower in Boston in colonial days, so that the country folks would be "up and to arms." Let Old Glory float above our homes on June 14 as a symbol to the Axis that Americans will never rest until this war has been won by the U. S. and her allies.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Twenty-five scouts of Troops 47 and 60 are enjoying a week of camp life at Lake Bronson. The troops of Holt, Middle River and Newfolden are also encamped with them. The splendid railway service to Lake Bronson facilitated the transport of the boys last Saturday morning and the City Dairy ships them a daily supply of milk. They will return on Friday evening.

Scoutmaster Quentin Jones is serving as camp director, assisted by two life guards. Other personnel in the camp activities include Scoutmasters Quist of Thief River Falls, Peterson of Holt, Mueller of Newfolden, and Johnson of Middle River who are changing places during the week. Camp inspection was made by the executives of Lake Agassiz Council of Grand Forks. Roger Tunberg, Mervin Prestebak, Ralph Foster, and Burton Olson of Troop 60 are assisting the Junior Chamber in collecting money for the cigarette fund for overseas soldiers.

All scouts are requested to take part in the parade next Monday on Flag day. This is the 166th anniversary of the congressional action which made the Star Spangled Banner the flag of the United States of America.

John Lewis backed away just in time to avert a showdown fight with Uncle Sam. Coal is being mined again but the real question involved in this argument has not been decided. The miners apparently resumed work because John Lewis told them to and not because of orders issued from Washington. In other words John Lewis is still lord and master of an industry that is vital not only to our war effort but to our national existence and we will receive fuel only as it pleases John Lewis to let us have it. We do not presume to know whether or not there is justification for the demands of the miners. The administration has created a labor board to determine such questions and there is no reason to believe, judging by the record of past decisions, that this board is unfriendly to labor. But there is a question involved in this argument that is more important to the nation than miner's wages and coal prices. In time of war a labor leader has set himself up as superior to the government itself, defying the rules of procedure prescribed by a war administration, and conducting himself in a way, by overt act and attitude, as to demoralize the nation. The men who follow his banner should be excused much but the government should deal with John Lewis for what he is—a bad citizen with enough power to be considered dangerous.

Judging by the number of casualties already reported the North African campaign is the most important struggle of the war to date for our community. Many of the men from this territory must have been active in that important action. Corporal Vernon Warnecke, home for a visit while recovering from a wound sustained after experience in three battles, gives an interesting report on the drive that demoralized the Axis armies, confirming what had been told to us in the day-by-day stories that came out of that front. He says our boys are demonstrating their ability to both give it and take it and their morale is high. Hitler now knows that Uncle Sam has a large, well trained and well equipped army in the field and that knowledge is adding no end to his worries.

A part of the increased tax receipts reported by Treasurer Johnsrud is due to an increased levy but a part of it also is due to the increased ability of our taxpayers to lay dollars on the line. It would seem that now would be a good time for all taxing units to apply every available penny to debt retirement, especially the county which is still struggling along under a top-heavy debt burden of half a million dollars. Tax reduction is always greatly in demand but in times like these, with more difficult days certainly ahead of us, debt reduction is more important than tax reduction.

To former Forum subscribers we extend a cordial welcome to our family of Times readers. We will try to make our paper so dependable and interesting that you will gradually develop confidence in us. Being alone in the field will not mean any relaxation in our efforts to give you the best possible weekly news service. A one-newspaper service has definite advantages to a community. It makes possible a better newspaper and a more efficient advertising medium, and business men are in the minority as advertisers—we refer you to the classified page. Times circulation is now well over the 5,000 mark and we hope to increase that still more. All of which does not simplify our already difficult publication problems, but who doesn't have special problems these days and we are not going to cry about that. While the war is on we'll do the best we can, and try to be in a position, when the war ends, to give you the kind of a paper a good community deserves. We hope you'll like us.

A fine group of young men and women graduated from the High School Friday night under conditions that are not confronted by many graduating classes. The members of this class were not faced with the problem of finding work. Jobs in abundance were seeking them and all who desire employment are able to get attached to a payroll. They probably will face greater difficulties later on. When the war ends a lot of jobs will end too and for years there will be much shifting around as the nation readjusts itself to peacetime schedules. Those young people who now are fortunate enough to secure work at favorable wages will do well to keep in mind that time ahead when a few savings will come in handy.

Creamery operators from a large territory will assemble here this afternoon to consider the possibility of securing bigger returns from dairy cows by converting skim milk to a more valuable marketable form. Besides butterfat and buttermilk powder, skimmed milk power is an important by-product of whole milk and has permanent value as a food for human consumption. Some dairy communities use skimmed milk as hog feed but we are not a hog country. It seems reasonable to believe that a skimmed milk drying plant would add greatly to the income of the territory.

Old timers tell us they can remember away back when Springs were wetter than this one but in the days of our years we'll give it the doubtful honor of being the most discouraging. There have been years of low prices when farmers didn't care a hoot whether or not they put a crop in. This year, however, there is an incentive to farm and farmers have the will to work. Under the circumstances idle acres will represent a heavy loss.

Next week will bring the opening of the farm-scrap drive, an important piece of business in the civilian war effort. One thing that makes this chore less onerous than many of the things Uncle Sam asks us to do is the fact that this business can be transacted without coupons or affidavits. It's a job that must be done.

Chester Wilson, Minnesota's new Conservation Commissioner, will speak at the Auditorium tonight (Thursday) and for people who are interested in the problems of state government he is worth listening to.

Taking Time to Watch

An unusual thing happened the other day out on the street near my house. A group of workmen were making repairs of some sort. They had dug a hole into the street, and some of them were prying up stones around the streetcar tracks. There was a good deal of noisy activity.

"Unusual?" you say. But this is not the point. The unusual part of it all was taking place on the sidewalk.

A mother was standing there with her little boy, just watching. Furthermore, her arms were laden with heavy bags of groceries. Yet there she was, taking time to stop with the boy and let him look his fill and ask his questions. "Perhaps there's something wrong with the sewer pipe," I heard her say.

How common it is to see hurried, preoccupied parents dragging their children past such intriguing scenes—while the youngsters hold back and beg to stay and watch a while and find out what it is all about.

We adults have forgotten how fascinating this work of the world is to young children, particularly when they are noisy, moving machines involved. Our curiosity, too, has become dulled, and we have forgotten the eagerness with which children seek to find out how, and why everything works.

If we only stopped to realize it, we would know that we are missing an important educational opportunity when we hurry our children past these sights and sounds in which they are so interested.

Perhaps it does not really matter a great deal that Jimmy learn why the men are repairing a given street. The fact in itself may not be so important. What is important is Jimmy's drive to find out.

Schools are recognizing more and more that this impulse young children have to find out how things work and to play out their discoveries should be utilized for its educational implications. That is why primary school curriculums are providing increasing opportunities for children not only to get out into their communities and explore them at first hand, but to rebuild and relive these experiences when they come back to the classroom. There is no better way to put fuel on the learning drive, or to sharpen the find-out attitude.

Here's to that mother with the heavy grocery bags!

BROOD SOW MAKES FARROWING RECORD

Redwood. — Peach Blossom, a purebred Hampshire sow owned by T. S. Balke, has achieved one of the highest honors which can come to a brood sow. She farrowed ten spring pigs and raised ten of them to the remarkable 56 day weight of 350.16 pounds for the litter. The average brood sow in the United States raises six pigs to the 56 day litter with a weight of 167 pounds.

Getting the Most from your

THIN THE GARDEN ROW

One of the best ways to thin the Victory Garden row is not to plant seeds too thickly! Sounds like a paradox, but it comes from experienced seedsmen in the largest seed firm in the world.

Carrot seeds are very small, and it is sometimes difficult to sow thinly enough so that the young plants do not crowd each other. In that case, according to Ferry-Morse Seed Co. specialists thin them to stand about one inch apart, grasping each plant near the base and pulling gently so that the tops will not break off.

Unless they come up extremely thick, young radishes and green onions can be thinned by using them. The shape of the roots will be better, however, if the plants stand about an inch apart while still very small.

Many persons do not know that each lumpy little pellet known as a "beet seed" is often two to four seeds and may produce more than one plant. For that reason they should be sown at least 1½ to 2 inches apart. When the plants are four to five inches tall, every other one can be pulled for greens. If this is done at intervals, while tops and roots are small, space will gradually be left for some of the roots to reach good size.

Sowing leaf lettuce seed sparsely always helps to eliminate the extra work of thinning the plants later. Even when fairly thick, some gardeners prefer to cut the larger, outer leaves instead of thinning, leaving the inner ones to grow. If you desire to use each lettuce plant intact, thin to about two inches apart when small. Then as they become big enough to use, pull up alternate plants, leaving the others to grow.

Bush beans should be planted two to four inches apart, and just enough seedlings removed from the row so that the remaining ones stand four to five inches apart. Beans usually produce more prolifically when the plants do not crowd each other.

Early turnips do better and grow more speedily to table size if they are each given three or four inches in which to spread. It is important to help turnips grow to eating size quickly.

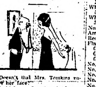
Education

"Frank told me last night that I was the prettiest girl he'd ever seen."

"Oh, that's nothing, he said the same to me a year ago."

"I know that, but as one grows older one's taste improves, you know."

GYMNASTIC



"Doesn't that Mrs. Tomkins enamel her face?"

"I think so. I notice she has to leave the room when she wants to change her expression."

Truism

The man whose cash was swept away
Was but a gambler, we are told.
While he who won, the thoughtless say,
Was an investor, shrewd and bold.

Theatrical Star—Yes. I have had to make good to the government on the salary my manager mentions in advertising.

REGULATIONS ON MEN'S RUBBER BOOTS SIMPLIFIED

Rationing regulations governing men's rubber boots and rubber work shoes have been simplified by the OPA. The purpose of the regulations remain the same—to ration this type of footwear to persons who need them for essential jobs. At the same time, the OPA said it is making the snug-fitting rubber pacs and bootees over 10 inches high available to miners, loggers, communications linemen, construction workers, oil drillers, quarry workers and clay extractors.

Free the Seas

Before we win the first battle with Hitler's Nazis all navy men are agreed we must win the Battle of the Atlantic; that is to free the sea lanes of the German U-boats. A year ago we were building 34 cruisers and nearly 200 destroyers or just about enough for a two ocean navy.

Now we have come to realize that this will be too little, "winner take all," and our Government is building a five ocean navy. That is why we are being asked to increase our subscriptions for War Bonds. That is why we must do it.

In Memoriam

In memory of a beloved son and brother Fredin Rupprecht:
Three sad years this seventh day of June has passed
How well do we remember that sad day,
When God had called you away.
A deep, fresh wound cuts into our soul.
Dear God, we see not through the cloudy mist
Nor realize the path betwixt
The living and the dead.
But if Thy will is such as this
We shall not mourn his passing years,
But rather pray our lives are lived
That we some day may taste the bliss of God's eternal day.

Sadly missed by his mother, Mrs. Christ Nelson, brothers and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Russell, Mr. and Mrs. George Poppenhagen, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Iverson, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rupprecht, Mr. and Mrs. William Rupprecht, Carl Edmond and Raymond Rupprecht. 23p

June Is Critical Month for Farm Scrap Drive

June is the critical month in the farm scrap program now under way in North and South Dakota and Minnesota, Norman S. Olson, regional WPB salvage manager, says that declining stockpiles of steel mills make it imperative that at least 1,000 pounds of iron and steel scrap from each farm be started on its way toward war production channels this month. Handicapped by the late spring which kept farmers in the fields and more recently by spring rains, the salvaging of obsolete machinery from the farms has lagged far behind the three-state Northwest goals, Olson said. "Only through immediate intensification of the combined efforts of county committees, cooperating businessmen and laborers and farmers can the job at hand be accomplished" he stated.

CATTLE ROAMS CITY STREETS

Clara City. — The steers Joe Klosterboer of Raymond trucked to South St. Paul a week or so ago must have known they were 'heading for the last round-up.' Leaving Willmar with a total of 25 steers in his truck Joe was wholely amazed to find himself arriving in South St. Paul with but two of them. Had the black market swallowed them in the darkness of the night, or what? Joe scratched his head and tried to figure it out. Surely the police could assist him. And they sure did. In fact, he found two twin city patrolmen were just about at their wit's end trying to herd cattle on a city street about two o'clock in the morning. After summoning additional squad cars and a couple hours chase the animals were finally herded together and presented to Mr. Klosterboer, who can't figure how they could jump from a moving truck and still put up the chase they did about the city streets.

Golf

The thirty or so golfers that participated in the medal play golf tournament on Sunday was a surprisingly fine turnout, considerering the tardy and rain-soaked spring that we've had and which has dampened local golfing interest. Encouraged by Sunday's results the tournament committee is completing plans for other tourneys.

And there was no part of an upset in the net 70 score that Rev. A. I. Merth fashioned Sunday and which score won first prize. The fact is that Father Merth has been playing exceptionally strong golf this spring and the boys don't know whether it is because he's wearing "spikes", or because he's gotten his swing into a groove. But they do know that he isn't a "soft" touch anymore, and that the handicapping committee had better slice some strokes off his handicap.

Oscar Cerny, adhering to his "hit 'em from the inside out"—and he doesn't mean from in-bounds to out-of-bounds—had rounds of 50-55 for a 105 actual, and with a 24-stroke handicap, had a net 81. Not bad. Floyd Daniels, the man with the "broken back", had a card of 45-47 and a net 80, and played like the man the first flight boys will have to beat.

No Fishing

Clarence "Busher" Hallstrom is in receipt of a letter from Tom White, agent at the Indian Agency, advising him that fishing, for nonresidents, is forbidden on the Red Lake Indian reservation. Bush had a hunting permit last fall, for which he paid a dollar and which allowed him to hunt on the reservation with an Indian guide, and he thought perhaps a like permit could be obtained for fishing and so remitted a dollar to the agency; but the letter from White ended that plan.

It's too bad, though, that some arrangement's couldn't be made so that we, on the west of Red Lake, could fish at the Narrows. That drive around the lake to Waskish is pretty tiresome, and more time is spent on the road than on the lake. The Indians themselves could operate a resort at the Narrows, building a dock, sell minnows, and have a number of boats for hire, and they would probably make a neat profit. And the fish that would be caught by the hook-and-line fisherman wouldn't make much of a dent in the Indians' commercial-fish-netting returns.

The Three Captains

The final splurge of Prowler athletics for the 1942-43 season was the election, by lettermen, of captains in football, basketball, and track for the 1943-44 season. Norman Furuseth, the stock rough-house guard, was honored by his team-mates with the captaincy of the Prowler football team, succeeding Don "Pete" Michalsky. Billy McKechnie, the Prowlers watch-charm forward, was elected basketball captain. And what a contrast in captains the Prowlers will have next year, with the diminutive Bill following the lanky Jack Melby. And the trackmen named Burdell Merritt, the district's hurdles champion, as their captain. The lettermen, I think, did real well in their selections of captains for next year, and I don't think that the coaches, if they had hand-picked the captains, could have done better.

Miscellany

Johnny Hovanac, who will be remembered as having pitched ball for Plummer a couple of years ago, is playing baseball for Superior in the Twin Ports league, a Class F circuit. Hovanac has been attending Gustavus and was chosen on the college all-state baseball team this year, being named as utility player.—That Marvin Brandt that drowned in the Red Lake river near Crookston on Sunday, was a member of the Pirates football and basketball teams in 1941-43.

BOND BUYING ON BASIS OF 25 PER CENT URGED

Twenty-five cents of every dollar earned by the average American family must be invested in War bonds by the end of this year if the nation is to meet the 18 billion dollar goal set by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr. Seven-eights of all the current available individual savings will come from workers earning between $1,000 and $5,000, he said, adding that 25 cents of each dollar "is not to much to expect".

DESTROY OLD RATION STAMPS, WOMEN URGED

As partners in the government's drive to stamp out black markets in food, Northwest housewives are being urged to destroy all expired red or blue ration stamps. The office of price administration reports that some storekeepers have asked their customers for expired stamps, and in turn have used them to buy more food from wholesalers. Because foods bought at wholesale with such stamps can be sold at retail without points, every expired stamp that isn't destroyed is a potential contribution to an illegal market.

NO MORE WHEAT WILL BE SOLD FOR FEED, AAA ORDERS

Says 900,000,000 Bushels Have Disappeared from Domestic Supply

About 900 million bushels of wheat has disappeared from the 1942-43 domestic supply of 1.6 billion bushels, Charles W. Stickney, Minnesota USDA war board chairman, said today in announcing that no further wheat would be sold for feed except to take care of emergency situations.

"Orders for feed wheat have been received in greater volume recently than it has been possible to make shipments," he said. "As a result, all orders received prior to May 31 will be shipped. Farmers may still obtain some feed wheat through dealers and county AAA committees to whom sales or shipments of feed wheat have already been made for resale to farmers.

"In cases where the state USDA war board determines the wheat is needed to continue feeding of livestock during June, wheat for those cases will be made available," Mr. Stickney said.

He said the additional allotment of 100 million bushels made available by Congress on March 26 for sale to farmers for feed at 100 per cent of corn parity has been sold at the rate of 1.5 million bushels a day since.

Of the total disapp-arance of 900 million bushels from the 1942-43 domestic supply, about one-third has been consumed as livestock feed and in the production of industrial alcohol and other products. The 1943-44 supply has been tentatively estimated at 1.3 billion bushels, consisting of an expected 1943 crop of 700 million bushels plus a July 1, 1943, carry-over of 600 million. Disappearance in 1943-44 of the same total as in 1942-43 would leave a carry-over of about 300 million bushels on July 1, 1944.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN MAY REDUCED 55 PCT. FROM '42

Only 18 Minnesota Citizens Lost Lives During the Past Month

Minnesota's drastic reduction in traffic fatalities, so marked as to have attracted nationwide attention ever since the first of the year, continued through May with a saving of more than half the number of lives lost in streets and highway accidents during the same month a year ago.

James L. Markham, Hopkins publisher and chairman of the Minnesota Editorial association's traffic accident reduction committee, this week announced that only 18 persons met death in traffic accidents in the state last month as compared to 40 during May of 1942 and 53 during that month of 1941. This was 55% below the month's traffic death toll for last year and only one-third the number killed in May of 1941.

Eleven of the victims were killed in accidents on rural roads and six on urban streets.

The figures and statistics were supplied by the Minnesota highway department, which, with the Minnesota safety council, has cooperated with the editors' safety drive from its inception in the fall of 1939. They are unofficial but include every accident reported in the state.

Including May, traffic accident reports to the highway department show that during the first five months of the present year there have been 83 fatalities as compared with 202 during the same period of last year, or a decrease of almost 60 per cent. To put it in terms of men, women and children rather than cold figures, it means that while 83 still were killed, 119 lives were saved.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS CATCH UP WITH SOLDIER IN MAY

Ortonville—Completely exhausted and ready for a good long rest, Santa Claus arrived in town last week just five months late. Successfully dodging enemy submarines, airplanes and gunfire on a 9,500 mile trip before finally delivering Christmas gifts to Sergeant Robert Bogenreif had been quite a task. Three packages mailed long before Christmas had traveled across the Atlantic to England, down through the Mediterranean and to Algeria in North Africa, and finally back to Ortonville.

America Salutes Food Producers

He Also Serves
THIS IS DAIRY MONTH

NO inspiring bands and no glamour of uniforms and decorations cheer these unsung heroes of World War II. With patriotic determination dairymen toil long hours under serious handicaps of labor and material shortages to produce food so vital to the winning of the war.

Dairy foods are of front-rank importance in keeping fighters and workers fit, says the National Dairy Council. Food production is the nation's most critical problem. Fighters on the farm are as essential to the war effort as those in munition plants or on the firing line.

Pressure Cookers May Be Borrowed by Groups, Says War Board Chief

Pressure cookers formerly used by the WPA have been acquired by the food distribution administration and will be loaned to eligible sponsors of community food preservation programs, Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the Pennington county USDA war board, announced today.

Groups eligible to borrow the cookers are local home demonstration clubs or groups, local nutrition committees, parent-teacher associations, American Legion posts, church clubs, lodges, fraternal organizations, public schools, or other non-profit groups.

Mr. Anderson said the cookers would be used for community food preservation on a non-profit basis.

All applications for borrowing the cookers must be made with the local county USDA war board according to Mr. Anderson. An additional allocation of new equipment is now available for purchase by sponsors of community food preservation programs.

What About This Stuff, Dad?

Don't get me wrong, Dad. Getting home for a spell and finding things pretty much the way I left them is the greatest sight in the world. I've been in some strange places in the last year, but as far as I'm concerned there isn't a spot in the whole South Pacific that can hold a candle to the patch of God's green earth I'm standing on right now.

There's just one thing I didn't expect to see, Dad. It's this old scrap pile. Back in New Guinea when a new ack-ack gun or field piece rolled into position I used to think, Maybe Ma's old cast iron laundry stove is in that baby. Or my old music stand—the one you tossed out when you saw I wasn't cut out to be the world's greatest violinist!

Up town they tell me the Government has sent out another S.O.S. for more scrap. They say it's going to take every stray pound of scrap metal to fill the quota, and that's going to mean looking for it in every barn, tool shed, cellar, attic and kitchen cupboard in the country. Why, there's enough in this one pile alone to make mincemeat out of a dozen Zeros and a couple of subs to boot!

I know you're swamped, Dad, with no help and working every acre of the farm this year, but if you'd been where I've been and knew how badly this scrap is needed, you'd find some way to get it to town.

Do it pronto, Dad, before harvesting comes along, or bad weather sets in. Better yet, let's load this stuff today, Dad, and I'll drive it to town for you. We can sell it to the junk man, or donate it to the U.S.O., Red Cross, or one of the other organizations enlisted in the second scrap round-up.

My furlough's nearly up, Dad. Next week I'll be shipping out again . . . somewhere. Wherever it is I'll feel a lot better if I know part of my own backyard is following me across, backing me up with ammunition from this old scrap.

PHILLIPS REPORTS ON ITS WAR WORK
Excerpts from the Company's 25th Annual Report

For the miracle of U. S. war production, no one industry, organization, or man can claim credit. Teamwork is doing the job . . . and Phillips is only one of many hundreds of thousands of patriotic companies devoting their major effort to serving the war needs of the nation.

To get a true measure of U. S. war effort, multiply the record of Phillips Petroleum Company by the vast number of U. S. team members.

AVIATION FUEL

"The Company was one of the first, and remains one of the largest, manufacturers of high octane aviation fuels."

SYNTHETIC RUBBER

"Long before Pearl Harbor, the Company was engaged in the quantity production of butadiene, which is the basic component of synthetic rubber. In addition to being the first large-scale producer of synthetic rubber from petroleum raw materials, the Company's affiliate, Hycar Chemical Company, also made more synthetic rubber from butadiene during 1942 than any other manufacturer in the nation.

"The Company is now in the course of constructing one of the largest butadiene manufacturing plants in the entire Government program. . . . This plant has been designed exclusively by a staff of several hundred Company technical employees, using Phillips own patented processes."

CHEMICAL PROCESSES AND PRODUCTS

"During 1942, the Company's technical experts translated numerous laboratory and semi-commercial scale chemical operations into large-scale projects. Among the newer processes of chemical significance, either originated or improved by Company research, are polymerization, alkylation, dehydrogenation, hydrogenation, isomerization, catalytic cracking, isoversion, copper sweetening, catalytic desulfurization, and complex distillation. Some of the Company's more important chemical products are butadiene for synthetic rubber, intermediates for explosives, solvents, special types of carbon black, and numerous blending ingredients for super aviation fuels."

RESEARCH AND PATENTS

"Indicative of the year's research accomplishments, was the filing of 266 new patent applications and a substantial increase in patents issued, exclusive of nearly 100 pending applications which have been placed under secrecy restrictions preventing their issuance until after the war. . . .

"Phillips' patented processes have been made available by license to many other petroleum organizations."

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace . . . more welcome in war work

WAR plant managers will tell you that anything that contributes to contented workers makes better workers. In plant after plant it has been found that a rest-pause breaks monotony, lessens tiredness and tension.

When you add refreshment to a rest-pause, you not only have a pause that rests, but refreshes, too. A moment for ice-cold Coca-Cola makes a rest-pause take on more meaning . . . promoting contentment that leads to more work and better work. Yes, contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

Close work brings the need to pause. Ice-cold Coca-Cola brings tingling refreshment to make any pause the pause that refreshes.

Coca-Cola 5¢
The best is always the better buy!

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things . . . a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

WARN TRAFFIC OF FLOOD DANGER IN NUMEROUS AREAS

Highway 32 Was Impassable Last Week in the Ada Vicinity

Emergency warnings to motorists throughout the state were issued by the state highway department this week to safeguard travel against traffic hazards arising from high water conditions and suddenly occurring as a result of an unprecedented number of "flash" floods.

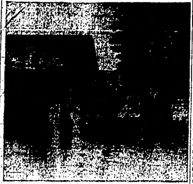
Not since the establishment of the highway department's present expanded road information service have there occurred, over so many and so widespread sections, the unusual number of cloudburst conditions which, without warning, have sent torrents of water racing across main highways in the various parts of the state.

Extraordinary rains of cloudburst intensity on several occasions have developed raging floods within a matter of a couple of hours. Coming as they do on top of this spring's excessive rainfall, filled sloughs and unusually high water generally, they have developed extreme hazards to traffic, sometimes before adequate warnings or flares could be posted, detours arranged or towing service provided.

Districts where flood conditions exist and have sent sudden torrents of water racing across highways are numerous. Trunk Highway 32 near Melrose was a foot and a half under water at one place last week. Another main trunk highway inundated is 61 near Sandstone. T. H. 65, and secondary T. H. 27 which ordinarily could have been used for a detour, both were submerged beneath racing waters 18 inches deep near McGrath, and the entire McGrath-Mora area was in flood condition, with water nearing the level of the shoulders in swampy areas north to and above McGregor.

In the Ada region T. H. 32 was impassable from T. H. 10 north to Twin Valley, except for sections open to local traffic, and the detour also was impassable. In the Appleton-Montevideo area, T. H. 40 was impassable in the Lac qui Parle River Valley between Milan and Madison and the entire section suffered from flood conditions. Other flood areas included a 25 to 30 mile radius about the city of Willmar where Trunk Highways 4 and 7 were impassable; the Swan River-Floodwood-Hill City region, and Cass Lake region, and in the vicinities of Menahga, Little Fork, Mahnomen, Waban to Itasca Park, and west of Cook where 20 inches of water made T. H. 1 impassable.

Army Engineers Rescue Flood Victims



When the White river in Arkansas broke its banks and flooded the adjacent country, United States army engineers came to the rescue. This photo shows an amphibious jeep driving up to a front porch to rescue a family of flooded-out residents. The top of a partially submerged automobile may be seen over the edge of the jeep.

"Hard to Get" Farm Items Easier to Buy

Northwest farmers, looking forward to an easing of shortages of critical farm supplies, filed simple statements with hardware, electrical supply and material dealers this week to obtain up to $25 worth of hard-to-get items. Based on priority applications previously filed with the Minneapolis regional office, farmers in Minnesota, North and South Dakota will ask mostly for batteries of all types, motor brushes, chains, copper wire, drills, grinders, hacksaws, jacks, motors, pipe, pipe fittings and welding rods. These are included in a list of over 160 critical items which WPB ordered manufacturers and distributors to make or set aside for the retail farm trade. To get the supplies which are now being placed in dealers' stocks, the farmer need only to sign a statement saying: "I certify to the War Production Board that I am a farmer and that the supplies covered by this order are needed now and will be used for the operation of a farm."

FARM RADIO BATTERY PRODUCION BOOSTED

There is good news for farmers in the report that production of radio batteries has been boosted to 425,000 a month. If the present rate of production can be maintained over a 12-month period, normal requirements for the 3,200,000 radios on the nation's farms will be met. Through the increased radio battery output, the War Production Board hopes to bring relief to farmers in non-electrified areas where lack of batteries has deprived them of daily war and food program news and entertainment.

Butter Prices Will be Rolled Back This Week

Housewives who have been paying the maximum price for a pound of butter will be able to buy it from five to six cents a pound cheaper after Thursday (June 10). The Office of Price Administration ordered a roll-back of ceiling prices with a minimum of financial loss to the dairy industry. Buyers of butterfat will get as much for their butter as before through a subsidy paid by the government and will be expected to continue to pay going prices to the farmer. Where grocery stores have been charging less than the ceiling prices, housewives probably will find butter only one, two or three cents cheaper or possibly no cheaper if the retailer chooses to charge the ceiling.

Employment of women in shipyards has more than tripled within the past year.

WAR FOOD AGENCY MODIFIES TERMS OF AAA PROGRAM

Eases Certain Restrictions Owing to Unfavorable Weather

To encourage maximum food production in the face of the weather handicaps of a late and wet spring, the War Food Administration today relaxed the provisions of the agricultural conservation program which prescribe deductions in AAA payments to farmers who fail to plant at least 90 per cent of their war crop goals.

The changes provide that in areas where hay and pasture goals have been established, and in the High Plains area of Texas and Oklahoma, the deductions will apply only to farms on which the county AAA committee decides that abnormal weather conditions have not interfered with achieving the farm's war crop goal. (Hay and pasture goals have been established in the north central and western AAA regions, and in other areas.) On other farms in those designated areas and on all farms throughout the rest of the county, the deductions no longer will apply.

WFA officials added that because of the late season it will be impossible to get as large an acreage of corn matured as was anticipated some weeks ago. Therefore, they are urging farmers in all areas to plant the emergency feed crops adapted to their conditions and needed to carry out their individual livestock programs. In the Great Plains states and especially in areas where drought conditions have prevailed, it is extremely important to plant as large an acreage as possible of grain sorghums and other feed crops, and at the same time to guard against practices which are likely to cause severe wind erosion.

Wherever practicable, officials said, acreages in excess of present goals should be planted to flax, soybeans, peanuts, dry beans and peas, potatoes, sugar beets, and canning crops.

GIANT DANDELION NEARLY 31 INCHES IN LENGTH

New Ulm. — While Herman Raab has a consuming penchant for raising flowers, the fact that he recently pulled a 30-inch dandelion out of his yard does not indicate that he has gone all out for dandelion culture. The long stem measured 29 inches and with the head the total length was 30½ inches.

Victory Model Sweep Rake to be Demonstrated Tuesday

Farmers who want to save time during the haying season may want to look over the newly designed victory model sweep rake which will be demonstrated in Thief River Falls at the fair grounds Tuesday, June 15, from 9 to 11 o'clock A. M. The demonstration has been arranged by County Agent Ernest Palmer. The rake, designed and built by John Strait and Norton Ives, University Farm agricultural engineers, is intended for use on a light farm tractor, a pickup truck or an old car stripped down for the purpose.

Almost entirely of wood, it can be built by a carpenter, blacksmith or farmer who is handy with tools. Materials are all available in a farm community. The rake will pick up and carry good sized loads at high speed. "Lifting Legs" which can be operated from the seat permit lowering teeth and lifting the load with the forward or backward motion of the truck or tractor.

The demonstration here is open to everyone. Lumbermen, blacksmiths, carpenters, and others interested in building the rakes for local sale are especially invited to attend. All farmers interested in looking over the sweep rake are urged to be there. The victory model rake is intended to speed up haying, save manhours, and do these things without requiring critical materials for construction. Blueprints are available.

Requirements Eased for U. S. Merchant Marine

Wholesale lowering of physical requirements and a raise in the top age limits for merchant marine volunteers interested in steward department training was announced today by the U. S. Maritime Service enrolling office, 109 Federal Court House, Minneapolis.

Fifty years of age is now the maximum for applicants interested in training as cooks, bakers or stewards. The minimum age is still 17 years and 6 months; the former maximum was 35 years and 6 months.

Waivers will now be granted for minor physical defects such as color blindness and defective vision, so long as the volunteer is in sound health and able to perform his duties at sea. Among the acceptable defects for example, are under and over-weight conditions, impaired hearing, stiff fingers or joints, and missing fingers.

Put every dollar above the necessities of life into War Bonds. Payroll Savings is the best means of doing your best in helping your sons and friends on the fighting fronts. Figure it out yourself.

Order Winter's Coal Now, Federal Agency Advises

"Order next winter's coal supply now as a safeguard against possible future shortages and transportation difficulties," is the suggestion of William H. Thompson, manager of the Fargo district office of Defense transportation.

By ordering coal during the summer, users not only will be assured of their winter's supply, but also will help to relieve any threatened peak problems which might be faced by coal operators and haulers, Mr. Thompson said.

Shortages of manpower and equipment face both the truckers and the railroads, and unless fuel is kept moving steadily throughout the summer, there is a danger of a coal shortage next winter.

SUCH HOARDERS!

Howard Lake—Hunting chicken-killing foxes a den with a veritable hoard of food was found on the E. J. Kain farm. Besides a mother fox and seven cubs, the farmers dug out of the den 25 chickens, several pheasants, an owl, a hawk, a muskrat, two toads, several gophers, a little pig and a weasel.

3 DROWN AS BOAT PASSES OVER DAM NEAR CROOKSTON

Employes of Theatre Lose Lives when Boat Motor Stops Running

Three employes of the Gopher theater at Crookston were drowned and the former manager struggled to safety when the motor on the boat in which they were riding on the Red Lake river eight miles east of Crookston failed and the boat hurtled over a dam. The tragedy occurred at 2:30 p. m. Monday.

The dead are:

Dorothy Storeby, 17, and her sister, Mrs. John Hopkins, 28, daughters of Mrs. Emma Storeby of Crookston; and Marvin Brandt, 21.

Sgt. Russell Sundet, 20, former manager of the theater, who is home on leave from an army camp at Tucson, Ariz., to visit his mother, Mrs. Nora Sundet, made an effort to save Brandt and then made his way to shore.

The fact that he was in good physical condition as a result of his army training was all that made it possible for him to keep from being swept under the surface of the swift-moving stream, witnesses said.

The four were on an outing with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Solberg, who were in another boat below the dam and who saw the tragedy.

When the four attempted to cross the river above the dam, the motor on their boat quit running and they were unable to start it again. As the swift current drew the boat near the dam, the two girls leaped into the water and were swept away. The two men stayed with the boat but it overturned as it went over the dam and they were dumped into the water.

Sundet tried to assist Brandt, who could not swim, but finally had to end his efforts. He was suffering from shock and exposure Monday night.

Soon after the tragedy occurred a search for the bodies of the three victims was stated by county and city authorities, aided by others who gathered at the scene, but up to Monday night none had been recovered.

Mrs. Hopkins is survived by her husband and a child.

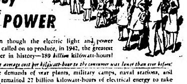
You Don't Have to Stand in Line . . .



To Buy ELECTRIC POWER

THAT'S TRUE, even though the electric light and power industry in America was called on to produce, in 1942, the greatest amount of electric power in history—189 billion kilowatt-hours!

And at the same time the average cost per kilowatt-hour to the consumer was lower than ever before!

Not only were all the demands of war plants, military camps, naval stations, and arsenals met—but there remained 27 billion kilowatt-hours of electrical energy to take care of the needs of shops and stores, 30 billion for homes, 13 billion for public transportation, street lighting, and other uses.

These are some of the accomplishments of the electric light and power industry and of the electrical manufacturers who build the equipment used to generate, distribute, and utilize electricity—working together with the teamwork so typically American.

How We Helped

POWER GENERATION. More than one half of all the electric power generated by electric light and power companies in the U. S. is produced by generators manufactured by General Electric.

And such has been the improvement in the efficiencies of turbine-driven generators that if the electric power used in 1942 had been produced with the machines of 1924, it would have required more than a million extra cars of coal and one hundred and forty thousand men just to mine and haul this extra coal.

POWER DISTRIBUTION. To have ample power available wherever new war plants have sprung up requires large and highly efficient transforming and switching equipment and the solution of highly intricate engineering problems. General Electric has had a hand, and a head, in the development and manufacture of much of this equipment.

POWER UTILIZATION. Building machines, lamps, and appliances that put electricity to work more efficiently in factories and homes is one of our most important jobs. The United States has more of these electrical helpers than any other nation. In 1942, the average home used twice as much electricity as in 1930, and in those 12 years the average price per kilowatt-hour decreased 40%.

This is only a small part of the story of America's electrical industry. When the full story becomes history with the passing of the years, it will reveal a group of men who, with a determination which now seems providential, kept on—co-operatively developing new and better equipment, increasing generating capacity, lowering costs, expanding service, planning always to be ready for the demands of the future. It will be a story of remarkable vision and courage—for it all had to be planned, and the work started, years ahead of the need.

The next time you meet a man from your electric service company, be he the local manager, or meter reader, or spotted lineman carrying out his assignment in rain, sleet, or heavy winds, give him a word of encouragement—for he is the man who is making it unnecessary for you to stand in line for electric power. SCRAP RUBBER DRIVE ENDS OTHERS PUSHED

Regional WPB salvage officials have written a temporary "finis" to scrap rubber collections in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, but are intensifying all other scrap drives in the three Northwest states. Rubber in the present stockpiles will be purchased and shipped as rapidly as it can be used by the reclaiming plants. Strong emphasis is being laid on the collection of heavy iron and steel from farms. Organized on a county-by-county basis, the salvage program is shooting for an average of 1,000 pounds of scrap from each farm. The urgent need for tin cans, silk stockings and waste fats has not diminished.

Laying three eggs in a row that weighed three and one-half ounces each was too much as her demise occured shortly afterward. Normal eggs weigh just under two ounces so she really did a job.

Rural Scrap Drive Will be Completed June 30

New Superintendent

PHILIP L. FJELSTED

Superintendent of schools at Wadena the past seven years, who this week accepted the post of superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools.

With scrap metal coming in at a steady rate during the past ten days, Pennington county to date has supplied 225 tons of the 500-ton quota it has been called on to contribute to the war effort by the end of June, it was announced this week, by F. E. Hageman chairman of a group of implement men who are cooperating with the county salvage committee.

Mr. Hageman stated, that with the campaign completed in the city of Thief River Falls, the committee is relying on the rural sections of the county to supply the remaining 275 tons necessary to put the county over the top.

He added that farmers having special problems or unusually large amounts of scrap metal to handle may get in touch with the campaign supervisor in their district. Following are their names:

Helmer Lunke, Numedal, Bray and Polk Centre; Chris Rinkel, Norden, Sanders and Black River; Philip Hawkins, North, Rocksbury and River Falls; C. D. Gustafson, Silverton, Smiley and Wyandotte; O. E. Taxerass, Goodridge, Cloverleaf and Reiner; F. E. Tunberg, Kratka, Highlanding and Star; and F. E. Hageman, Deer Park, Mayfield and Hickory.

An attractive, three-color award will be given to each farmer in Minnesota who cleans up all of his iron and steel scrap during the current campaign, it was announced today by Norman S. Olson, regional manager of the War Production Board's salvage division.

Supplies of the card awards are being mailed to county committee chairmen to be presented to the farmer when all of the scrap on his premises has been moved to the local collection centers.

"General salvage committees are being instructed to make the awards only to those farms that clean up 100 per cent of their scrap," Olson said. "The objective of this campaign and the award is to get all the scrap from each farm and not just part of it."

He urged farmers receiving the award to post them as close to the adjoining highways as possible so that everyone can see that that farmer's "heavy scrap is following his flag."

ELKS ANNUAL FLAG DAY OBSERVANCE IS STAGED MONDAY

Parade Precedes Exercises Conducted in the Elks Memorial Park

A pleasant evening Monday resulted in a large attendance of local citizens at the Elks annual Flag Day exercises conducted in the Elks park. Preceding the program, a parade made its way thru flag-decked streets from the Auditorium to the park, the procession including the Legion color guard, Lincoln high school band, members of the Elks lodge bearing a huge American flag and boy and girl scouts and Brownies.

Andrew Anderson presided over the exercises, which opened with the playing by the band of "The Star-spangled Banner", followed by the Elks Flag Day ritual exemplified by Exalted Ruler Peter Westergard and other officers of the lodge.

W. E. Dahlquist, the speaker of the evening, stated that the American people are only now beginning to realize the danger this nation was in due to its lack of preparedness at the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor. Flag Day, he added, is an appropriate time to rejoice that we are still a free people. We should devote every effort to winning the war and to insuring a just and lasting peace, he said in closing.

Concluding numbers on the program were the reciting of the pledge of allegiance to the flag, the singing of "America" by the audience, followed by the sounding of taps and the lowering of the flag.

CREAMERY MEN DISCUSS THEIR WAR PROBLEMS

Nearly 100 Men from Dists. 17 and 14 Meet in City Last Thursday

PLANT FOR POWDERED MILK IS DISCUSSED

Hear Talk on Selective Service as It Affects Creameries

Nearly 100 creamery operators and directors from thruout Land O'Lakes Districts 17 and 14 assembled last Thursday afternoon in the Civic and Commerce room to hear a discussion of a proposal to establish a powdered milk plant in this section, as well as the new butter subsidy plan and the possibility of securing further deferment of creamery operators registered under selective service.

Ralph Wayne of the Minneapolis Land O'Lakes plant said that his organization is now completing construction of its fifth powdered milk plant in as many areas, adding that they are financed by funds advanced by the federal government in connection with lend-lease operations.

Suggesting that the creamery boards give consideration to the matter, Mr. Wayne pointed out that the demand for dehydrated milk products for shipment overseas will continue for some years after the end of the war, and he also forecast a bigger domestic demand for powdered milk.

J. Wylie, district price officer from the Fargo OPA office, explained details of the butter subsidy plan which went into effect thruout the nation June 1.

Paul A. Lundgren, selective service appeal agent, stated that it is impossible to obtain permanent deferments either for single creamery workers or for married men without children. He added that creameries finding it impossible to secure replacement help could present the facts to the national and state selective service headquarters.

With this end in view, a committee was appointed at the meeting to assemble information and present it to the Minnesota dairy council and other organizations, which will be asked to submit it to selective service officials. Named to serve on the committee were C. M. Peeck of Crookston, E. M. Evans, Middle River; Richard Hugget, Greenbush; John Lager and P. L. Anderson.

RED LAKE AT FULL STAGE; WATER IS BEING RELEASED

Expected to Aggravate Situation in Low-lying River Valley Area

With Red Lake now full and flowing over roads on both the east and west side of the lake, it has been found necessary to open the gates in the dam at the outlet, Tom White, agent on the Indian reservation, stated yesterday, adding that to avoid further flood damage to areas down Red Lake and Clearwater rivers no more water will be released than is absolutely necessary.

Local officials who visited the River Valley area in the southeast corner of Pennington county Saturday learned that flood conditions would become acute if there is any substantial additional flow of water out of the lake. A. T. Nelson manager of the River Valley store, stated yesterday afternoon that the river had risen four inches since Saturday and was still rising.

Included in the delegation that visited the area were A. M. Senstad, Erickson, Paul Lundgren and W. E. Dahlquist.

Following a hearing on the matter Tuesday evening, the city council ordered the permanent revocation of the beer sale license held by Ray Magneson, proprietor of the Red Dot tavern on Main av. N.

TEST 'ALERT' SET FOR THIS EVENING AFTER 6

Officers of the civilian defense council today warned local motorists and pedestrians to be prepared to stop and seek cover this evening at any time between 6 and 10 o'clock.

Sometime during that period a daylight "alert" will be sounded heralding the equivalent of a night blackout as a precautionary measure in case of air raid attack on this community.

The first sound of the fire siren, consisting of two long blasts, will be the signal for the air raid wardens and auxiliary police and firemen to report at their posts. The second warning, which will signalize the actual start of the alert period, will consist of the steady blowing of the siren. The final warning will be the all-clear blast of the siren.

The local civilian defense staff, comprising J. Robert Petersen, chairman; Jack McKechnie, marshal; and Clifford Bjorkman, chief air raid warden, are especially anxious to have the test alert proceed smoothly, since it will be observed by Lt. Harold F. Solberg and F. H. Hubbard, Moorhead, acting at the request of Lt. Col. T. A. Oberlander of Minneapolis, in charge of air raid precautions in Minnesota.

It was announced that following the alert all members of the civilian defense corps will meet at the Auditorium, where the results of the test will be reviewed.

Local Soldier is Cited for Heroism in Africa

Cpl. Arthur LaFleur, stationed with the U. S. Army in North Africa, recently was cited with the degree of Legionnaire of the Legion of Honor in recognition of his heroic conduct during the famed attack on Hill 609 in the vicinity of Mateur, Tunisia, according to word received this week by his father, Frank LaFleur.

The citation reads, "Cpl. LaFleur left his shelter under heavy mortar fire to administer first aid to two of his comrades who were wounded from mortar shells. He applied first aid and bandages to his comrades' wounds and under heavy enemy shelling he moved them to a protected position.

"When darkness fell he again left his shelter, returning to the aid station to bring litter bearers to take his comrades to the station for urgent medical treatment. He undoubtedly saved the lives of his comrades at the risk of his own. His act is a distinct credit to the armed forces of the U. S. A. Captain Harold E. Doyle."

106,833 BOTTLES MILK DISTRIBUTED IN SCHOOLS HERE

County Welfare Board Cites Results of the Penny Milk Project

If all of the bottles of penny milk which were consumed in the Thief River Falls schools in the first five months of this year were laid end to end, they would reach from the Lincoln High School to two miles past St. Hilaire.

These figures were released by the Pennington county welfare board today, and show that pupils in the city's schools paid out 106,833 pennies for that many bottles of milk. Since there were only 99 school days during that period, this is an average of better than 1000 bottles a day.

The penny milk program, under which a child buys a half pint for a penny, is administered by the welfare board with the cooperation of the school officials, the City Dairy, Bridgeman Creameries, and the Food Distribution Administration, which supplies the greater part of the necessary subsidy.

CONSERVATION MATTERS TOPIC HERE THURSDAY

POINTS OUT STATE'S CONTRIBUTION TO WAR

Dr. Paul Hagen of Crookston Gives History of Thief Lake Project

Addressing an audience in the Auditorium on the occasion of his first visit to this city since his appointment as commissioner of conservaton Chester S. Wilson said his current tour of Minnesota has impressed him anew with the magnitude of the state's natural resources, which, he added, are making an outstanding contribution to the nation's war effort.

The Minnesota Iron Range, he said, is supplying more than two-thirds of the country's ore requirements. The state's timber resources too are doing their full part in the war, he stated, pointing out that every effort is being made to select trees for cutting on a scientific basis. In addition, the 2,000,000 pounds of game and fish taken in the state in 1942 did much to ease the food shortage.

Mr. Wilson cited four important duties of every citizen who wishes to aid the cause of conservation: To observe the game and fish laws; not to waste any game birds or animals; to watch out for forest fires; and to help keep the public parks clean.

The commissioner, referring to his visit earlier in the day to the Thief lake area, stated that the department hopes to buy some odd parcels of land to round out the boundaries of the refuge, the better to control duck propagation and public shooting. Three-fourths of the cost of acquisition, he said, would be paid from federal funds available for the purpose.

Dr. Paul Hagen of Crookston one of the first sponsors of the Thief lake restoration project, gave a brief history of the area dating back to the days when it was a hunter's paradise. The area was drained in 1918, he said, but few crops were produced on the old lake bottom, nearly all the land becoming tax delinquent. An act passed by the 1929 session of the legislature made possible restoration of the area to its original condition, providing both a refuge and public shooting grounds.

L. W. Bullen presided as chairman of the program, which also included a piano solo by Harold F. Harrison, welcome by Mayor H. W. Kinghorn, and short talks by Judge Oscar R. Knutson of Warren, W. F. Zauche of Baudette and E. H. Miller of Roseau, president of the Northwestern Minnesota Association of Conservation Clubs.

Following the program a Dutch lunch was served in the Civic and Commerce rooms by the Pennington County Sportsmens club.

New Withholding Tax is Effective July 1st

The following explanation of the new federal withholding tax, known as the "Pay as you go" income tax, which goes into effect July 1, was issued this week by the treasury department in Washington, D. C.

On July 1, 1943, a withholding tax on individual incomes goes into operation. From then on you will, for the most part, pay your federal income tax bit by bit as you earn, instead of in a lump sum or four installments. You will pay it through regular deductions from your pay envelope. This is the same method that has been used to collect your victory tax and social security tax. It is NOT a new tax, NOT an extra tax—but a new method of collecting the federal individual income tax. It includes the victory tax, the withholding rate for which has been reduced from 5% to 3%.

This new withholding tax is at the rate of 20% on wages over and above exemptions. After exemptions it will actually amount to no tax at all for some persons, up to not more than 10 or 12 per cent of most people's pay. It is NOT a gross tax on wages.

The very first thing for any employee to do is to fill out, sign and hand in to his employer a withholding exemption certificate. This tells your family status, whether married or single, how many dependents you have. The greater your responsibility, the more of your pay is exempt from the 20% withholding.

The law specifically puts upon employees the responsibility for filing these exemption certificates. If you do not file one with your employer, he will not be able to give you any exemption, but will be required by law to deduct 20% from all your pay.

It is of utmost importance that every employee fill out, sign and give to his or her employer a copy of the withholding exemption certificate—right away! Employers will supply blank forms.

If your marital status or the number of your dependents changes, you must notify your employer within 10 days.

From your exemption certificate the employer determines the amount of tax to be withheld from your pay. For single persons the amount exempt from tax is $12 a week, or $624 a year. For married couples, the exemption is $24 a week, or $1248 a year. This exemption can be divided between husband and wife if both are working, or the whole thing taken by either one, in which case the other spouse cannot claim any of it. For each dependent there is an additional exemption of $6 a week, or $312 a year.

Do not confuse these exemptions with your basic income tax exemption. They are used only to calculate the amount to be withheld.

Here are three examples of how it works out. John Smith, a single man, is making $37 a week. Of that, $12 is exempt. The other $25 is subject to withholding at 20%. Thus the amount withheld from each week's pay is $5.

George Jones is married, has three children, is earning $50 a week. His exemptions are $24 for himself and wife, $6 for each of the three children, a total of $42. Only $8 of his weekly pay is subject to withholding, so Jones' employer will deduct only $1.60 a week.

James and Sarah Brown are both working. They have 4 dependents at home. They elect to divide the married couple exemption of $24 equally between them so that each has $12 a week free of withholding. Since James furnishes the chief support for the dependents, he may take $24 a week for dependents, making his total exemption $36 a week before the 20% is withheld. If James alone were working, he would claim the entire exemption of $24 and $24 more for the 4 dependents, or a total of $48 a week exempt from withholding.

A word of warning here. It is quite possible that the amount withheld from your pay will not be exactly, to the penny, 20% of your pay above your withholding exemption. You may find that the tax withheld will be a trifle more, or a trifle less.

Employees should understand that this is because the law allows employers to withhold the tax in accordance with "Wage Bracket Tables." These tables set definite amounts to be withheld from each pay check. For example, in the case of married employees with three dependents, whose weekly wage is anywhere between fifty and sixty dollars, the employer is authorized to withhold a flat amount of $2.60 per week, instead of requiring him to figure the exact amount for each individual employee.

The law grants the employer this "short-cut" method in order to simplify his job of computing the amount to be withheld for each individual worker. In any case, where "Wage Bracket Tables" are used, the amount of tax withheld will be only slightly different from an exact computation at 20%.

Tax money withheld from wages is paid by the employer to the United States Treasury. The amount withheld from you stands to your credit at the treasury against the amount you owe on income and victory tax. At the end of the year, or at termination of employment during the year, your employer will give you a certificate stating the amount of wages he has paid you during the year and the amount of tax he has withheld. Keep this. It is your tax receipt.

On or before March 15, 1944, you will be required to file, in the usual manner, your income tax return showing your actual income for 1943, and figuring in the usual deductions and credits. The tax withheld by your employer, both before and after July 1, 1943, the income tax installments you paid March 15 and June 15, and any tax you may have already paid in addition to the above-mentioned payments will be shown on the return as credits. In other words, you will add up the tax payments you made on March 15 and June 15, 1943, plus the total amount that has been already withheld for victory tax purposes, as well as the amounts withheld from your pay since July 1 by the withholding tax, plus any other amounts you may have paid on September 15 and December 15. If the total comes to more than your liability, the government will credit you with the difference against the next year's tax payments. If it comes to less, you will pay the difference.

There is no doubt that the country as a whole welcomes this method of income tax payment, which lets people pay their taxes in small frequent installments corresponding to their regular pay periods, and which lets people pay this year's taxes "as-they-go" out of this year's wages. It is easier to pay this way than to have to save up part of each pay for delayed quarterly or annual payment.

Withholding brings tax money into the federal treasury faster, now when it is needed to pay for the war. It should help us in our fight against inflation.

COOLERATOR Refrigeration

Poppler's Answer to Your Refrigeration Problems

- APPEARANCE—COOLERATORS are beautiful, their glistening white finish and modern design give them the appearance of an electric refrigerator.
- ADVANTAGES—COOLERATOR is an air conditioned washed air refrigerator, its modern scientific method of refrigeration of washed, pure, humidified cold air circulating constantly through the food chamber absorbs food odor and carries the food odor away down the drain and maintains a moist cold at all times thus preventing drying out of food and eliminates the necessity of food covers. Remember no drying out of foods or food odors so common in electric refrigerators. Ice refrigeration is natures way of preserving foods.
- ECONOMY—Only two 50 pound icings a week are necessary for the average family during the summer and in the winter it is possible to obtain a large load of ice for only $1.50. And remember there is no mechanism to get out of order. So no service expense, nothing to wear out. This is important at all times but especially so during war times.
- SAVES TIME AND LABOR—No defrosting necessary, no time wasted in covering dishes. Usually it is possible to connect a hose or pipe to your coolerator letting the ice water drain away thus making it just as automatic as the electric refrigerator, without the noise which all electric refrigerators have. Ask us about this drainage system. It is easily arranged.
- APPROVED BY U. S. GOVERNMENT — COOLERATORS have been approved by the U. S. for Navy and Army defense housing projects.
- DURABILITY—Built to last a life time, insulation is glass wool the same as used in the better electric refrigerators. It will not deteriorate.
- PERFORMANCE—Bacteria growth is retarded at 50 degrees. In COOLERATOR foods are kept in average temperature of 43.1 and 46.1. These are safe temperatures and insure proper food refrigeration.

People keep telling us that what our town needs is some additional payrolls. We should have some kind of a factory here, they tell us, that will provide work for people. We of course are not opposed to bigger and better payrolls but we sometimes wonder if those who talk that way understand that larger payrolls do not necessarily mean less unemployment. As a rule the larger the community the more difficult is its employment problem. A city does not necessarily grow better merely because it grows bigger. At the present time Thief River Falls is in good balance with the territory it serves, providing a good market for the people of this territory. We have a surprisingly large number of small payrolls here, substantial businesses that provide steady employment the year around. Those are the kind of payrolls that should be encouraged. Ten employers who give work to fifteen men each are better for a community than one employer who hires a couple of hundred because the ten provide greater stability.

There is going to be a daylight air attack on our city some time this evening, or at least we are going to pretend there is, and our air raid wardens are going to do their best to teach us what we should do in the event that a raid does actually occur. A system of signals has been worked out, appearing elsewhere in this issue. The instructions are clear and they should be carefully followed. Let's hope that this will be a wasted effort. Let's hope that it never will be necessary to dodge bombs. It will do no harm, however, to stage a rehearsal.

One of the things we do not worry about is Russia's attitude toward the Japs and her unwillingness to assist in kicking them off the mainland of Asia. We are sure the Russians will be delighted to participate in administering this spanking when the proper time comes. Russia does not like the Japs as neighbors, and with good reason. The Russo-Jap war is not a happy memory, nor are the many concessions made since that time, practically at the point of a gun. The Russians have bided their time patiently, but they have not forgotten.

Monday will be the first day of summer officially and the day of the shortest night. If the clouds will accomodate us by pulling to one side this coming week will bring us nearly as many hours of sunshine as we will have in the entire month of December.

The administration evidently is determined to go through with its food subsidy program and during the coming year will spend a couple of billion dollars to help us pay for our butter and pork chops. We buy eight pounds of butter and Uncle Sam will give us one free and that sounds to us like one of the silliest ideas we have heard since the days when the brain trusters were going to plant trees in the dessert to make it rain. Two billion dollars isn't a lot of money in terms of present government spending but it is a big sum in terms of tax receipts, and it takes tax receipts to reduce debts. For a while we had hopes that our new Congress would apply the brakes once in a while in the interests of common sense but so far there is little sign of improvement.

Red Lake is full to the brim and overflowing, which means that for the time being at least it no longer serves a useful purpose as a reservoir. This is the first time in many years that such a condition has existed. Not so many years ago there were fears that the lake was going to dry up completely. Situated as it is, sixty miles East of us and sixty feet above us, Red Lake will be a very valuable asset to our community once it is harnessed and properly controlled, holding back surplus waters in flood periods and releasing them in an orderly manner during the dry seasons. In its present condition, however, full to the brim, it is going to contribute to the bad effects of excessive rainfall. At the present time the lake is not serving a useful purpose.

Real progress is now being reported in the war on submarines and that is the best news from the battle fronts these days. This battle with submarines is more important than any land engagement. The submarine is the last hope of the Axis powers and if they lose this fight they will have lost their only remaining chance of victory. The failure of their submarine campaign in the last war contributed more than anything else to the breakdown of German morale. In the present war they have already lost air supremacy and the blitz has been pretty thoroughly knocked out of their land forces. If their submarines now also fail them they will have nothing left to bolster their spirit and the end will not be far off.

This is the week that scrap metal should be brought in and farmers are urged to make a special effort to get their scrap in now. This is one of the most important contributions we can make on the home front. Scrap metal is even more important in our war production than dollars. The dollars can be conscripted by taxation but for its scrap metal the government must rely on the voluntary effort of its good citizens. This is the week.

In spite of the fact that many families have left town for the duration there are few vacant homes in our city. That happy condition justifies the prediction that we are going to face another housing shortage when the war ends.

Lieutenant Marian Leidinger and Auxiliary 1st Class McBride, recruiting WAAC officers of this area, spent Tuesday in this city interviewing prospective WAACs. Lieutenant Leidinger gave us the following information which we thought well worth while to pass on. The total enlisted WAAC's to date is about 60,000 with an additional 90,000 to be recruited. The age for officer candidate now is from 21 to 50 years of age, qualifications being a high school education and four years leadership or one year college. They go thru basic training to Officers Candidate School, selected from the ranks as to her mental alertness, character, leadership and education.

Wives of the military personnel are granted furloughs together and will get their regular allotment together with their army pay. The enrollment is the same as in the mens services; in that they will be released 6 months after the war. Scores of occupations, trades and specialties are included in noncombatant duties. Women who have necessary experience and skill may soon become specialists in their duties.

The Signal Corp branch of service is open to a new auxiliary. They enroll as a WAAC in active duty, are given a civil service status and sent to signal corps training school, then return to a WAAC center for basic training and to Officers Candidate School. The salary is $1,020 the first 3 months and $1,440 the next 3 months. They are also paid overtime for Saturdays. On completion of their officers training they are then assigned to the signal corps personnel or as an officer. This training counts largely toward a college degree so that after the war a period of training entitles them to a B. S. degree.

DOG, MASTER REUNITED AFTER LONG SEPARATION

Morris.—A happy reunion of a dog and his master, separated since the hunting season last fall took place a few days ago all because Douglas Gaberick found a dog tag when mowing the lawn. A check with the Minneapolis license bureau revealed the tag had been purchased by Don Weeks of Minneapolis. Communication with Mr. Weeks brought him in a hurry to look over the stray Chesapeak which has been observed by many residents wandering disconsolately about the city since last fall. Mr. Weeks had lost his dog at Hancock and during the intervening months has made several trips out there in an attempt to locate him, but the dog had found his way over to Morris. It was a happy day for the dog and his master.

2,000 PRESENT AT MARSHALL COUNTY CREAMERY PICNIC

L. L. Getten and War Board Officials Speak at State Park

In spite of threatening weather and the gas rationing programs, more than 2,000 people attended the 16th annual picnic of the Marshall County Creameries Picnic association at beautiful Middle River State Park Sunday afternoon.

While light sprinkles of rain fell during the program, the large crowd appeared eager to listen to the program of talks and addresses which gave them an opportunity to learn more about the civilian war programs.

John Brandt, scheduled to speak at the annual gathering was unable to be present, having been called to Washington. However, L. L. Getten, production manager of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc., Minneapolis, proved to be an able substitute. E. M. Evans, Middle River, director of Land O'Lakes Creameries and president of the picnic association, served in his usual effective manner as master of ceremonies. Several interesting musical numbers were provided by instrumental and vocal groups from Newfolden and Middle River. The invocation was given by Rev. Franklin Duerre of Viking.

Other speakers were chairmen of various Marshall county war boards, including Judge Nels M. Engen, G. Holmquist, O. M. Mattson and Victor Edman.

This practice has now been revised from si acres to 15 acres on which credit will be given.

Car Breakdowns Increase as Autos Become Older

The number of motor-vehicle breakdowns, as irreplaceable cars and tires get older month by month, has been increasing by the millions, according to figures reported to state highway departments by the American Automobile Association. Emergency road service calls have evidenced a 50 per cent increase because of battery failure, ignition and starter trouble and other defects resulting almost entirely from failure of the average motorist to give his precious car the necessary amount of attention.

Another Golf Tournament

The local golf club's tournament committee wishes to make it known that there will be another tournament, arranged on a handicap basis, on Sunday afternoon, and they are hoping that it will be as successful as the tournament held a couple of weeks ago. The committee states that they have persuaded Father Merth, winner of the tourney two weeks ago, to "coast" next Sunday, so that the easily-discouraged boys will have a chance to cop first prize. And if Tom Jorde, the club champion, enters Sunday's meet the committee had better get busy and do some persuading on him, too.

Ole's Big Fish

Ole Froseth put in a strong bid for the city's big fish championship Monday when, fishing below the dam, he hooked and landed a 17-pound buffalo fish. (The buffalo is a carp-like fish, and is often mistaken for a carp.) Ole the Prince was fishing for walleyed pike, using a spinner and minnow, and had caught a 1½-pound pike just a short while before the buffalo struck. In the big fish category, Ole's 17-pound entry beats Harold Eliefson's big northern pike by a pound, as Harold brought in a 16-pound northern from Waskish last week.

The city's small fish title will undoubtedly be awarded to Pvt. Lenny Helquist. Lenny, home on furlough from Denver, Colo, fished at Big Pine lake, near Wadena last week and "horsed" in a 1¾ oz. perch.

Gets a 14-Pounder

Roy Shetler played a repeat performance at Waskish on Sunday and there was another 14-pounder among the five northerns that he caught. That's the second 14-pounder that he's hooked up there this year, but they're becoming expensive, as he has broken three casting rods while fishing. Roy uses a heavy spoon—a three-ounce Huskie-devie—and he really gives his rods a beating. Roy, after sleeping in his car Saturday night, began fishing at 4 A. M. on Sunday, and on his first cast he snapped his tubular rod, and then had to wait around until Hillman opened his store, purchased another rod and after a couple of hours of fishing that rod splintered.

And Carl Melby's young son, Bobby, proved to be of the stuff that fishermen are made, too. for in fishing at Waskish last week he accidentally drove the barb of a hook into his left forefinger, and in such a manner that it was necessary to drive to Baudette and have a doctor remove the hook. But Bobby came back to Waskish and went out on the lake and caught for himself a northern that weighed more than ten pounds. Once a fisherman, always a fisherman.

Oh yes, it is reported that Ole Froseth wants all his angler friends to address him as Mister Froseth, now that he's a claimant for the big fish title.

Wanted: Games

The Legion's junior baseball team, which, in spite of inclement weather, has been gradually taking form under the coaching of Glenn Hanna, is in the market for games. The team, with a number of veterans available, should be a first-rate outfit, but they need actual game competition. Last year games were played with Warren, East Grand Forks, Oslo, and Red Lake Falls, and several of these teams should be organizing again this season. It is hoped that coach Hanna can find some games for his boys.

First Blood

Coach Chuck Dostal's West Side diamondball team, captained by Ole Engelstad, solved Wally "Buckshot" DuChamp's delivery for nine hits Tuesday night and racked up a 4 to 0 win in the first of a series of East Side vs. West Side games. The threatening weather kept a number of players away from the field and as a result both teams were forced to play shorthanded. The East Siders were further handicapped by the absence of their manager, Ole Ness, but he will have returned from his vacation by next week and will be on hand for the second game of the series.

SAFETY SLOGANS IN STATE TRAFFIC CONTEST CHOSEN

"Remember to Say: I'll be Careful Today."

This simple thought which every year could prevent so much of pain and anguish, avert so many hundreds of deaths and thousands of injuries not only in traffic but in the home, farm, school and factory, has been awarded first prize in the Minnesota Editorial Association's statewide traffic safety slogan contest.

Announcement of the judges' decision was made jointly by James L. Markham, state chairman of the Minnesota editor's traffic accident reduction committee; Ralph Keller, state editorial association secretary, and Charles H. Zealand, secretary of the Minnesota Safety council.

Rallying to the call for new ideas in the safety field, Minnesota high school boys and girls from every section of the state submitted a total of 3,662 slogans. They were submitted through their local newspapers, many of which conducted local contests, in addition to the state competition. Literally hundreds of them were of prize winning caliber, Chairman Markham said, making the selection extremely difficult, but the final award was unanimous among the judges.

The first-prize winning line was submitted by Miss Lillian Manzavrakos, of West High school in Minneapolis, who will receive a $25 victory bond from the Minnesota Safety council as her reward.

Second prize of $10 in defense stamps was won by Miss Betty Winters of Carlton high school with the slogan: "Stop, Look Listen—Or You Might be Missin'." Verner Mikkelson of Askov high school won third prize, $5 in defense stamps, with the catchy line: "35 is the Victory Drive."

Ammunition Available for Killing Farm Pests, WPB Order Announces

Northwest farmers and ranchers were advised by regional War Production Board officials today of the procedure by which they may obtain a three-months supply of ammunition for the control of predatory animals and birds.

Maximum amounts of ammunition that can be obtained from regular dealers every three months are: 100 .22 caliber long rifle cartridges, 140 shells of larger caliber but not more than 40 of .30-30 caliber nor more than 100 of .30-60 caliber and 25 shot gun shells of any gauge.

Farmers with inadequate supplies of ammunition to protect livestock or crops will certify this need to dealers on a prescribed form. Dealers, in turn, will forward the certificates to designated key distributors for the three Northwest states, who will supply the ammunition from reserve stocks.

There will be a lapse of time after the farmer presents his certificate and the dealer receives the requested ammunition, but supplies of ammunition are expected to be adequate to meet essential farm requirements. Farmers and dealers needing further information should contact the nearest WPB district office.

SEES DANGER IN DELAY IN PAYING BUTTER SUBSIDY

Gov. Thye Says Many Plants May be Forced out of Business

Fearing that the delay in payment of the subsidy on butter under the plan now set up will prove disastrous to many Minnesota creameries, Governor Edward J. Thye this week appealed to federal authorities to modify the plan so that the creameries can get the subsidy money without delay and make their payments to farmers for butter-fat in full as they do normally, without having to borrow money to finance payment of the subsidy.

Unless regulations covering payment of the subsidy can be changed, Governor Thye warned, many of Minnesota's fine cooperative creameries may be forced out of business.

The difficulty results from the method of paying the subsidy mapped out when the government put into effect the roll-back in butter prices this past week. Creameries were compelled to make a 5 cents a pound cut in the maximum price for bulk butter June 4th, preparatory to the roll-back in retail prices that went into effect June 10th. No reduction was made, however, in the butter-fat prices which the creameries must pay to farmers and producers. The creameries, it was contemplated, would continue to pay farmers the present butter-fat prices and get back the 5 cents per pound lost when the subsidy payments are made.

Most Minnesota creameries are in no position to pay the full purchase price for the butter-fat and wait as long for the subsidy payments as will be required under the plan put into effect, Governor Thye wrote to James F. Byrnes, director of War Mobilization for the U. S.

"The usual creamery, having no surplus available for such a purpose," he wrote, "either must get funds through additional capital or borrowing to cover this 5 cents a pound roll-back until the subsidy payment is made, or pay the farmer 5 cents less for butter-fat and then later reimburse him when the subsidy payment is made to the creamery."

Shipbuilding is the biggest single item in Wisconsin's war contracts, with the first fleet of submarines to be launched on the Great Lakes coming from Manitowoc, Wis., ways.

For many years the SOO LINE has been one of the main outlets for pulpwood produced in the great northwoods. The SOO LINE brings the pulpwood to the mills and is an important agency in transporting all types of finished paper from the mills to the great industrial centers.

Last year we moved thousands of tons of both pulpwood and paper. As in the movement of all commodities necessary to the speedy conclusion of the war, the SOO LINE extends every cooperation to the paper industry.

EVEN a general in Africa writes home how much he misses meeting the gang downtown to enjoy a Coca-Cola. Overseas, Coke is a refreshing remembrance of home. Men cherish its taste and refreshment.

The newspapers have been full of such incidents. Such as Bataan survivors getting hold of some fruit, eggs and Coca-Cola. Mighty welcome fare to them, they said.

These men, like yourself, have found in ice-cold Coca-Cola all the difference between something really refreshing and just something to drink. Yes, the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

The best is always the better buy!

Word that "the Coke's in" packs any canteen these days. Every good soldier wants the drink that adds energy to refreshment.

Although war has changed and disrupted so many things in their lives, our fighting forces overseas are so often delighted to find in far-off places an old familiar friend . . . Coca-Cola . . . being bottled in Allied Nations all over the globe, just as it is at home.

517 AUTO DRIVERS LOSE PERMITS FOR TRAFFIC OFFENSES

Speeding and Driving While Drunk Are Principal Infractions

Violation of war-time speeds and driving while under the influence of liquor were the major factors in causing 517 motorists the loss of their Minnesota driver's licenses during the merry month of May, the highway department reports.

In all, 228 drivers licenses were revoked entirely, for a period of at least one year, and 289 additional permits were suspended for periods ranging from 30 days to one year.

Of the outright revocations, 194 were for driving while intoxicated and 15 were for repeated offenses of speeding, that is, driving in excess of the state and federal war-time regulations prescribing a 35-mile an hour maximum.

Of the driving permits suspended, 121 were for speeding, 43 for reckless driving and 22 for running through "stop" signs and signals. Forty-one licenses were suspended for failure or refusal to provide a doctor's statement as to adequate vision. By age groups, 114 of the 289 license suspensions imposed by the highway department were upon drivers under 20 years of age and only seven affected motorists over 55 years of age.

Of the outright revocations, however, only 18 were imposed upon persons under 20 years old and only 31 were under 25 years. By contract, revocations were enforced against 175 drivers between the ages of 25 and 55, none of which were women.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TOPS STATE IN '42 YULE SEAL SALE

Has Biggest Per Capita Sale of Cities of over 5,000 Population

Thief River Falls is listed on the Christmas Seal honor roll of the Minnesota Public Health association for its outstanding record in the 1942 campaign, according to word just received by Miss Margaret Hessburg, who directed the sale.

With an average contribution to the anti-tuberculosis campaign of 18 cents for every local man, woman and child, Thief River Falls ranked first for its per capita seal sale among Minnesota cities with a population of over 5,000.

High praise is given by the state Christmas Seal association to all citizens who assisted in bringing about this splendid result. Special mention is given to the local chairman and other volunteer workers, to the newspapers, theaters, schools, churches and other groups for their aid in keeping the tuberculosis problem before the public and thus aiding in the educational work against the disease.

"This war time response to the seal sale shows that people realize that tuberculosis must be fought harder than ever at the present time," says the bulletin. "Everyone who in any way assisted or contributed to the campaign participated in an important civilian defense activity to protect our communities, state and nation from the threatened increase in this disease."

COUNTY BOARD LETS 5 GRAVEL JOBS TUESDAY

Oscar Schenkey Is Awarded Contract on Bids Totaling $10,037.50

FEDERAL APPROVAL NECESSARY ON JOBS

Cost of Graveling Reveals Sharp Rise Compared to Last Year

The Pennington county board at an adjourned session Tuesday awarded to Oscar Schenkey, Middle River road contractor, lower of two bidders, the contract to carry out five graveling and regraveling projects aggregating 29 miles on his bid in the total amount of $10,037.50.

The contract was awarded subject to approval of the War Production Board, and work will not be started until that authorization has been received, County Auditor A. M. Senstad stated.

Included in the projects are four miles on County Aid Road 17 in Rocksbury and Smiley, $720; seven miles on CAR 49 in North and Silverton, $3,070; 10½ miles on State Aid Road 7 in Goodridge and Highlanding, $855; four miles on CAR 20 and six miles on CAR 43 in Sanders and Rocksbury, $4,210.50; and 3½ miles on CAR 56 in Black River, $1,182.

Reflecting higher costs on road work this year compared to 1942, the successful bid this year is on the basis of 15 cents per cubic yard for stripping, 15 cents for loading and screening and eight cents per yard per mile for hauling. Comparable figures in last year's unusually low bid were respectively eight cents, eight cents and 5¼ cents.

Only Few Days Left to Complete Scrap Drive

With only slightly more than half of the Pennington county quota of 500 tons of scrap iron and steel delivered up to the first of the week, every effort on the part of rural residents of the county will be necessary during the coming six days will be necessary. If the objective is to be achieved by June 30, it was announced today by F. E. Hageman, chairman of the local implement men's scrap committee.

As testimony to the importance of scrap metal to the war effort, Mr. Hageman quoted the following facts from the Farm Implement News, a trade paper:

Statistics of the American Iron and Steel Institute show that without scrap the 1942 production of 86,000,000 tons of steel ingots would have required 165,000,000 tons of iron ore, 120,000,000 tons of coal and 36,000,000 tons of limestone.

With the 44,000,000 tons of scrap obtained the production of 86,000,000 tons of steel ingots required only 100,000,000 tons of iron ore, 78,000,000 tons of coal, and 30,000,000 tons of limestone.

Therefore, the scrap saved 56,000,000 tons of iron ore, 42,000,000 tons of coal and 6,000,000 tons of limestone and because of these savings 5,600 fewer shiploads were required, saving time, transportation and labor. The coal saved would heat 4,200,000 average homes for one year and the limestone saved would provide cement for a 2-lane highway 8,000 miles long.

NEXT FALL'S FUEL OIL RATIONS NOW BEING PROCESSED

Allotments Will be Made by Mail, Ration Board Head States

Allotments for next fall's fuel oil ration to home owners will be made by mail by the local war price and ration board when the regular applications for renewals of the ration have been received and processed this month, Waldie Christensen, chairman, announced today.

The fuel oil consumer will receive from the board by mail the simplified application form No. 1167. These forms, properly filled out, should be mailed back to the local board as soon as possible. The reason for doing this, said Mr. Christensen, is that it is physically impossible for the oil companies to handle all the summer orders if the consumers wait until September and October.

The Office of Price Administration boards are making every effort to have the coupons for the 1943-44 fuel oil rations in the hands of the consumer by July 1. Any delays in getting in the application are certain to create serious delivery bottle-necks when cold weather arrives.

In reviewing the applications the board will consider the householder's last year's request which is on file. The amount of this year's allotment will be determined by a revised table which has been sent to the local board by the OPA.

Under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Thief River Falls now has an organization of aviation boosters, banded together in what will be known as the Thief River Falls Branch of the National Aeronautics Society. Sounds queer to have that kind of organization up here where there are no planes but no doubt the planes and the men to fly them will soon be with us and there probably is need for a group of this kind if our community is to keep up with flying development. The airplane is less of a toy today than the automobile was thirty years ago. Commercial plane service will be a reality in Thief River Falls when the war ends providing adequate landing field facilities are available and an active local aviation association can do much to make this possible. The federal government is now developing airports at Duluth and Bemidji. The northern routes are the shortest routes and our city is strategically located on direct routes that may be established between Duluth and Winnipeg or the Twin Cities and Winnipeg. It is high time that we bestir ourselves and get into position where we can take advantage of any opportunities that may develope. The new association can do much for the community and its efforts should be encouraged.

Crop prospects are not good hereabouts but that condition seems to be general the country over. Under the circumstances we have reason to be cheerful because our most important sources of income, dairying, livestock and poultry, will still provide substantial revenue. A short feed crop will reduce the net returns from these sources of course but there still will be returns and we will get along. We still have much to be glad about.

There is a bill before Congress that would appropriate 25 million dollars to be spent by the government for small town newspaper publicity for the sale of war bonds. Small town newspapers have been left out in the cold as far as government advertising is concerned. The weeklies are asked to give generously of their space to promote all sorts of government activities with now and then a little paid advertising coming in as donations from local business firms. Radio stations, magazines and the metropolitan press have fared better. Under the circumstances it is natural that the weeklies should ask for a little of the gravy along with the crusts. Now along comes Senator Joe Ball, a newspaperman himself, objecting to the proposed expenditure on the grounds that it might lead to corruption of the press. His idea is that putting the newspapers on the public payroll would affect them in the same bad way that it effects other beneficiaries of the government's extravagance. And while it no doubt would be extremely pleasant to have a few of those 25 million pass through our hands we are inclined to string along with Joe Ball and say he is right again. We will get along without our share of the pork, Joe, but promise us that you will be equally forthright in keeping others from being corrupted. And we think you will.

The war seems to be progressing satisfactorily everywhere but on the home front but here at home the developments are anything but good. The disgraceful race riots that occurred at Detroit this week make one wonder just what it is we are fighting to save the world from. At a time when we are making an effort to convince the backward peoples of the world that we are their friends and that they should fear Hitlerism, such a demonstration is not helpful proof of our good faith. Treason, as defined in our constitution, is the contemptible crime of giving aid and comfort to our enemies, and is punishable by death. We don't know of any group of Americans who have given greater aid and comfort to our enemies than those supposed-to-be good citizens of Detroit who participated in riots that resulted in the brutal killing of twenty negroes.

At their Tuesday meeting Rotarians said goodbye officially to three of their members who are leaving the community, Morris Bye, W. M. Fergüson and Rev. E. L. Tungseth. Many good men have come and gone over a period of years but it is a little unusual to lose them in bunches, and these three are not going to be replaced in a hurry. In length of community service Bill Ferguson is the youngest of the three but in the few years he has lived here he has taken an unusually active part in local affairs. He leaves a vacancy on both the school board and the fair board. Rev. E. L. Tungseth leaves a good record of public service, highlights of which were several terms of office both as Mayor of Thief River Falls and Senator representing the 65th legislative district. The old-timer of the trio is Morris Bye who for twenty years has given excellent leadership to our school system along with a hefty contribution of time and effort to other worth while activities. Over a period of years these three men have carried a lot of water and run a lot of errands for their neighbors. Now that they are moving away they are going to leave quite a pile of chores for others to do. We are sorry to see them go.

Estimates vary as to what the government's cost will be for food subsidies but one fairly reliable source suggests that it probably will approach the five billion dollar mark the first year. Whatever the figure is it probably will be twice the amount that consumers will actually save because it will take quite an army of bureaucrats to handle all the details. Thousands of additional employees will have to be put on the payroll to maintain this particular piece of foolishness, and we will have to pay them in addition to paying back the actual amount of the subsidy along with the interest that accumulates between now and the time the government stops borrowing and starts paying back. Wonder how many votes the administration will buy with these nickle-a-pound donations toward our butter and meat purchases.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor Times:

Permit me to say I enjoyed your last weeks editorial in regard to getting factories and payrolls to Thief River Falls. We are fortunate as you say in having a number of small payrolls, although naturally we should not be adverse to have large ones also.

Without seeking to unduly revive the ghost of former days let me call attention to one way in which we can develop our community, and northern Minnesota in general so as to bring to our town and other communities more prosperity, and more small payrolls.

What we need is more drainage, and more protection and maintenance of our present drainage systems, rather than frog and duck ponds like Thief Lake and Mud Lake. A few years ago under the Olson and Benson Administrations the state adopted the idea of gently soaking the people of eastern Marshall County, and the surrounding territory. Now, according to Chester Wilson, the present Conservation Commissioner, the Republicans want to follow up this practice by buying up more swamp lands so as to create more rainfall, restore more swamps, and extending such frogponds as Mud Lake and Thief Lake, thus holding back more water, and subjecting the farmers to a total immersion.

In this connection I can do no better than to call attention to a timely article appearing in the Minneapolis Star Journal for Thursday, June 17th. This article relates to a large gathering of soil conservationists. According to Mr. R. H. Musser, regional soil conservator, what we need is drainage, not inundation.

Mr. Musser, quotes approvingly, Mr. R. W. Clark, vice-president of the Northern Pacific Railroad as follows:

"Crops in many large and important areas are suffering acutely from inundated and water logged fields. This is particularly true in northern Minnesota, and in the Red River Valley where from four to seven inches of rain have fallen in the past 15 days. The extent of the permanent damage is impossible to assay accurately at this time . . . it will depend upon whether the weather permits rapid drying. . . .

"It is almost an axiom that abundant moisture for North Dakota and Montana, means loss of some crops, by flooding in the poorly drained sections of Minnesota, and the extreme eastern North Dakota. It was true last year, and apparently is to be repeated this year."

We believe this is absolutely true. Our part of the state needs drainage . . . not irrigation and inundation. Restore the swamps and the lakes here and we are going to continue to have a heavy rainfall. This may be all right for North Dakota, and Montana, but we cannot stand heavy rains here unless we have good drainage. What we need to do is to get rid of the water so that farmers can raise a crop, and have an income, and not to hold the water here.

We again submit that our community is better served by having well drained, prosperous, and producing farms, rather than swamps and duck and frog ponds, with their resultant heavy rains which will result from filling up our swamps with duck and frog ponds like Mud Lake and Thief Lake. We believe a prosperous farming community means more to us and brings more small employers, and more small payrolls, than a few hunters who may go to Thief Lake and Mud Lake a few days during the year.

Respectfully,
H. O. BERVE.

The following information received as of June 23 from Linus E. Vorphal, regional salvage chief, who says the demand for waste paper is acute, all types of waste paper are in urgent need; but the acute shortage exists in brown paper, brown boxes, brown containers, brown bags, and brown wrapping paper. Because of our current inability to increase the supply of wood pulp, due in a large measure to shortage of manpower in the woods, it is imperative that we increase the salvage and collection of all brown paper and boxes. Waxed papers and cellophane cannot be used but not a single piece of other waste paper, such as newspapers, magazines, etc., need be thrown away. Boxes should be flattened, tied in bundles and should be kept clean and dry. Tremendous amounts of waste paper are needed to make containers for food, ammunition, supplies, and emergency rations for our armed forces.

A date will be set later for the collection of this urgently needed brown paper. The thing is to start saving it now.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Pursuant to adjournment the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, met in session in the Council Chambers in the Auditorium and Municipal Building on Tuesday, June 15, 1943. The meeting was called to order at eight o'clock P. M. with Aldermen Griebstein, Hunt, Rinkel, McKechnie, Stenberg present and Alderman Petersen absent.

The Council then proceeded to conduct a hearing in the matter of the revocation and cancellation of the license of Ray W. Magneson, 206 Main Avenue North, to sell non-intoxicating liquor, due to conviction of said Ray W. Magneson in violation of City Ordinance governing such sale; notice of such cancellation and hearing having been served on the defendant on June 10th, 1943. Defendant appeared and was heard in his own behalf and stated that he believed that he had been convicted on circumstantial evidence and had grounds for appealing the case to a higher court. He asked permission to continue sale under his license to July 31st, the date of expiration, in order to negotiate a sale of the property. Alderman Stenberg then moved that the revocation and cancellation be continued and made permanent. The motion was seconded by Alderman Hunt and all members voting in favor thereof the motion was declared passed and adopted.

Application for building permit was presented by Karon Haaby for remodeling of front of business establishment located on Lots 1-2, Block 20 of the Original Townsite, cost $30.00. The application of Peterson Biddick Company for moving in to fire limits of a frame warehouse located directly north of their present plant and the construction of an office and retail sales room on their plant property on Soo Line Right-of-way, laid over from a previous meeting, was again taken under consideration. The applicant advised that the frame building which he intended to move into the Fire Limits would instead be dismantled. In view of this understanding Alderman McKechnie moved that such application for construction of office and sales room be approved together with that of Karon Haaby. The motion was seconded by Alderman Rinkel and adopted.

The matter of relief reimbursement for the year 1942 by Pennington County in which a compromise offer had been made by the County Welfare Board, was again brought up for discussion and a motion was introduced by Alderman Rinkel that the claim be again referred to the City Attorney with instruction to demand full payment of such claim. The motion was seconded by Alderman McKechnie and the same was adopted by unanimous vote.

Application was presented by Elmer M. Larson and Carl M. Ryan, requesting transfer of license to sell non-intoxicating liquor, on and off sale, place of business 207 Third Street East, from the former to the latter. A motion was introduced by Alderman McKechnie that such transfer be approved and authorized. The motion was seconded by Alderman Stenberg and adopted by unanimous roll call vote.

A petition was presented by L. B. Hartz requesting the construction of walk, curb and gutter along the south side of Lot 24, of Block 34 of the Original Townsite and asked that such work be included in the Atlantic Avenue widening project and completed at that time. Alderman Stenberg moved that such petition be accepted and filed and that such construction be ordered and completed with the Atlantic Avenue project. The motion was seconded by Alderman Rinkel and adopted. A petition was presented which was signed by L. B. Hartz and officials of Independent School District No. 18, requesting extension of sewer facilities along the south side of Blocks 63 and 60, from the present sewer a distance of 300 feet westward to provide drainage of the Southeast corner of the football field. Alderman Stenberg introduced a resolution ordering such sewer extension completed by day labor under the supervision of the City Engineer, the petitioners agreeing to pay the cost of such improvement, and moved its adoption. The motion was seconded by Alderman Rinkel and the resolution was by roll call duly passed and adopted.

The Tax Committee of the Council brought in the following recommendations with respect to pending applications for reduction in assessed valuations of property: Personal property of Chas. Fiterman, no reduction. Real estate valuation of Sharstad Daniels Lumber Co., reduction in assessed value from $5,212.00 to $4,000.00. Alderman Hunt moved that such recommendations of the Tax Committee be approved and that the Clerk be instructed to transmit the same to the County Board of Pennington County. The motion was seconded by Alderman Rinkel and adopted by unanimous vote.

On motion duly made and carried the meeting was declared adjourned to Friday, July 2nd at eight o'clock P. M.

EMIL GRIEBSTEIN,
President of the Council.
Attest: P. G. Pederson,
City Clerk.

RESOLUTION

At an adjourned regular meeting of the City Council held June 15th, 1943, Alderman Stenberg, seconded by Alderman Rinkel introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

BE IT RESOLVED, By the City Council of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, that whereas, the L. B. Hartz Company and the School Board of School District No. 18, owners of land in Blocks 63 and 60 of the Original Townsite of Thief River Falls have petitioned the Council requesting that the storm sewer now located on the vacated Street along the South Side of Block 60 be extended a distance of 300 feet West and to be so constructed and installed as to drain the Southeast corner of the football field belonging to School District No. 18 and located in Block 60 of the Original Townsite of Thief River Falls and waiving notice of hearing on such petition and agreeing to pay the total cost of such sewer extension without the necessity of spreading an assessment therefor,

AND the City Engineer having advised that such extension is practical and that an outlet for such storm sewer can be provided in sewer now constructed,

BE IT RESOLVED, that such storm sewer improvement be and hereby is ordered constructed by day labor under the supervision of the City Engineer. That a just and true account be completed of the labor and material furnished for such construction and that the City Clerk present bills for the cost of such extension to the petitioners hereinbefore named.

The tournament committee, at a meeting held Tuesday evening, announced the formation of an eight-team golf league, with the following teams entered: Lincoln Life, Bratrud Clinic, Poppler's Furniture, J. & D. Drugs, Hartz Bakery, Soo Line, Oen's and the Thief River Falls Times. The team matches, which are scheduled to begin on July 2nd, will be arranged on a handicap basis and over a nine hole route.

Starting time for the team matches will be at 5:30 P. M. on Friday, July 2nd, and every Friday thereafter. Teams will be composed of four players, and if, at the time of a match, a team is short-handed an extra man, from an eligible list, can be added to the team. All teams must play the opponent listed on the schedule; and teams failing to report for a match will forfeit that match.

The committee also announced that the Thief River Falls short-stop tournament will be played over the local course on July 18th. Entry fee will be $1.00, and the qualifying scores must be reported by 9:00 A. M. on July 18th.

Army Gives Order Not to Publish Units in Which Service Men Are Placed

Headquarters of the Seventh Service Command at Omaha, Nebraska, today requested that all clubs, groups, and organizations who are preparing and publishing lists of their members in the armed forces refrain from giving the names of the military units to which these members belong as well as the geographical location of the members.

The publication of such information was indicated as presenting a threat both to the security of classified information, which the enemy may be able to use, and to the safety of the men themselves.

Only the listing of the name of the individual and the designation of the service—such as Army, Navy, WAAC, etc.—is permissible; for example: Corporal John Jones, Army.

It is requested that objectionable lists already printed be immediately and completely destroyed.

EAST SIDERS WIN BALL GAME 11 TO 9 FROM WEST SIDE

Nose out Victory after the Score Is Tied up in Sixth Inning

Harold "Hoople" Hanson won his own game Tuesday evening when he tripled in the first half of the 7th inning, scoring Gordy Lucas with the tie-breaking run and, when the West Side made a slow relay on his hit, Hanson scooted across with another tally to give the East Side a 11 to 9 decision over the West Side. The West Side, trailing by two runs, had knotted the score in the 6th inning, Wayne Anderson poling out a three-bagger to drive Bert Emanuel and Gordy Reierson across the plate.

The West Siders clicked off the game's only double play, with Glenn Hanna nabbing a pop fly and then tossing to first baseman Kjos to double Ole Ness.

The third game of the East vs. West series is slated to be played on the East Side park next Tuesday evening.

Made a Difference

Apparently the inclusion of their manager and catcher, Ole Ness, in the East Siders lineup made a difference, for with Ole behind the bat the East Side scored a well-earned 11 to 9 win over the West Side Tuesday evening, and knotted the series at one game apiece. Ole didn't do too well at bat, getting but one hit in four tries, but did instill enough pep into his outfit so that they held the upper hand throughout the game. The West Siders set up an eight-man infield whenever Ole comes to bat, and that defensive move stops him.

And Harold Hanson, the transplanted East Sider, gave Ole a lot of help in fashioning out the win, too, for Hoople, after replacing Wally DuChamp on the pitching mound in the 3rd inning, hurled five-hit ball and allowed only three runs. And on offense, Harold pounded out two triples.

Tom Jorde Bows Out

Although city champion Tommy Jorde is playing top-flight golf this year, it's a fact that the season's end will find a new champion ruling the local roost. Tom is enrolled in the Navy's V-1 program and has received his call to report at the University of Pennsylvania, and he'll leave for Philadelphia this week.

Lanky, free-swinging Tom shot a fine 74 gross on Sunday to win first place in the medal play tournament, and as an indication of the brand of golf he's shooting he had an eagle on the 1st hole, a par four on the 2nd, and a birdie four on the 3rd hole. And playing in a three-some with Hans Chommie and Dr. Hedemark Tuesday evening, Tom racked up five birdies and scored a four-under-par 32. Tommy was a member of the University of Minnesota's golf squad this spring and his game reveals the benefit of that experience.

It's Still Growing

Ole Frosath's buffalo fish, which weighed 17 pounds when caught last week, is bigger this week. Ole, in telling the story of the catch, has the fish weighing 18½ pounds and by next winter the fish will probably weigh about 25 pounds and perhaps turn into a northern pike or musky.

They Want a Ball Game

Every time the Stordahl boys from Gatzke come into town they wonder if the city has a ball team and if it is possible to arrange a game. While Gatzke hasn't organized a team this year they do have many of last year's team members available for play, and they are anxious to erase a couple of the defeats they absorbed from the locals last season, especially that 27 to 10 beating they received last August. It should be possible for Wally DuChamp and Ole Ness to collect a lineup and accommodate the Gatzke team. The problem, perhaps, is to secure gas and transportation.

Victory Garden Dept.

Said young Patty Gulseth, Clarence "Goose" Gulseth's 2½-year old daughter, as she and her dad were inspecting the Gulseth victory garden: "Daddy, our garden is a mess, isn't it?" That remark kind of bowled Goose over and while he'll concede that his garden isn't of the spick-and-span and weed-free variety, he refuses to admit that it's "a mess," and he suspects that someone, perhaps of the Pete Westergaard type, has coached his youngster to call Goose's garden "a mess."

TO EXHIBIT WAR RELICS AT STATE FAIR THIS YEAR

1943 Exposition Scheduled for August 28 to Sept. 6th

Uncle Sam and the 1943 Minnesota "On to Victory" State Fair have joined forces to bring to the Northwest, August 28 to September 6, the largest and most colorful war trophy exhibit from the world's battle fronts ever shown in the Middle West, Raymond A. Lee, state fair secretary, announced today.

This sensational exhibit will consist mostly of captured war equipment from North Africa, Guadalcanal, Attu and Russian war fronts. So many carloads of trophies are coming that thousands of square feet of space will be needed to display them.

The big war exhibit is only one of many new and outstanding features which the fair has programmed to dramatize the war. Special exhibits designed to help win the war are planned for every department.

Work on the coming fair is in full swing, and those in charge of its many departments are bending every effort to build an educational and entertainment program excelling that of any former fair.

Large agricultural, horticultural, bee culture, women's activities, fine arts and school exhibits shows, and many other educational displays, in tune with the war effort, are in the making.

The 4-H Club Show will be one of the fair's biggest features, and will demonstrate how the state's record-breaking 4-H Club enrollment of more than 50,000 boys and girls is helping in so many ways to win the war.

Now qualified as aerial gunners, they will become members of one of the thousands of bomber crews which will be sent overseas in a few weeks to battle the Nazis or the Japs somewhere "over there." They will receive crew training at an operational training field in the United States.

APPROVE PLAN FOR REORGANIZATION OF THE SOO LINE

Three Managers to be Named in Federal Court in Minneapolis

Last legal step in reorganization of Soo Line was taken Friday in Minneapolis when Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye issued an order finally approving the plan submitted by George W. Webster and Joseph H. Chapman, trustees.

The program was approved by interstate commerce commission June 17, 1942, and by federal court, as to its general provisions, Nov. 13, 1942.

The plan was filed March 10, 1941, and its final authorization by both ICC and federal court in 27 months is believed to set a new record for speed in setting up a program for financial and corporate reorganization of a Class 1 American railroad.

Three groups, representing principal holders of Soo Line bonds, insurance companies, mutual savings banks and Canadian Pacific railway, now have 10 days in which to submit nominations for three reorganization managers, one for each group.

The three group owns 51 per present Soo Line, 42 per cent of cent of first mortage bonds of the second mortage bonds and 77 per cent of first refunding bonds. Canadian Pacific is also the largest holder of Soo Line stock.

Members of the three groups last spring voted approval of the reorganization plan.

After the 10 days, Judge Nordbye will approve or disapprove the nominations. If approved, reorganization managers then will organize and set up the new corporation, in readiness to take over properties and business of present Soo Line. They will have nothing to do with management or operation, however.

Until transfer of properties is completed Soo Line will be operated by the present management, headed by Webster and Chapman.

Business Activity Here in May Was Well Above Same Month Last Year

The volume of bank debits in May 1943 for Thief River Falls indicates that business activity was 27 per cent above the same month last year, while figures for this year to date showed a 10 per cent increase when compared with the January through May period of 1942. These bank debit figures, released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today, represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay goods, services, debts, etc. Debit totals for a locality are considered a good indicator of general business volume and reflect not only the volume of trade but farmers' cash income and money spent by the Federal Government to cover payrolls and purchase war materials.

Army Gives Order Not to Publish Units in Which Service Men Are Placed

Headquarters of the Seventh Service Command at Omaha, Nebraska, today requested that all clubs, groups, and organizations who are preparing and publishing lists of their members in the armed forces refrain from giving the names of the military units to which these members belong as well as the geographical location of the members.

The publication of such information was indicated as presenting a threat both to the security of classified information, which the enemy may be able to use, and to the safety of the men themselves.

Only the listing of the name of the individual and the designation of the service—such as Army, Navy, WAAC, etc.—is permissible; for example: Corporal John Jones, Army.

It is requested that objectionable lists already printed be immediately and completely destroyed.

EAST SIDERS WIN BALL GAME 11 TO 9 FROM WEST SIDE

Nose out Victory after the Score Is Tied up in Sixth Inning

Harold "Hoopie" Hanson won his own game Tuesday evening when he tripled in the first half of the 7th inning, scoring Gordy Lucas with the tie-breaking run and, when the West Side made a slow relay on his hit, Hanson scooted across with another tally to give the East Side a 11 to 9 decision over the West Side. The West Side, trailing by two runs, had knotted the score in the 6th inning, Wayne Anderson poling out a three-bagger to drive Bert Emanuel and Gordy Reierson across the plate.

The West Siders clicked off the game's only double play, with Glenn Hanna nabbing a pop-fly and then tossing to first baseman Kjos to double Ole Ness.

The third game of the East vs. West series is slated to be played on the East Side park next Tuesday evening.

.... With HUCK OLSON

Made a Difference

Apparently the inclusion of their manager and catcher, Ole Ness, in the East Siders lineup made a difference, for with Ole behind the bat the East Side scored a well-earned 11 to 9 win over the West Side Tuesday evening, and knotted the series at one game apiece. Ole didn't do too well at bat, getting but one hit in four tries, but did instill enough pep into his outfit so that they held the upper hand throughout the game. The West Siders set up an eight-man infield whenever Ole comes to bat, and that defensive move stops him.

And Harold Hanson, the transplanted East Sider, gave Ole a lot of help in fashioning out the win, too, for Hoopie, after replacing Wally DuChamp on the pitching mound in the 3rd inning, hurled five-hit ball and allowed only three runs. And on offense, Harold pounded out two triples.

Tom Jorde Bows Out

Although city champion Tommy Jorde is playing top-flight golf this year, it's a fact that the season's end will find a new champion ruling the local roost. Tom is enrolled in the Navy's V-1 program and has received his call to report at the University of Pennsylvania, and he'll leave for Philadelphia this week.

Lanky, free-swinging Tom shot a fine 74 gross on Sunday to win first place in the medal play tournament, and as an indication of the brand of golf he's shooting he had an eagle on the 1st hole, a par four on the 2nd, and a birdie four on the 3rd hole. And playing in a three-some with Hans Chommie and Dr. Hedemark Tuesday evening, Tom racked up five birdies and scored a four-under-par 32. Tommy was a member of the University of Minnesota's golf squad this spring and his game reveals the benefit of that experience.

It's Still Growing

Ole Froseth's buffalo fish, which weighed 17 pounds when caught last week, is bigger this week. Ole, in telling the story of the catch, has the fish weighing 18½ pounds and by next winter the fish will probably weigh about 25 pounds and perhaps turn into a northern pike or musky.

They Want a Ball Game

Every time the Stordahl boys from Gatzke come into town they wonder if the city has a ball team and if it is possible to arrange a game. While Gatzke hasn't organized a team this year they do have many of last year's team members available for play, and they are anxious to erase a couple of the defeats they absorbed from the locals last season, especially that 27 to 10 beating they received last August. It should be possible for Wally DuChamp and Ole Ness to collect a lineup and accommodate the Gatzke team. The problem, perhaps, is to secure gas and transportation.

Victory Garden Dept.

Said young Patty Gulseth, Clarence "Goose" Gulseth's 2½-year old daughter, as she and her dad were inspecting the Gulseth victory garden: "Daddy, our garden is a mess, isn't it?" That remark kind of bowled Goose over and while he'll concede that his garden isn't of the spick-and-span and weed-free variety, he refuses to admit that it's "a mess," and he suspects that someone, perhaps of the Pete Westergaard type, has coached his youngster to call Goose's garden "a mess."

TO EXHIBIT WAR RELICS AT STATE FAIR THIS YEAR

1943 Exposition Scheduled for August 29 to Sept. 6th.

Uncle Sam and the 1943 Minnesota "On to Victory" State Fair have joined forces to bring to the Northwest, August 28 to September 6, the largest and most colorful war trophy exhibit from the world's battle fronts ever shown in the Middle West, Raymond A. Lee, state fair secretary, announced today.

This sensational exhibit will consist mostly of captured war equipment from North Africa, Guadalcanal, Attu and Russian war fronts. So many carloads of trophies are coming that thousands of square feet of space will be needed to display them.

The big war exhibit is only one of many new and outstanding features which the fair has programmed to dramatize the war. Special exhibits designed to help win the war are planned for every department.

Work on the coming fair is in full swing, and those in charge of its many departments are bending every effort to build an educational and entertainment program excelling that of any former fair.

Large agricultural, horticultural, bee culture, women's activities, fine arts and school exhibits shows, and many other educational displays, in tune with the war effort, are in the making.

The 4-H Club Show will be one of the fair's biggest features, and will demonstrate how the state's record-breaking 4-H Club enrollment of more than 50,000 boys and girls is helping in so many ways to win the war.

APPROVE PLAN FOR REORGANIZATION OF THE SOO LINE

Three Managers to be Named in Federal Court in Minneapolis

Last legal step in reorganization of Soo Line was taken Friday in Minneapolis when Federal Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye issued an order finally approving the plan submitted by George W. Webster and Joseph H. Chapman, trustees.

The program was approved by interstate commerce commission June 17, 1942, and by federal court, as to its general provisions, Nov. 13, 1942.

The plan was filed March 19, 1941, and its final authorization by both ICC and federal court in 27 months is believed to set a new record for speed in setting up a program for financial and corporate reorganization of a Class 1 American railroad.

Three groups, representing principal holders of Soo Line bonds, insurance companies, mutual savings banks and Canadian Pacific railway, now have 10 days in which to submit nominations for three reorganization managers, one for each group.

The three group owns 51 per present Soo Line, 42 per cent of cent of first mortage bonds of the second mortage bonds and 77 per cent of first refunding bonds. Canadian Pacific is also the largest holder of Soo Line stock.

Members of the three groups last spring voted approval of the reorganization plan.

After the 10 days, Judge Nordbye will approve or disapprove the nominations. If approved, reorganization managers then will organize and set up the new corporation, in readiness to take over properties and business of present Soo Line. They will have nothing to do with management or operation, however.

Until transfer of properties is completed Soo Line will be operated by the present management, headed by Webster and Chapman.

Business Activity Here in May Was Well Above Same Month Last Year

The volume of bank debits in May 1943 for Thief River Falls indicates that business activity was 27 per cent above the same month last year, while figures for this year to date showed a 10 per cent increase when compared with the January through May period of 1942. These bank debit figures, released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis today, represent the dollar volume of checks drawn by depositors against their bank accounts to pay goods, services, debts, etc. Debit totals for a locality are considered a good indicator of general business volume and reflect not only the volume of trade but farmers' cash income and money spent by the Federal Government to cover payrolls and purchase war materials.

CULL NON-LAYING HENS NOW, ADVISES POULTRY LEADER

Extension Service Offers Bulletin Giving Tips on Methods

Every non-laying hen in the farm flock is wasting scarce feed supplies, according to County Agent, Ernest Palmer, who advises a prompt, thorough job of culling the loafer hens. Good culling will save at least 25 per cent of the feed required to meet the increase in egg production asked for this year.

Tips on checking a flock for non-laying hens are given by Cora Cooke, extension poultry specialist at University Farm. If production of eggs drops below 50 per cent, non-layers are present, she says. When a hen stops laying in early summer, she gives notice not only that she is going to loaf all summer but that she is a poor layer at any time of the year.

Laying hens have red, soft, full combs and white beaks, according to Miss Cooke. A non-layer can be distinguished from a laying hen by her pale, dried-up comb and her yellow beak. As hens stop laying, the comb starts to shrink and fade and the white beak turns yellow at the base. As soon as non-layers are discovered, they should be culled immediately, Miss Cooke says, since feeding them is a big source of waste in wartime.

"Now You Can Spot the Loafer Hen," Extension Pamphlet 123, gives further information on what and when to cull. It may be obtained at the county extension office or by writing Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul.

Minnesota Elks Lodges Are Sharing in Drive to Enlist Men in Seabees

Manpower of the Minnesota Elks is being enlisted to secure manpower for the Seabees, the construction battalions of the Navy.

The Elks are embarked on a "carry the word campaign" to qualified Minnesota men that they may volunteer their talent and follow their trade into the Navy, says Lieut. Comdr. C. S. Olson, officer-in-charge of Navy recruiting at Minneapolis.

The Navy recruiting service is providing booklets and other informational material to the Elks so that they are qualified to speak with authority on the Seabees, Olson said.

"The need for construction men is growing daily," Olson continued. "Men 18 to 38 are eligible for the Seabees even if classified in 1A. They must volunteer, however, before receiving their induction notice. A call at any Navy recruiting station will launch the procedure whereby a qualified man can make a place for himself in the Seabees.

A woman at War Production Drive Headquarters has developed a method of processing workers' suggestions which saves 4,992 man-hours per year and 264,000 sheets of paper.

On His Last Leg

Apparently Axis troops are using one-legged men. An American soldier is shown examining an artificial leg which was left on a Tunisian battlefield by some German or Italian soldier who is literally on his last leg. Artificial limbs are a rarity on a battlefront where men are assumed to be in perfect condition.

GOVERNOR'S ORDER CLARIFIES 35-MILE SPEED LAW TANGLE

Thye Proclaims Speed Limit Effective on all Roads in Minnesota

Acting under authority of war-time emergency powers specifically conferred on him by the 1943 Legislature, Governor Ed. J. Thye has officially proclaimed the 35-mile national speed limit to be in full force and effect on all roads in Minnesota so long as it may prevail as a federal requirement.

The governor's order clarified, for courts, enforcement officers and the public, all confusion which had arisen as a result of an Austin municipal judge's refusal to convict speeders arrested under previous war-time emergency regulations. Of equal importance, it officially extended to 90,000 miles of county and local roads the same speed regulations in effect on the 11,265 miles of state trunk highways.

War-time speed limits first were established in Minnesota on May 29, 1942, when, at the request of the president and Office of Defense Transportation, former Governor Harold E. Stassen proclaimed 40 miles per hour as the maximum rate of travel for all motor vehicles, as a measure essential to conserve tires, save motor fuel, and safeguard the travelling public.

As the summer months passed, the nation's tire shortage became more and more acute, and it became obvious that a critical situation with regard to civilian gasoline supplies was unavoidable as a result of losses to coastwise shipping and increasing demands upon railroad transportation facilities. The Office of Defense Transportation, under its emergency powers, reduced the nation-wide speed limit to 35 miles an hour and urged all states to cooperate in every possible measure of enforcement.

Governor Thye eliminated all confusion, and at the same time established uniformity of regulations for all roads, by acting under Chapter 252 of the new 1943 state laws which provided that "when requested by the President of the United States or his duly authorized representative, the governor is authorized to formulate speed regulations for vehicles using streets and highways in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by duly authorized federal authorities in order to conserve essential materials." Such executive regulations have the full force and effect of law, and all state or local statutory regulations contrary thereto are suspended. The emergency act is effective until 60 days after the cessation of hostilities, or until July 1, 1945.

Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). The rest-pause that refreshes

MANAGERS and personnel directors will tell you that regular rest-pauses plus the refreshment of ice-cold Coca-Cola increase contentment in their plants. Thus production is increased. A pause for Coca-Cola is a little thing in itself, but one of the little things that brighten a busy day.

You might think it strange that workers have such a welcome for a 5¢ soft drink. But Coca-Cola has something all its own in goodness. Made with a finished art, its taste always pleases. More than just quenching thirst, it brings a happy after-sense of complete refreshment. The only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola, itself.

Drink Coca-Cola
Coca-Cola

The best is always the better buy!

A breathing spell, a rest-pause and ice-cold Coca-Cola. Contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things . . . a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

COULD IT BE?

Montevideo.—Can it be that the "bowling" craze has spread thru the country even to the chickens? That's the only solution folks at the Carl Nokleby farm can find for the fact that among their Leghorn hens struts the proud originator of the first miniature "Bowling pin" egg anyone in these parts has set eyes on. The egg is an exact replica of a bowling pin, two-and one-half inches in height and approximately one-and-one-quarter inches in diameter.

FIREWORKS HERE JULY 4th; STORES TO CLOSE MONDAY

MRS. GEORGE BIDDICK

Long active in local and Ninth district Legion auxiliary circles, who was elected to serve as president of the district organization at the war conference of the American Legion and auxiliary held at Moorhead last Sunday.

With the pall of war hanging over the nation, no plans have been made by communities in this section of the state for the usual Fourth of July celebrations next Sunday, and with gasoline rationing in effect fewer residents will make trips to lake resorts over the double holiday than in former years.

However, as a reminder of the nation's birthday, arrangements have been made as in the past years for fireworks display in Thief River Falls at dusk Sunday evening. The display, sponsored by the Civic and Commerce association in cooperation with the city council, will originate on the east side of the River near the Third st. bridge.

Local stores will remain closed all day Monday in observance of the holiday, it was announced today by the merchants committee of the Civic and Commerce group. Patrons are asked to keep the double holiday in mind when filling their week-end shopping needs.

Public offices, banks and postoffice also will remain closed Monday and there will be no mail deliveries in the city or on the rural routes. The local cooperative creamery, however, will receive cream Monday until 1 o'clock.

LT. JOHN KIEWEL FLIES TRANSPORT OVER CARIBBEAN

Associated Press Writer Tells of Trip With Local Pilot

An Associated Press writer in last Friday's Minneapolis Tribune gave a lengthy and interesting account of a trip on a huge air transport in the Caribbean area made in company with Lt. John W. Kiewel of this city, who served as pilot. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben J. Kiewel.

Serving with the naval air transport service operating out of Miami, Florida, Lt. Kiewel on the trip described carried 17 passengers and a quantity of freight to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Guantanamo, Cuba.

Kiewel has had prisoners of war among his passengers, and he reported them well behaved and seemingly cheerful. They traveled under guard, and were not permitted to look out of the plane's windows. As a precaution, the door leading into the pilots' compartment was locked.

A year old in March, the naval air transport service has flown many millions of miles and transported a mountain of material and mail, but little has been heard about it.

DRIVER OF LOADED GASOLINE TRUCK HAS CLOSE CALL

Obed Sabo Hits Power Cable Near Pelican Rapids Saturday

The accident occurred at the south outskirts of Pelican Rapids as Sabo was driving to Thief River Falls with a load of 3,600 gallons of gasoline.

The heavy cable pushed back the cab a considerable distance before breaking, and Sabo experienced a severe shock when he applied the hand brake, but escaped injury.

June Reservists Given Recognition Thursday

Relatives and friends of army and navy reservists, some of whom left the city to report for duty last Thursday with others leaving today and Friday, assembled in the Auditorium last Thursday evening for a farewell program sponsored by the Civic Service Organization and presided over by L. W. Rullen.

Dr. A. E. Jacobson, the speaker of the occasion, said that the American government is predicated on the theory that each man is free to work out his own destiny, and that the youth of this country is now meeting a challenge to that philosophy. Those who remain at home, he stated, pledge themselves to see to it that the men in service are supplied with everything needed to insure victory.

The program opened with the advance of the colors and the singing by the audience of "America", led by Robert J. Lund, following which Dr. C. G. Carlfelt supplied the invocation and Mayor Harry W. Kinghorn briefly addressed the members of the departing group.

Two songs were supplied by a girls' quintet, consisting of Jean Senstad, Joyce Brodin, Doris Heggeness, Eileen Froseth and Sylvia Borchert, accompanied on the piano by JoAnn Holmes. Other musical features included a group of accordion solos by Louis Hruby, and songs by a trio composed of Mrs. Arthur Berg, Mrs. Laura Johnson and Mrs. James DeVeau, with accompaniment by Mrs. Walter Larson.

Dr. E. S. Amesbury, chairman of the CSO, discussed briefly the functions of the organization, following which he supervised the distribution to the reservists of diaries and service kits, as well as of testaments supplied by the local Gideons unit. RED LAKES ARE AT PEAK LEVEL THIS SUMMER

Water Level Is Up Six Feet From Low Point a Few Years Ago

OFFICIALS INSPECT AREA LAST SATURDAY

Dam at Outlet Not Yet Opened Fully; Hope to Avert Floods

Red Lakes are up to the highest elevation ever recorded, having reached a peak at the outlet last week of 1177.90, and authorities are concerned about the consequences if the steady rise of the past two months continues. The lake level has come up about two feet since the ice went out this spring.

Local officials visited the lake Saturday afternoon and surveyed the condition with Tom White, Indian Agent in charge of the reservation. The dam at the outlet has not been opened to its full capacity as yet in the hope that it might be possible to reduce the flooding of low lands along the river below the outlet, but the lake is lapping at the crest of the road in several places and may come over at any time. State conservation and highway officials have been notified of the danger.

Thief River Falls men who inspected the condition Saturday were Alderman Frank Rinkel, City Light and Water Superintendent Ole Legvold, County Engineer J. A. Erickson, and W. E. Dahlquist. Mr. White stated that every effort would be made to avert flood condition below the outlet but that roads on the east side of the lake are already under water and that a strong east wind might force it over the west roads at any time. Wind and air pressure, he said, could change the elevation as much as a foot.

At the low mark of several years ago the lake was down to an elevation of a little over 1172 which means that the lake is now nearly six feet higher than it was at the low point.

In a letter received Wednesday by Mr. Dahlquist, Walter E. [illegible], director of the state division of water resources, said in part: "A cooperative endeavor between the Indian agency and this division has attempted to restrict the flow of water from the Red Lakes in order to give protection to the farm lands along the river below the dam.

"However, rainfall and climatic conditions have been such this year, with the cold weather and late spring affording little opportunity of escape of waters thru those avenues and with ground water saturation produced by last year's rainfall, that there has been only the river and lake left to take care of the inflows that have been created by rainfall and ground waters this spring.

"Sometime ago I wrote Mr. White and asked him to appraise the conditions on the Red Lake river and to release as much water thru the dam as possible, bearing in mind the agricultural lands below the lake control."

The graduates entered the Auditorium to the music of the processional march played by Miss Marjorie Matheson, followed by the singing of "God Bless America". Musical offerings included a clarinet solo by Jerry Joringdal and songs by a ladies' octet. Mrs. Matheson conferred the diplomas.

COUNTY FARMERS WARNED OF LATE POTATO BLIGHT

Cool Wet Weather Ideal for Spread of Disease, Says Palmer

Pennington county farmers should watch out for any appearance of late blight in their own or neighboring potato fields and should take immediate steps to prevent a recurrence of last year's outbreak, County Agent Ernest Palmer warned this week.

Most of the blight infection comes from infected tubers planted in the field or from potatoes hauled to dumps after freezing weather ends. A field planted with disease-free seed may become infected in wet weather by the spores blown from planting several miles away.

Cool, wet weather is ideal for spread of blight, while long hot, dry periods will check it completely. However, the cool, moist conditions under a heavy vine growth may often keep the disease alive through a hot, dry period and an epidemic may start later in the season when cool, wet weather sets in.

1. Bury refuse potatoes deep enough to prevent growth or use chemical sprays to prevent sprouting.

2. Spray with Bordeaux mixture in July or earlier, repeating every 10 to 14 days until the potatoes are ripe or frost is expected, or if the weather is favorable for blight, spray once a week. Good coverage is very important. Bordeaux mixture not only controls late blight but will reduce injury from flea beetles and leafhoppers.

Dusting, with copper lime dust or a low-soluble copper dust is easier than spraying in a hilly or stony area, where water must be hauled long distances, or where acreage is large. Dusts, used at the same intervals as recommended for sprays, should be applied when the wind is not blowing. Copper lime dust should always be applied to moist plants. Operators of dusters should wear a mask to avoid inhaling the dust.

For further information get a copy of Extension Folder 110, "Late Blight of Potatoes," from the county extension office or from Bulletin Room, University Farm, St. Paul.

FAMILY MEAT SUPPLY SAVED WITH TWO SHOTS

Ely—It took only two shots from a [illegible] rifle for Mrs. George [illegible], who lives 14 miles north of here, to save the family meat supply. While her husband was some twenty miles away in the woods working and the children in school she went into her backyard to feed the chickens and pigs and found a nice big 250-pound bear just about to enter the yard through the fence. Quick return to the house to pick up a 30-30 rifle and a dash to the yard again where two shots felled the big fellow, saved food in the family larder.

Should Apply Now for Renewal of Gas Books

Application blanks for renewal of gasoline ration books expiring in July are now available at local service stations, it was announced this week at headquarters of the local ration board.

At the same time the state OPA office issued the following instructions on filling out and handling the blanks:

Fill out the form and mail it to the War Price & Rationing Board, together with (a) the back cover of the present "A" or "D" book (properly filled out) and signed, and (b) the current tire inspection record showing that proper inspections have been made.

Every effort will be made to have new books in the hands of all car and motorcycle owners by July 21, when their present books expire. But this can be assured only if motorists and motorcycle owners cooperate by getting their application forms as soon as possible and filling them promptly.

The new application form, like those used last year, will have a tire inspection record attached. In filling out the form, applicants should make sure that their serial numbers are accurately written in. These numbers may be copied from the old tire record, as corrected at time of the last inspection, unless the applicant has acquired a new tire since then. In this case, he should write in the new tire number and attach a note explaining this to the Board.

The back cover of the present ration book is required as part of the application because it is evidence that the owner held a properly issued ration book and is entitled to a renewal, it was explained.

Home Canners Will Pack 5 Billion Jars of Food in 1943, It is Forecast

New fruits and vegetables must go into old bottles if workers and their families want to be sure of canning and preserving all their surplus Victory Garden produce, declares the labor division of the office of civilian defense.

The U. S. department of agriculture estimates that home canners will seal from four to five billion jars of food in 1943, a record pack some 1.9 billion jars higher than in 1942 because of the general food situation and the Victory Garden program. Glass jars for home canning are being produced, but the demand in many localities will be so great that additional jars must be found thru these two supplementary sources:

1. Old, but sound, standard canning jars stored in many homes.

2. Jars in which coffee, mayonnaise, pickles and certain other foods were packed by commercial food processors.

Safety saves your country.

37TH MARSHALL COUNTY FAIR SET FOR JULY 12-14

Premium Lists Are Ready for Distribution, Secretary States

Premium lists for Marshall county's 37th annual Victory Food Fair which will be held at the Fair grounds in Warren on July 12, 13 and 14, will be ready for distribution among prospective exhibitors this week, O. M. Mattson, secretary, announced.

The booklet stresses the need of food production in all departments with special emphasis being placed on the production of war crops in this area. All departments suggest the Food for Freedom theme which will be featured throughout the entire fair program.

The victory garden display which is sponsored by the Warren Commercial club will create much interest among farm and town gardeners, the booster club offering $25.00 in U. S. war stamp prizes for this feature. The judging will be based on preparation of specimens, uniformity to type, size and color as well as arrangement of the display. Anticipating a large number of entries in the contest, a large section of the grandstand exhibit hall is being reserved for this special feature.

Much interest is also being taken in the State Bank of Warren hog litter contest which was announced several weeks ago. The bank will offer a $25.00 War Bond for the largest and best litter of hogs displayed in the contest. The fair association will contribute second and third prizes in the form of U. S. War Stamps as an aid to the contest.

Numerous new lots have been placed in the grain show, including several varieties of both wheat and flax. Best samples in these classes will be given special recognition through the award of sweepstakes ribbons.

Many livestock breeders thruout Marshall and Northern Polk counties are already making preparations for exhibiting at the 1943 fair, with indications pointing to another record display.

The new shipment has not arrived, but work will resume on Tuesday the 6th or as soon as it reaches us. Workers will be notified by telephone.

M. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays there is time set for an adult swimming class so those interested in learning to swim should take advantage of this opportunity. The armed forces class is at 7:30 P. M. on these nights.

LOCAL SCHOOLS SHOW UP WELL IN DENTAL HEALTH

State Director Comments on Findings in Survey of City

Several rooms in the Thief River Falls Public Schools made creditably high scores in dental health this year according to reports recently tabulated by Dr. Vern D. Irwin, Director of the Division of Dental Health, Minnesota state department of health. The department acts in an advisory capacity to the schools in conducting their dental health program.

Knox and Washington schools each finished the school year with 50 per cent of all the pupils having their needed dental corrections completed, Dr. Irwin's figures show. The highest score was made by Grade 6 in Washington school, where 80 per cent of the pupils had all their necessary dental work done. Grade 4 in Northrop school had 63 per cent, and Grade 4 in Knox school had 62 per cent.

Those percentages represent the number of pupils receiving dental health cards who returned the cards, signed by their dentists, before the end of the school year. Dentists sign the cards when they have either completed all necessary dental work for the child or found no work to be necessary. Thus the percentage of cards returned with a dentist's signature shows what proportion of the enrollment, in any room or school, have "O.K. mouths" at the end of the school year.

In Thief River Falls schools, dental health cards were given out only in Grades 2, 4, 6, 9, and 12, though a dental health educational program was carried on throughout all the grades.

Hazel Soldier Writes Interestingly of His Experiences in Africa

In an interesting letter to his mother, Mrs. Erick Krats of Hazel, Pfc. Kenneth A. Krats, stationed since November 20 in North Africa, tells of his experiences on the Tunisian front. He says the area in which he was stationed had been bombed frequently by the enemy, but that the Jerries are "rotten shots." He has participated in the battles of Kassarin Pass, Gafsa and El Cretor, as well as in the battle of Bizerte, in which the cities of Bizerte and Tunis fell at the same time. He adds that he has talked to German and Italian prisoners of war, and that they are sick of it all. "The French people love us," he says.

As Mr. Ulvan is leaving the city he is resigning from the board at this time.

ADVISES AGAINST LAST MINUTE RUSH TO USE UP STAMPS

Don't Wait Until End of Period to Use Coupons Board Head Urges

Waldie Christensen, chairman of the local ration board, warned today against a last minute rush of purchasing food stuff in order to use up stamps. If the purchases are spread as evenly as possible it will prevent the even flow of rationed commodities from being demoralized through the retail stores as occurred recently when customers tried to spend their expiring shoe stamps all at once, causing great hardship.

"There is nothing to be gained in waiting until the last few days to use these ration points," said Mr. Christensen. Those who shop well ahead of the expiration deadline will find stores less crowded and a greater variety of foods in the counters, and these stamps will buy the same amount of foods now as they will next week.

"If you don't need your weekly ration points, destroy the coupons. Don't feel compelled to use the points if you do not need the food."

FUEL OIL RATION FORMS SHOULD BE FILLED OUT NOW

Prompt Action Is Urged by Chairman of the Local Ration Board

Only occupants of oil heated homes who act promptly in returning applications for next year's fuel oil rations to their war price and rationing board will benefit fully from plans to assure them adequate supplies in their fuel tanks before winter sets in, Waldie Christensen, chairman of the local board, declared today.

The board has made special arrangements for renewing heating oil rations in July to enable householders to get deliveries weeks, even months, in advance of cold weather, said Mr. Christensen. But this cannot be accomplished, he warned, unless consumers fill out their forms at once and mail them back to the board.

The application form, one of the simplest to be used by OPA, contains only five questions, all of which can be answered easily in a few minutes. Cooperation of the public in getting the application in quickly will be of inestimable value to the board in getting new coupon sheets issued during July, according to the chairman.

In order to make early tank fill-ups possible, the OPA has made about one-third of the coupons in each consumer's ration valid on July 1, even though last year's heating period system will be continued in modified form.

1. Period 1 coupons.

2. "Consumer's reserve" coupons, constituting approximately one-sixth of the year's ration. These will remain valid throughout the year.

3. "Change making" coupons, which will make up a substantially larger proportion of the year's ration than last year. They will also remain valid throughout the year.

Mr. Christensen pointed out that ration holders in filling their tanks this summer should use their Period 1 coupons together with any Period 5 coupons remaining from the present ration. Householders with large storage facilities may also draw upon their "reserve" coupons on the new sheets. Otherwise these "reserve" coupons, which will be valid through the year, should be held as a cushion for use later in the winter.

Mr. Christensen emphasized that any oil purchased this summer by a consumer with new coupons is a part of his ration for next year — October 1, 1943 to September 30, 1944.

Salvage Committees Launch Waste Paper Drive in Northwest

All over the Northwest this week local salvage committees were intensifying campaigns to collect waste paper, particularly brown paper in boxes, containers, bags and wrapping material.

The drive for waste paper collection has been stepped up to meet acute shortages at the mills because of the current inability to increase the supply of wood pulp.

Waxed paper and cellophane cannot be used, regional WPB officials point out, but not a single piece of other waste paper, such as newspapers, magazines, and cardboard cartons should be thrown away or burned.

While encouraging the individual savings of waste paper, regional salvage men cautioned local scrap committees not to stage a waste paper drive or collection until arrangements for its disposal have been completed. In areas where there is no waste material dealer or independent collector who buys or picks up the waste paper, arrangements should be made by the local committees to insure its immediate shipment.

Tremendous quantities of waste paper are needed to make containers for the food, ammunition, supplies and other requirements of the overseas soldiers.

Hagen, if committee hearings permit, will address the 1943 conference of Minnesota Townsend clubs scheduled for July 16th, 17th, and 18th, at the Nicollet hotel in Minneapolis. Appointment of a sub-committee to the Ways and Means Committee in Congress to hold hearings on all pension measures which will include H. R. 1649, the Townsend bill, has heightened interest in the conference which is expected to attract about 1200 delegates from all parts of Minnesota.

RED LAKES A PROBLEM AGAIN

Red Lakes are at an all-time high level as far as the records reveal and only a few inches of highway grade keep it from spilling over the brim. At the present time the dam at the outlet is open to only about half its capacity but it is estimated that about 900 cubic feet of water are pouring over the spillways every second. If the lake continues to rise the water will come over the road or the dam will have to be opened to its full capacity of about 2,000 feet a second. Both these things may happen, or neither. What will happen depends on rainfall, wind and air pressure, factors over which man has no control.

Conservation and highway department officials are keeping in touch with the developments and will do all that can be done to keep the waters under control. Tom White, Superintendent of the Indian Reservation, is co-operating too. The lake has already put roads on the east side of the reservation out of service and it has been necessary to close the saw mill, but the flow through the outlet will be limited as much as possible to the capacity of the river in order to reduce flood damage west of the reservation.

Ten years ago we were confronted with this same problem in reverse. At that time there were fears the lake would dry up completely and towns along the river were worried about their water supply.

These two extremes within such a short period of time focus attention upon the need for a system of river and lake control that will best serve the needs of both wet and dry periods. Ten years ago it would have been difficult to secure the co-operation of the Indians in any control program that would have provided for a maximum level of the lake less than full capacity. But a reservoir that is full to the brim is of no value in flood control. The Indians have now indicated that they are willing to go along on any reasonable control program and so perhaps the experience of the past ten years has accomplished some good.

At a meeting of employers and employees this week, it was decided that Thief River Falls stores will operate on sun-time hours on Saturdays during the haying and harvest season. That means that by the hours of daylight saving the stores will remain open Saturday evenings until ten o'clock in order to give farmers more time to shop during the harvest period. It also will mean a later opening hour for stores on Saturday mornings. In behalf of those who work in stores we would like to remind people, and especially those living in town, that these later closing hours are not an invitation to later shopping. They are adopted out of consideration for the farmer who, because of the shortage of farm help, is unable to do his necessary work and get to town early. Saturday is a hard day for those who work in stores. It is a day of hard work and long hours. The closing hour is not the end of their day's work. After the last customer is waited on there is still another hour of work to be done caring for merchandise. This is especially true in the food stores and these employees are especially deserving of consideration. Those who can shop early should shop early. The later hours are for those who cannot get in early.

There will be no county fair this year, the first time in the forty-two year record of the organization that the annual event has been suspended. If conditions justify it there probably will be a miniature fair, modeled to serve the needs of 4-H activities, later in the summer. A strictly home-talent show might provide a proper background for a community outing after the hustle and bustle of the rush season.

This kind of a season reminds us that the drainage system that nearly bankrupted us does have some actual value. Whatever the defects of that system may be, we still can be glad that we have it for, if we didn't have it, our problem in such a wet season would be more serious than it is. That costly drainage system has been neglected. Many of our ditches are operating at only a fraction of their intended capacity, and one of these days we are going to be confronted with a heavy cleaning expense. Now, in the wet years when the need for an efficient drainage system is generally appreciated, would be a good time to start a program of ditch cleaning that would extend over a period of years.

The President will not put the nation's house in order merely by giving the newspapers a tongue lashing. The solution to our domestic difficulties is not so easy. We have reached the point where we must quit taking stimulants and start the very unpleasant procedure of sobering up. A nation that has been kept drunk for nearly ten years is not going to take kindly to the idea of getting along without that regular shot in the arm from the federal treasury.

CROPS AND SOILS DAY TO BE JULY 13 AT N. W. SCHOOL

Farmers Will Inspect Demonstration Plots of New Varieties

Crops and Soils Day, scheduled for Tuesday, July 13, at the Northwest School and Station, Crookston, will be of special interest to Red River Valley farmers this year. New varieties of disease-resistant crops growing on the experimental plots and increase fields will be shown in comparison with the older recommended crop varieties.

The program for the day starts at 10:30 A. M. with the annual business meeting of the Red River Valley Crops and Soils association in the school library. A tour of the livestock and poultry yards is scheduled for 11:00 A. M. with O. M. Kiser and A. M. Pilkey, in charge.

Crop experts from University Farm, St. Paul, headed by Dean and Director C. H. Bailey and vice-director P. R. Immer will take part on the program which starts at 1:30 P. M. Dr. H. K. Hayes, noted small grain and corn breeder and chief of the division of agronomy and plant genetics, will be present to discuss "Recent Development in the Production of New Strains of Forage Crops." Plant disease specialist, Carl J. Eide, and J. J. Christensen will give latest information on disease control in potatoes and cereal crops.

R. S. Dunham, station agronomist, will conduct the tour of inspection through the crops and forage plots at the Northwest Experimental Station; J. H. Wampole, horticulturist, will lead the tour through the potato plots.

FLAX variety test with such new varities as Crystal, Kato, and Victory.

BARLEY—New Minnesota hybrids of early strains with stiff straw, high bushel weight and rust resistant.

WHEAT—Small plots and increase field of New Thatch which will replace the Thatcher variety. Two new macaroni wheats, Carlton and Stewart, are in small increased plots this year.

OATS—New smut and crown resistant varieties, Tama and Vicland are grown in comparison with older recommended varieties.

CORN—All of the leading early recommended corn hybrids will be found in the corn variety tests.

SOYBEANS—The earliest varieties of soybeans, Kabbot, Pagoda, and Minsoy, will be found in the 1/40 acre plots.

Strain tests of grasses include desirable strains of brome grass, meadow fescue, crested wheat, Timothy, and orchard grass.

Ten pasture grass combinations, alfalfa and sweet clover variety trials, will be of interest to both crops and livestock men. A new crops test of interest to farmers this year is the hemp variety, seeding and seed treatment test, in which Kentucky and Chilean hemps are grown in comparison. New varieties of potatoes and comprehensive spraying and seed treatment tests will be shown on the tour of potato plots.

GOLFER WITH CHARMED LIFE

Willmar. — Herb Hengstler, sportswriter for the Daily Tribune, believes he either lives a very charmed life or his philosophy of fatalism is absolutely correct. Playing his favorite game, golf, he found his ball out in the rough. He was just getting set to give it a real wallop, when bang, a golf ball hit him with terrific impact right between the eyes. Herb had his glasses on and to his amazement found the glasses unharmed and he too was okay except for seeing a lot of stars. Upon looking for the ball which had glanced 25 feet after hitting him he found it was the ball he was playing with. What happened was he had given it a wallop and the ball hit a tree and bounded right back to hit him in between the eyes.

GARDEN and TABLE

By ERNEST A. PALMER
County Agricultural Agent

Grandma's advice about staying out of the garden while it is wet is still good. Brushing from one plant to another, wet with rain or dew, will spread many diseases such as bean blight.

Watch your tomatoes and other plants for mosaic. You can tell this disease by the mottled light and dark green areas on the leaves. The plants become spindly, too. Mosaic is caused by a virus harbored in many weeds and in tobacco used for chewing and smoking. The virus is usually spread by weeds, by sucking insects which carry it from one plant to another, or by handling during cultural operations. To control, keep down weeds in the garden and vicinity; destroy affected plants if there aren't too many. If you're a tobacco user, wash your hands before touching plants.

The cucumber beetle is easy to identify with its yellow body and three black stripes. As soon as your vine crops are out of the ground, you'd better take measures to protect them against this pest. It can be a bad actor, often killing your plants and causing serious damage to older plants. It also spreads bacterial wilt and cucumber mosaic diseases. Control by dusting the plants, especially under the leaves, with a mixture of 1 pound of calcium arsenate to 9 pounds of gypsum. Burned gypsum is most satisfactory. This should be thoroughly mixed by rubbing through a fine screen several times and applied as soon as the plants appear above ground. If gypsum (land plaster) is not available, hydrated lime may be substituted. The plants should be kept covered with the mixture as long as beetles are present.

If any of your gladiolus plants turn yellow early this summer before blooming, pull them out and burn them. Then, next fall, when you have cleaned the bulbs, burn the tops and the old bulbs. Store the new bulbs in a cool, well ventilated place which is not too dry. Extension Folder 93, Gladiolus Diseases and Their Control, will give you information on how to take care of your glads.

Don't hold back on canning berries this summer because you think you won't have enough sugar. Though it's true that a little sugar helps canned fruits hold their color and flavor, sugar is not necessary to keep canned fruit from spoiling. So if you have more good fruit than sugar at any time this summer, don't let it go to waste. Can the fruit and mark the jars to indicate "no sugar". You can sweeten the fruit when the family can best spare the sugar from its ration.

Harold Hanson Clears Bases with Home Run in Seventh Inning

Pitcher Milt Reierson tossed up two home run pitches to Harold Hanson Tuesday evening, and "Hoople" proceeded to pound the ball out of the park, clouting a home run in the third inning, with Ole Ness on base, and then winning the game for the East Siders in the last half of the 7th frame with a home run with Ness and Land on the bases.

The West Side, with a four-run cluster in the 1st inning, held the lead until the 7th inning, when a walk to Ness and Land's single set the stage for Hanson's homer.

The two teams are tentatively scheduled to play another game in their series this evening.

A FISH STORY THAT'S A STRINGER

Montevideo.—Not very unusual was the fact that Earl Bright caught himself a fine big northern pike one day recently but the sequel to the story is unusual. Upon catching the fish Earl immediately put it on a stringer and stamped the stringer into the ground—real good, he thought. But it couldn't have been done real good because a bit later fish, stringer and all were missing. Bright kept right on fishing nevertheless, and some ten minutes later he caught another fish, he thought. But, you've guessed—it was the same fish, stringer and all.

Keeping Score

.... With DICK OLSON

The Lincoln Life team, by reason of its win last year, must be installed as the favorite as the city's golf league teams moves into their second season of play tomorrow evening. Lloyd Bennes, the team's captain, is fortunate that in this year of war, he has the same players available that won the league championship last year—Hans Chommie, Rev. G. S. Thompson, Floyd Daniels, and Bennes—and that fact should give the Life's quite an advantage. Lloyd has been doing a lot of grousing this year about the erratic golf he's been shooting—he has several scores in the 50's—but I notice that his rounds in Sunday's tournament were in the low 40's, so he's perhaps on the beam again. And anyway, with Hans, Floyd, and Rev. Thompson on his roster, Lloyd can afford to have some erratic golf.

But the Bratrud Clinics, with Doctors Bratrud, Hedemark, Helseth, and Jacobson on their roster; and Ed Carlson's Harts Bakery team, with Vic Kvikstad and Rev. Merth added to the lineup, will give the Lincoln Life team plenty of competition.

Unbeatable Play

The East Siders took the advantage in their series with the West Side Tuesday evening when they put on a "Garrison finish" to nose out the West Side, 6 to 5. It was a tough loss for pitcher Milt Reierson, who hurled a fine game for the West Side; but the kind of play the East Siders exhibited gave the edge to Ole Ness' boys. Defensively the East Siders were sensational, and that a mild word to describe three catches the boys made. Bobby Carlson, in left field, made a running, tumbling catch, and managed to hang on to the ball; Wally DuChamp, with the bases loaded with West Side runners, made a one-handed spear of Bob Baker's line drive in the 7th inning; and Jimmy Arneson, in centerfield, an important "ringer" in the East Side lineup, made a clover-picking, shoe-top catch of Bert Emanuel's hoist in the 4th inning. Those three plays were the defensive high-lights of the game.

Harold Hoople Hanson personally took over the game's offense, connecting for a centerfield homerun in the 3rd inning and a game-winning left-field homerun in the 7th inning. Hoople says that the reason he has such a sharp batting eye is because he's eating carrots. Manager Chuck Dostal better make note of that and order a couple of crates of carrots for the West Side team.

Wally DuChamp finally punched out a hit off Milt Reierson, but he had to pull an Eddie Kiefenheim and sneak in an illegal bat, using a junior baseball stick.

Considerable player interest has been generated by the diamondball series, and as a result an attempt will be made to play a game this evening. Whether or not the game will be an official series game will be threshed out by the managers before the game. Otherwise the contest will be in the nature of a practice tussle, giving the players an opportunity to quicken their reflexes.

A Fine Walleye

Carl Kretzschmar, fishing out of Wheeler's Point on Lake of the Woods last week, caught a six-pound, two-ounce walleyed pike. Carl, using a fly rod, caught the pike on a small spinner and a minnow, a bait which seems to be the favorite lure up there, and had to "play" the fish for fifteen or twenty minutes before he brought him to the net.

Bill Parbst and Oscar Ellingson came in with a fine string of walleyes from Morris Point on Sunday, catching their limit by early afternoon. Bill and Oscar didn't fish off the Morris Point sand bars, but moved a bit eastward, about a mile, and were off the north shore of Pine Island.

Stan's Eagle

About as neat a feat as Carl's catching of that six-pound walleye was Stan Larson's eagle 3 on the par five fifth hole on the local golf course Tuesday evening. Stan hooked his drive around the pump house, hit the green with his second shot, and then dropped a twenty foot putt for the eagle.

DON'T LOSE LIVES CELEBRATING 4TH GOV. THYE PLEADS

Issues Appeal to Public to Exercise Caution Over Holiday Weekend

Governor Ed. J. Thye, in a special July Fourth safety message, broadcast to the people of the state through the traffic safety committee of the Minnesota Editorial association and its 483 member newspapers, has appealed to every motorist and pedestrian to help prevent the loss of life in celebrating the nation's independence, which so many thousands of Americans have given their lives to win and to preserve.

The governor's proclamation follows:

Whereas, the National Saftety Council is conducting a nationwide campaign to enlist every American in a united attack on accidents that hinder the nation's war effort; and

Whereas, the heavy July accident toll—which last year took the lives of 8,750 Americans—illustrates the dissipation of our manpower and the needless waste of human and material resources so citally needed for victory; and

Whereas, the safe observance of the Independence Day holiday and enlistment in the total war on accidents is the patriotic duty of every citizen;

Now Therefore, I, Edward J. Thye, governor of the state of Minnesota, do hereby call upon every citizen to join wholeheartedly in support of this safety campaign. With the future of our nation at stake, every business and industry should enlist in this campaign and every citizen should exercise increased vigilance and caution—in daily work in the factories, farms, other locations, and in leisure time activities over the Fourth of July holiday. We cannot let accidents continue to sap our national strength and interrupt war production.

Grygla 4-H Girl Gets Trip to Michigan Camp

For outstanding leadership and achievement in 4-H club work, four Minnesota club members have been awarded trips to the American Youth Foundation leadership training camp at Shelby, Michigan, to be held August 2-15, A. J. Kittleson, state 4-H club leader, announced today. They are Douglas G. Vandergrift, Albert Lea, Freeborn county; Barbara Pike, Rochester, Olmsted county; Ruth Lindblad, Lake Lillian, Kandiyohi county; and Loren Graskamp, Fountain, Fillmore county. Because Douglas and Loren feel that they will be too busy with food production on the farm, they have decided not to take the trip to camp. Instead, they will be given war bonds. As alternate, Helen Rasmussen, Grygla, Beltrami county, will receive the trip to the camp. She has been a 4-H member for seven years.

DOLLAR IS SET AS "O" TIRE CEILING PRICE

One dollar apiece is the maximum price that the Office of Price Administration has set on unrepaired "emergency tires" which are now being made available to Northwest dealers thru the Defense Supplies Corporation. These used, low-quality tires are branded with an "O" on the sidewall. Where dealers make repairs they may charge the motorists the additional cost of the repairs. Suitable for "spares," the emergency tires may be obtained with rationing certificates obtained for Grade III tires.

STATE OFFERED WAR PRISONERS FOR FARM WORK

Men Are Available If Wanted, Under Rigid Conditions, Says Miller

The possibility of obtaining war prisoners for farm work in Minnesota brightened perceptibly Tuesday, Paul E. Miller, director of the state's emergency farm help program, announced in St. Paul Tuesday. The number of such prisoners that may be brought in, he explained, will depend on community reaction and the availability of camp facilities.

Prisoners must be housed and fed in groups and will be under guard while at work as well as when off duty. The cost of such labor to farmers will approximate going wages in each community.

Miller has been advised definitely by the war department that war prisoners are available if the department's conditions are met.

The War Department, Miller explained, must be assured that there is a local need for war prisoner labor and that the presence of prisoners will not reduce the demand for free labor at local going wages. Applications will be approved only when it is established that the presence of such a camp will be acceptable to a given community.

"Our negotiations," Miller said, "indicate that war prisoner labor can be utilized best in those areas that are devoted to highly specialized crops, particularly potatoes, sugar beets, sweet corn, peas, and other commercial vegetables."

Since it is probable that the demand for farm help will continue urgent, particularly in 1944, Miller said the development of the war prisoner program would be carried on primarily to meet the long-time rather than the immediate, needs.

Miller asks community leaders in areas where war prisoner camps would be feasible and acceptable locally to get in touch with him at University Farm, St. Paul.

NEWFOLDEN

Celebrates Silver Wedding

The Newfolden high school was the scene of a silver wedding celebration Wednesday evening, June 23. About 250 friends and relatives gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Axel Anderson, who on that day had reached their 25th anniversary of wedded life. The Auditorium was decorated with bouquets of mixed garden flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Carol Bjornrud. Mrs. Anderson wore a corsage of mixed garden flowers and ferns. Rev. Myhrer acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. A. O. Gudim led in devotion. Rev. Doerre of Viking gave a short message. Mr. Ronholm also gave an interesting talk. Several musical numbers were rendered by the Viking young people consisting of two numbers by the male quartet, a solo by Aleck Anderson and a solo by Marvelle Flodstrom. Ruth Sheveland gave a very interesting reading which she had composed for the occasion relating incidents of their courtship and marriage. The trio consisting of Margarite Lee, Irene Huglin, and Mrs. Palmer Wold sang two songs.

Rev. Myhrer presented the honored couple with a purse of money in memory of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson thanked all for what was done for them that evening. In closing the audience sang "America."

Only one of the children, namely Arloine, could be present for the occasion. Fou of the children who could not be present were Charlotte who is employed in Sioux Falls, S. Dak., Joyce in Esmond, N. Dak., Marvin in California, and Dennis who is in the army.

The scrap iron pile by the elevator is growing every day as the farmers bring in their spare scrap iron. The scrap iron drive to be sponsored by the business men has not been much of a success so far because of the heavy rains which have made the side roads almost impassable. Instead of an all-out drive in one day the committees for each township have set their own date as roads are reported somewhat passable.

OUTLOOK FOR FARM MACHINERY MUCH IMPROVED IN N. W.

WPB Orders Increased Production and Sale of Equipment

The Northwest's farm machinery and supply picture was considerably brighter this week, following a series of War Production Board orders that will insure the increased output and sale of equipment needed to provide essential grain and livestock food.

Over 100 manufacturers of a wide variety of farm equipment in Minnesota, North and South Dakota are busily preparing to take full advantage of the WPB order allocating an additional 900,000 tons of steel in the next 12 months for agricultural purposes, regional WPB officials in Minneapolis said.

Added to their present quotas of steel, the new allocation will permit the manufacture of approximately 80 per cent of the relatively high 1940 production of sowing, harvesting and threshing machinery, brooder houses, fence wire and scores of other farm items. Regional WPB officials are confident that the farm equipment industry is capable of meeting the production quotas set, notwithstanding the present war contract which many of them hold.

Simultaneously, WPB announced that the farm equipment industry expects to have completed by July 1 an additional 18,300 combines and harvesters for which special allocations of critical materials were made some months ago. This comes as good news to Northwest farmers who even now are preparing for fall harvesting of this year's grain and feed crop.

Civilian Food Supply and Prices Stabilized by Government Action

More adequate supplies of canned foods for civilian use have been assured through recent action of government war agencies which at the same time moved to keep retail food prices of several commodities at present levels.

As the result of one order, grocery stores will be able to restock their shelves with canned apple sauce, blueberries, figs, beets, carrots, pumpkin and squash. Canners previously have been permitted to pack these foods only for military, lend-lease and other essential governmental use.

Meanwhile a government program has been launched to prevent increases in the consumer prices of canned green peas, snap beans, sweet corn, tomatoes and other primary tomato products.

No new increases will be permitted in the canners' ceiling prices on these food items and a part of the processing costs will be absorbed by the Commodity Credit Corporation to permit payment of higher wages and other increased costs of production.

FIVE-YEAR-OLD LAWN-MOWER SOLD FOR $24

SPEED VIOLATION ARRESTS FOR MAY TOP ALL RECORDS

Patrol Arrests 409 Drivers for Exceeding War-Time Limits

Driving home Minnesota's determination to comply with the war-time speed regulations designed to prevent the crippling of essential motor transportation facilities, the state highway patrol last month arrested 409 motorists and issued written warning tickets to 425 more for violating the 35-mile an hour emergency speed limit.

This was the largest number of drivers arrested for speed violations in any one month since the patrol was established by law fourteen years ago.

During May, traffic law violators arrested for traffic law infractions totalled 1,115, written warning tickets 850, and verbal warnings for less serious infractions 2,746, according to the monthly report of Chief Elden Rowe to Highway Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann.

During the same period, patrolmen gave aid to 2,512 motorists of which 905 required assistance in making minor adjustments or repairs and 42 had to be pulled out of ditches.

Of the arrests reported for offenses other than excessive speed, 125 were for going through a stop sign or signal, 107 for careless driving, 103 for driving with improper or illegal equipment, 62 for improper passing and 55 for driving while drunk.

Youths Must Register for Draft on Their 18th Birthday, Says Nelson

Persons who are required to register under selective service when they become eighteen years of age must register on the day they attain their eighteenth birthday, Colonel J. E. Nelson, state director of selective service, emphasized today.

The statement was issued for the information of those persons who believe they can register at any convenient time after their eighteenth birthday.

Selective service regulations provide that it is the personal responsibility of all persons subject to registration to be familiar with the time of such registration and to accomplish that registraion according to the law.

Registration on the eighteenth birthday is in addition a protection for the individual, Colonel Nelson pointed out. Any person within the age groups which have been required to register must have evidence of registration in his possession at all times. Any person required to register who does not have such evidence will be caused unnecessary difficulties and embarrassment, it was emphasized. Local police have been instructed to take into custody all such persons and will detain them until the question of registration has been cleared.

Every day they fought in the last phase of the Tunisian campaign, Gen. Doolittle's air fighters needed as much aviation gasoline as would fill two railroad tank trains of 60 cars each.

Let's help our farmer neighbors with their hauling problems

AMERICA'S farmers have the tremendous responsibility of raising more food this Summer than ever before in the nation's history.

Don't keep any farmer waiting

Owners of stores, operators of markets, warehouses, elevators, terminals and processing plants, can aid substantially in the success of the "Food for Victory" program by expediting the loading and unloading of farm products.

Every farmer is an essential home front soldier. Don't keep him waiting. He has a long way to go and no time to waste.

Studebaker dealers go out of their way to help obtain parts for all makes of trucks.

They co-operate further by handling special repair jobs for farmers as fast as possible.

Many Studebaker dealers have special facilities for locating used trucks, that have been idle or in part-time use, for sale to farmers.

Keep your car and truck up to par

All trucks and cars must be kept in good shape to safeguard the nation's vital transportation life lines. And that's especially important this Summer.

Drop in for regular inspections. Studebaker dealers' mechanics are Essential Transportation Workers who can spot and correct truck or car trouble before it becomes serious.

Ask for free copy of Studebaker's valuable, new, 48-page book, "Care and Maintenance of the Farm Truck"—or write Studebaker Truck Division, Dept. N, South Bend, Indiana.

The May increase was less than for the periods ending March 15 and April 15. Meanwhile, reports showed that the average per capita income in the United States had risen to $85 a month, compared to $47.92 in July 1940. Military expenditures in July of 1940 amounted to only about $1.50 a person as contrasted to present war costs of approximately $55 per capita per month.

Volume 33 Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota Thursday, July 8, 1943 Number 27

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

STATE DEBT IS AGAIN SLASHED, SAYS SCHMAHL

Outstanding Obligations on June 30th Were Under $100,000,000

DEBT IS CUT SEVEN MILLION PAST YEAR

State Trust Funds Also Have Increased Sharply in Recent Years

Announcing that another big slice has been cut off of the state's debt, State Treasurer Julius Schmahl in a financial report covering the fiscal year just closed disclosed this week that Minnesota's outstanding debt has been cut $31,017,366 in the past 4½ years.

Minnesota's debt was $127,787,660 back in January, 1939, when Governor Harold E. Stassen took office. Big deficits existed in the general revenue and highway funds; and outstanding debt was near the all-time peak attained in 1937 and 1938.

Governor Edward J. Thye, looking over Treasurer Schmahl's report this week, was able to take satisfaction in the knowledge that Minnesota's debt for the first time in a dozen years had been pushed down below the $100,000,000 mark. Total outstanding debt on June 30th was $96,770,294. The state has reduced its debt $7,294,259 in the past twelve months.

State Treasurer Schmahl's report contained other good news. It showed that the state's trust funds, most of which is set aside for schools of the state, have increased to $122,961,928. This is a gain of fully $31,086,532 since January 1st, 1939, or an increase of about 25%. In other words, the state has not only paid off some $31,000,000 in debt during the past 4½ years, but has stored away in its vaults a sum fully as large for its trust funds.

The state treasurer's report showed that there is a cash balance in the general revenue fund of $7,872,832.

The big reduction in amount of the state's outstanding debt has been due in large measure, state fiscal officers say, to a reduction in the amount of borrowing to finance current operations and to a reduction in many items of expenditures and more careful management made possible under the 1939 reorganization act setting up a new system of financial control for the state. Of the state bonds outstanding, more than half are rural credit bonds and another fourth are highway bonds.

FOURTH OF JULY HOLIDAY QUIETLY OBSERVED IN CITY

Swimming Pool and Fireworks Display Attracted Large Crowds

While numerous local residents journeyed out of town for the Fourth of July week-end, a larger percentage than usual, impelled in part by wartime restrictions, spent the double holiday quietly at their homes.

From the standpoint of weather Sunday the Fourth was an ideal day with clear skies and moderately high temperatures prevailing. The swimming pool in Tindolph park was crowded all day with local residents, as well as with people from nearby communities.

Sunday evening at 10 o'clock a spectacular display of fireworks was presented on the river bank across from the Elks park under the sponsorship of the Civic and Commerce association and the city council. Altho the display attracted a record crowd, no traffic mishaps were reported.

Warm Summer Weather Prevails During Week

The only rainfall recorded during the past week was a hard shower early last Friday morning that brought .35 inch. The shower was accompanied by an electrical display, a bolt striking a clothes line post near the home of Mrs. George Baken south of the city.

A survey made this week of local scrap metal buying agencies revealed that during the first six months of the year to July 1 Pennington county residents supplied a total of 898,965 pounds of scrap, it was announced today by F. E. Hageman, chairman of the implement dealers' committee which sponsored the campaign.

While the county did not fully attain its quota of 1,000,000 pounds set by state salvage headquarters for the drive just completed, Mr. Hageman expressed gratification over the substantial contribution made by local residents to the war effort, particularly those living in the rural areas. He also thanked the Victory Aides for their assistance in making a scrap survey of the county.

MEAT COMMITTEE FORMED TO SERVE IN PENNINGTON CO.

Vivian Copp, A. M. Magnuson, Henry Oen, Carl Anderson to Serve

Acting under orders from the War Food Administration the Pennington county war board has organized a committee to supervise the issuance of all slaughter permits, it was announced today by Carl R. Anderson, chairman of the local war board. The committee members are: Vivian Copp, A. M. Magnuson, Henry Oen and Carl Anderson. The personnel of the committee was selected in consultation with Art Hanson, area meat marketing supervisor for the food administration.

One of the first activities of the new committee will be to require evidence of slaughter as set forth in applications for permits that have been granted by the county war board.

In a letter just released the committee has advised all holders of butchers and local slaughter permits the nature of evidence that will be accepted.

A certified statement of slaughter during the base period taken from the records of the permit holder is required. Those individuals who have not maintained records will have more difficulty in providing necessary evidence. The committee will not accept the records of meat sales made over the counter because of purchases that have been made of carcasses from packing houses and other sources and which was not slaughter performed by seekers of permits.

On the other hand, the committee is authorized to consider evidence such as records of purchase of live animals, sales of hides, by-products and similar items that would indicate actual slaughter performed.

Evidence must be submitted prior to July 15 or permits will be cancelled.

RURAL SCHOOLS OF PENNINGTON STILL LACK 10 TEACHERS

Mrs. Matheson Asks Applications from Prospective Teachers

The session of summer school at Knox school in Thief River Falls for renewal of teachers' certificates is almost at an end. Teachers from Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall, and Beltrami counties have attended.

Mrs. A. C. Matheson, county superintendent of schools, said today, "If we might have retained all of them for the schools of our county for next year, it might have been possible to have a teacher for each rural school, but a good many feel they should be nearer their own homes, so we still lack ten teachers in Pennington county."

If there is any one who may still be interested in returning to teaching for the coming year, they are asked to contact Mrs. Matheson at the court house.

MOTORISTS ARE URGED TO APPLY FOR GAS BOOKS

Pennington Holders of "A" Books Advised to Act Without Delay

REQUESTS SHOULD BE FILED IN OFFICE HERE

Application Forms Available at Local Service Stations

Thousands of motorists may be delayed in receiving their new "A" gasoline ration books, Waldie Christensen, chairman of the Pennington county war price and rationing board, predicted today, saying that such delays will result if applications continue to be sent to national, regional and district OPA headquarters instead of where they can be handled in the local board office.

The application form is in two parts. Part A is to be filled out and signed as an application for a new A or D book. Part B is a tire inspection record which the board will initial and return to the applicant along with the new coupon book.

The applications when sent to local boards must be accompanied by two pieces of evidence to identify the application with a car already holding a ration book and show that tires have been inspected.

The present tire inspection record, showing at least one inspection has been made and approval given.

"After the application form is properly made out, and signed, there is only one place to which it should be mailed," Mr. Christensen said, "and that is to the motorists' own war price and rationing board.

"This fact we have mentioned over and over again. Yet thousands of applications are being received by the OPA in Washington, Chicago and in our district headquarters at Fargo. This misdirected mail is throwing an unnecessary burden on these offices who must remail these applications right back to our own local board office, where they should have been sent in the first place."

Mr. Christensen also remarked that the application forms were placed in service stations in this board area for the convenience of automobile owners where they could be picked up without inconvenience. In its own interest he asked the motoring public to be certain to mail "A" gasoline applications only to the local board.

It was announced this week at headquarters of the local board that a steady flow of applications is coming in, and that the board expects to issue new "A" books to 2600 Pennington county motorists.
